MAY EXTEND THEIR LINES TO MARION

L. & N. Getting Into I. C.'s Territory

BRANCHES ARE CONNECTED

Getting Even for Illinois Central Railroad's Nashville Line.

WILL ENTER A PRODUCTIVE FIELD

The Louisville Courier Journal of Sunday, Dec. 2nd, 1906, contained the following:

Altho local Louisville and Nashville representatives decline to have anything definite to say in regard to their proposed lines and lines already in process of building in Western Kentucky, it is evident after several of these small extensions are made that connections will have been achieved which will give the L. & N. a line of about 250 Miles in length from Louisville in a southwesterly direction toward Paducah. At Paducah another connection will be made with the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, which is controlled by the Louisville and Nashville.

While there is no northern outlet from Paducah at present save thru the Illinois Central lines, the strongest competitor of the L. & N. railroad, rumor says that the Big Four soon will commence the building of an extension of its line from Harrisburg, Ill., to Metropolis, on the Ohio river, which is nearly opposite Paducah. This would give Northern competition as an outlet for freight, which the L. & N. wants now, and would want more if the line from Louisville thru the coal and mineral regions were built.

So long as the Illinois Central confined its operations and extensions to Western Kentucky, Tennessee and Mississippi, the Louisville and Nashville railroad was not much concerned, but when it invaded Nashville, the sacred and heretofore undisputed territory of the L. & N., then a spirit of revenge began to show itself-This apparent spirit of revenge has been fired again by the Illinois Central building a line from Jackson, Tenn., to Birmingham, Ala., tapping the great iron fields on which the L. & N. has almost had a monopoly.

The Illinois Central has been reap ing a rich harvest from the coal fields thru which it runs in Western Kentucky, and especially in Crittenden and Livingston counties, where it has had a monopoly on hauling all the output of the lead, zinc, fluorspar and other fine ore beds that are being so extensively operated in Crittenden and Livingston counties, and which appears to be inexhaust-ible. The Louisville and Nashville people are working quietly but steadily on a number of small spurs or short lines which when linked together will make a splendid line of road, tapping the richest coal fields in Western Kentucky. The L. & N.'s St. Lonis and Nashville line, which runs thru the State from Henderson to Guthrie, tapping the Hopkins county coal regions, is one of its best paying lines. Considerable coal is handled on its line from Owensboro to Russeville, where it connects with the Louisville and Memphis line.

The Louisville & Nashville, having operating connections with the Henderson Route would have a line in its proposed western road extending already from Louisville to Fordsville, Ohio county. The present branch from Irvington on the Main line of the Henderson Route to Fordsville through Hardinsburg is not what is known as a paying branch. The Louisville & Nashville is backing the building of the line from Madisonville to Hartford, county seat of Ohio county. The work is progressing finely. By the building of a line ten or twelve miles long from Hartford to Fordsville a line will be given direct from Louisville to Madisonville, touching the St. Louis and Nashville line. The territory from Madisonville to Hartford is one continuous coal bed. Already the Louisville & Nashville owns a short line from Madisonville to Providence in Webster county. It is now backing the building of a line Providence to Morganfield, county seat of Union county, which is rich both in coal and agriculture. It will invade the sacred territory of the Illinois Central. From Providence L. &. N. can build twenty-five miles or more road and enter Marion, the county seat of Crittenden county the miles. Twenty-five or thirty miles and then on to Paducah, the metropolis of Western Kentucky.

In this section such a line, besides opening up a vast territory rich in natural resources, would work a great detriment to the now exclusive business of the Illinois Central. Whether or not the Louisville and Nashville could secure Northern connection out Paducah, the road would tap its own Northern line at Madisonville. What makes the proposed cocktail, salad, olives and crackers. distinct to several other buildings, line feasible is the fact that the L. The second course consisted of birds & N. is preparing to double-track its line from Henderson to Nashville. Owing to the numerous and long sidings on this line the work will not be such a stupendous task.

Another probability is brought to light when the spur from Morganfield to Providence is finished by the Louisville & Nashville. From Morganfield fifteen miles west on the Ohio river is found Shawneetown, Ill., where the L. & N. now has a line which starts from its main St. Louis line at McLeansbora, Ill. The line from Morganfield to Shawnee town would tap the greatest and richest corn-producing belt in the State, as well as rich coal beds. Such a road would be a great feeder, though a bridge would never span the Ohio at Shawneetown, which has often been talked of.

A Miraculous Escape.

Maj. F. M. Clement, the well known citizen of the View vicinity, who is as straight as an arrow, notwithstanding the fact he is a grandfather, (although a youthful one) still delights in boyish pranks and like the proverbial boy, sometimes gets into trouble. A few days ago the Major was "projecting" some to it. way with a dynamite cartridge and hit it with a hammer thinking it was not loaded and would not explode. It did explode with a terriffic force, throwing particles in every direction. About ten pieces finding lodgment in the Major's physiognomy, and one piece struck between the ball of his eye and his nose, which shows what a narrow escape he made from losing one of his eyes. Dr. Cook was summoned and picked out all the pieces of the shell from his face and altho the wounds bled profusely and were quite painful no complications, such as blood poisoning, which was feared, have arisen and the Major is almost well again and no doubt will enjoy Christmas as much as ever.

J. L Rankin & Co, sucessor to Rankin & Pickens have a nice clean everything will be elegant is a forestock of groceries, at as low a price gone conclusion. as you can buy the other kind.

hostess to search her culinary knowl- Haynes.

from what Mrs. So-and-So had.' center of the zine, lead and fluorspar of the sterner sex and to give them The consolation prizes, a dainty basindustries of Kentucky. This again a banquet-of course, to please her ket and a miniature turkey full of would give a direct line from Marion husband, that prince of good fellows, fancy candy were received by Miss to Louisville, a distance about 200 Huston Orme-every item of it pre- Leaffa Wilborn and Mr. H. H. Sayre. further would take the Louisville & there be a greater accomplishment? during the game and a dainty lunch-Nashville through Smithland, the Has it not been said, and truly, that eon consisting of chicken salad, county seat of Livingston county, the road to man's heart is smoothed sliced turkey, pickles, sandwiches, elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. Or ne the Marion string band. was thrown open to some of his tered the banquet hall the scene was one long to be remembered. The guests were seated at two tables and comprised a few of Mr. Orme's neighbors and close friends. After benediction, the first course of oyster on toast with French peas and scalloped oysters on the side. Third ourse was of New England pumpkin stemmery by the Imperial. tarts, pickled peaches and stuffed dates. Fifth course consisted of cake and confections made at home. Sixth course, crushed ice smothered n champagne. Nothing was ed. acking, everything was perfect and probably that the ladies are excusable entirely for going to these entertainments every time they get an opportunity.

NOTES OF THE BANQUET

Baird and his "bonny bride" were oasted to a finish.

McElroy and Clifton picked at Baird all the time. Sour grapes.

There were several toasts and many ealls for the hostess who prepared the banquet, but she did not appear.

Capt. Haase was 'at home' when the champagne was served. He was the only one who seemed to be used

When the platters of birds were prought in some one remarked that Huston must have struck a covey out hunting the day before.

---0---

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gugenheim have issued invitations to a euchre party to be given Thanksgiving evening in the parlors and reception rooms of the New Marion Hotel in honor of Miss Lena Donakey, who on the following Thursday will become the bride of Mr. Wm. D. Baird. The hours are from 8:30 to 11:30 and Marion society is assured of a delightful evening, as Mrs. Gugenheim is a most gracious hostess and will be assisted by Miss Blanche Haase, a society belle, of Wheeling, W. Va.

We regret above item was omitted

Refreshments will be served and that in our last issue, for which it was intended. 7

Among those who accepted Mr. insurance $300. and Mrs. Gugenheim's hospitality were Mesdames Geo. Roberts, Jno. These little rivalries excite each fair Sanders, Murray Sanders, Chastain to get back.

edge for something to entertain and Ladies first prize was won by Miss please her guests when it rolls around Blanche Haase, and was a silver to her time to invite the "club." jewel case. Gentleman's first prize with pneumonia is reported much Lightning Bug." Rich and rare "Something different don't you know won by Mr. Geo. Roberts, was a box of cigars. The lone hand prize was Orme to think of the forlorn, Mr. Geo. Roberts, the former win- ina. neglected members of Marion society ning it. It was a lovely scarf pin. pared by her own hand. Could Candy and salted nuts were served considerably by pleasing his appe- wafers and coffee, was served at the tite. When last Friday evening the card tables. Music was furnished by friends and those who attended en- Masked Men Destroy Two Tobacco Factories.

Princeton, Ky., Dec. 1 .-- For over an hour last night Princeton was in the hands of 300 masked men, who destroyed the tobacco stemmeries of J. A. Steger and John Orr, in adcausing a loss of between $75,000 and $100,000. The stemmeries which were destroyed were closely identified oyster dressing, creamed potatoes, tory being practically controlled by is sent here for Bob Robinson's Authur Moore. hot biscuits and coffee. Thy fourth the Gallaher Limited and the Orr grave. This year was no exception. The music was by the Marion brick ice cream in tinted layers with building and fixtures, $15,000; insurance $9000.

150,000 pounds of tobacco, insur-

250,000 pounds tobacco. F. G. Wood, residence, $1,100;

Clay Coon, residence, $1,000. J. G. Wood, residence, $1,000; That Marion excels in all she un- Wilson, R. F. Haynes, A. Cavander, insurance $700. dertakes, no matter in what depart- H. H. Sayre, H. A. Cameron, Watt The night riders took possession of ment of life, is given up as an un- Lamb, Alf. Cardin, Judson Bennett, the water works, the telephone serdisputable fact by the knowing ones. E. H. James, Milton Schwab; Misses vice, the telegraph offices and even The enterprises which lead in their Leaffa Wilborn, Kitty Gray, Fanny the court house in order to preyent particular line have been exploited Gray, Dell Barnes, Blanche Haase, anybody from tolling the bell, and given Nov. 29th and a most excellent from time immemorial in the Press, Mattie Henry, Lily Cook, Lizzie disarmed all policemen and kept the Thanksgiving program was rendered For years the ladies have been giv- James, Ruby James; Messrs. H. H. firemen within their headquarters. ing teas, afternoon receptions, morn- Savre, R. F. Haynes, R. D Drescher Over two thousand shots were fired, sented and added muc ing luncheons, noonday banquets and Will Clifton, Ira Pierce, Will Mc- and the daring citizen who stuck his joyment of the evening. in fact everything which their cun- Elroy, Geo. Roberts. John Wilson, head out of the window quickly withning could devise to excel what the Dr. Stilwell, Rob Cook, Capt. Haase, drew it to the accompaniment of a ciety that were in the Morganfieldast fair entertainer had invented. Judson Bennett, Milton Schwab, Mr. whiz of bullets and a positive order Marion debate delivered their ad-

Little Miss Fannie Blue is recover-But it was left for Mrs. J. H. cut for by Mrs. R. F. aynes and ing slowly from an attack of scarlet-insurance office and fixtures, $1,000:

Our Sick.

Miss Sallie McConnell who has suffered several months with an abcess in her head is not improving as her family would like for her to.

Mrs. Hutchen, wife of Walter Hutchen, who has just recovered and realized that altho the High from a spell of typhoid fever, is now School is small they are doing good sick herself with malarial fever. Her work and both pupils and teachers mother, Mrs. W. A. Hale, of Union- are very much interested. town, is here attending her.

Bob Robinson Remembared By The Elks.

ed on the grave by some of the tipued until the "wee sma bours." members of the order here.

J. G. Orr, tobacco stemmery, build- Colorado to spend Christmas with Mrs. and the largest stock of builders' everyone realized for the first time ing and fixtures, $20,000; partly in- Nunn. He expects to return home hardware, such as locks and hinges before New Years day.

MARION HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL REUNION

Held at the School Auditorium on T giving Evening-Good Program

Marion High School Reunion was The expression class was well repre

The members of the debating sodresses which were especially good and did credit to each one.

The most amusing feature of the Miss Nannie Dean who is suffering evening was the school paper, "The were the jokes of Mr. Elzie Wring, its editor-in-chief.

> Music was scattered throughout the program, both instrumental and vocal, which was especially enjoyed.

> At the close of the program delightful refreshments, consisting of punch, cake and various kinds of fruits, were served.

> All spent a most enjoyable evening

Dance At New Marion.

The young men of the city gave The Benevolent Protective order an informal dance to the young ladies of Elks is as it is often said com- Friday night at the New Marion posed of the best people on earth, In Hotel, among those graced the occatimes of sickness, in the death of our sion with their presence were: Jno. loved ones when one needs friends Wilson and wife, W. O. Tucker and and often finacial holp, then the ben- wife, Ernest Carnahan and wife, efits of the order are felt, and in Sam Gugenheim and wife, Mrs. A. kindly remembering its members who H. Cardin: Misses Leaffa Wilborn, have been call hence is another way Edna Cole, Pearl Doss, Ruby James, in which they let their light shine. Kittie Gray, Verna Pickens, Ida An illustration of this is shown here Hill, Hilda Schwab: Messrs. Rob every year. About thanksgiving Cook, Ira Pierce, Will Clifton, Bruce course was of turkey with gravy and with the Tobacco Trust, the Steger factime when a beautiful floral offering Babb. Will McElroy, Will Clark, they never forget. Saturday night string band and was excellent. The The property loss is as follows: the fluwers came, and on Sunday occasion was a most delightful one The Steger tobacco factory stemmery they were tenderly and lovingly plac- to all present, and the dancing con-

> Dont forget that J. N. Boston C. S. Nunn will leave soon for keeps rubber roofing, building paper > > aw.i

POO

tel

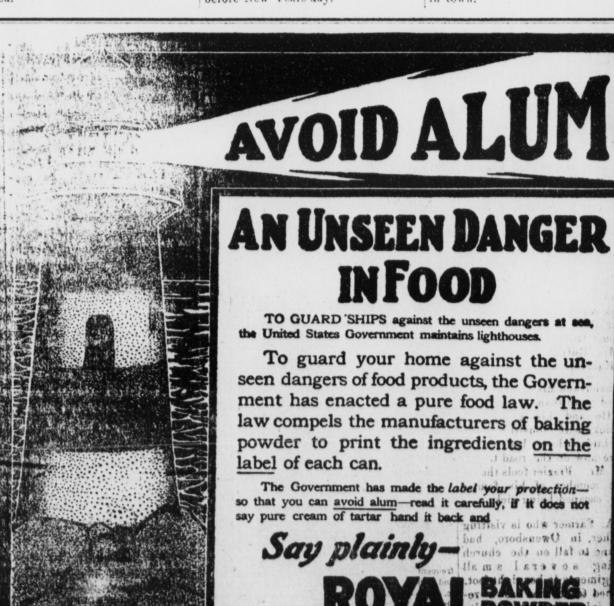

frim of

d again

bones

to sies painful.

fulness of food.

ROYAL is a pure, cream of tartar baking powder-a pure product of grapes - aids the digestion - adds to the health-

DON'T LIKE WIND!

F YOU want to get Goods from a place where satisfaction is guaranteed, COME HERE! Money back if the Goods don't suit you.

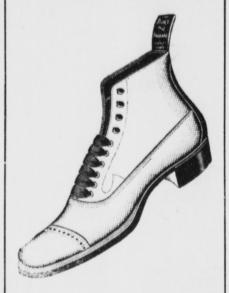

NO SKIN GAME NOR FAKE SCHEME!

None but the Best For the least Money

Suits $2.75 to $15.00, any and all Sizes and Kinds

Yours truly, (and its no LIE)

Sam Howerton, KELSEY, KENTUCKY

BEST SHOES ON EARTH

IGH ART CLOTHING Never Gets

SHAPE This is the store that clothes a whole family when You have a limited amount of money to spend.

None of them will have to go without anything if you work and spend your money here.

LAST WEEKS ITEMS

The Following Items Were Unavoidably Crowded Out Last Week.

Mrs. M. C. Gettings left for Kuttawa Tuesday.

Arch Oliver, of Frances vicinity, was here Tuesday.

Mrs. Emily S. Vaughn returned from a three weeks visit in Kansas, Tuesday.

R. E. Moore and wife, of Sheridan, were the guest of his father R. D. Moore Monday.

W. L. Venner and D.A. Moore attended the funeral of Parret Hinman at Evansville Tuesday.

Greaser Biford is now a dude shoe-shiner of the first class. He even parts his hair in the middle.

G. M Yancey, Henry Bennett, W. L. Bennett, all of Dycusburg, were here attending circuit court Tuesday.

Mrs. Jas. M. Freeman and daughat of Parret Hinmin at Evansville, Ind., Tuesday.

Abert McNeely, wife and baby Bradford will give his master-piece Paducah Register, Nov. 18th. who visited in the city this week, "If I were the Devil" at the school left on the after noon traingfor their auditorium Tuesday Dec. 11th, 1906, home in Princeton.

Mrs. Thos. Griffith who has been Dr. F. S. Stilwell left this week erspoon, in Kansas, returned home an Eigin, of Louisville, who has been the guest of his parents Tuesday night for his home.

Mrs. Mary Black and son Richard Sharp, were in the city Tuesday, Mrs. Black was enroute to visit her niece Mrs. Thos. M. Butler, at Fre-

Miss Ida Hill who has been staying at Chas. Loyd's millinery emporium at Fredonia has returned home to remain for the thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Summerville were in the city Wednesday. They recently entertained a party of bird bunters from Lexington at ther hospitable home at Mattoon, Ky.

Mrs. E. A Deer, of Kirtlin, Ind. arrived Tuesday at noon to visit her Dycusburg. Consideration, $18.25. brother J. E. Fazier, on Walker street. This is her first visit to Marion and the first time her brother has seen her in five years.

J. R. and John Vaughn, of the of land, $200. Crock Creek section, were here Tuesday to meet their mother who was en r ute home from a visit to her two tracts of land, $300. daughter Mrs. Rufus Witherspoon at John Woodall to Harry F Haynes, En oria, Kansas,

J. R. Frazier and his family have been afflected more than their share lot in Weldon addition, $75. recently. He and his good wife have been sick with tonsilitis, and two of his children have had scarlet fever, all are now on the road to recovery, and Mr. Frazier feels thank- one-half interest in 87 acres, $550. ful that one member of his family Lord Byron, escaped being sick.

Mrs. J. A. Earmer who is visiting ber on Luther, in Owensboro, had the misfortune to fall on the church step breaking several small frequently results from neglect of clogged bowels bones and ligiments in her right foot. and torpid liver, until constipation becomes chron She is confined to her bed as a result of the injury which is quite pair ul.

Ask Your $Own oldsymbol{D}$ octor

If he tells you to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for your severe cough or bronchial trouble, then take it. If he has anything better, then take that. But we know what he will say; for doctors have used this cough medicine over 60 years. "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for hard colds, bad coughs, and influenza. It has done me great good, and I believe it is the best cough medicine in the world for all throat and lung troubles ". Eli C. STUART, Albany, Oregon.

Made by J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass Also manufacturers of

Keep the bowels open with one of Aver's Pills at bedtime. lust one.

and family this week.

make his home here in the future.

Edward Southers the sage of at 8 o'clock p. m.

for Louisville and a trip east. He will be gone a week. The office will

Mrs. J. Seth Henry left this week Rev. and Mes. Virgil Elgin, left with her three little sons, for Ardmore Indian Territory, to visit her sister Mrs. Lawrence Cruce.

Children's

favorite tonic is White's Cream Vermifuge, the cure for worms and all children's diseases It not only kill the worms, but removes the mucus and lime in which they build their nests Its action on the child is mild and leaves him in a healthy idition Joe Daniel, Surmac, Tenn, says that he ve one of his children White's Cream Vermifuge when the doctor thought it had colic, and from the first dose the child passed 73 worms Sold by Woods & Orme

Real Estate Transfers

W H Moore, three adjoining acres of land in East Marion, $2,100.

D E Allen to Eld. Dalton, lot in

Mrs Ellender E Crayne to J F Darroh, lot in Crayneville. Consider-

M R Deboe to D E Brisbe, parcel

J W Funkhauser to C E Thomas,

103 acres, $700. C E Weldon to Rufus Robinson,

J W Givens to James M Freeman,

lot in Crawfords addition, $575. Ellen Ashbridge to Albert Glass, J S Ainsworth to C E Donakey, one-half interest in transfer business,

An Alarming Situation

ic. This condition is unknown to those who use Dr King's New Life Pills; the best and gentlest by Woods & Orme, Druggists. Price 25c

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES.

Messrs John L. Grayot and W. F. Grayot came up Monday. Mrs. John L. Grayot accompanied Mr. Grayot here and will remain till the last of the week. Mr. W. F. Grayot will be here several days before returning to Frankfort. They are, the guests at the Clark House. - Livingston Banner.

Mr. J. W. Harris, of Tolu, Ky .. accompanied by D. A. Mantz and another gentleman, went to Grafton, Ill:, Sunday to receive a new boat, built for Mr. Harris, who proposes to run it as a daily packet between Tolu and Paducah. The craft is 50 feet in length by 9 foot beam, and is guaranteed to make ten miles an hour .-- Herald Enterprise.

Mr. William Grayot and brother John, were here yesterday en route Miss Nannie Moore is the guest at to Livingston county on a hunt, their country home of W. T. Terry The former is Assistant Secretary of the State at Frankfort, and the latter, Marion Clark has returned from Commonwealth Attorney for the ter Miss Murriel, attended the funer- Ardmore, Indian Territory., and will Princeton judicial district. They they are scrawny those spent several hours here with their sister, Mrs. John K. Hendrick .-

> Smitfield, N. C., and Miss Della wholesome to them. Kevil, of Marion, Ky., were quietly married in Richmond, Va., on Monbe open and some one in attendance day afternoon, November 26th, 1906, Rev. R. M. Maxey, of the M. E. church, officiating.

The bride was handsomely gowned in a brown tailor-made suit with !"hat and gloves to match. The groom wore the conventional black.

A automobile party for seeing the beauties of the "capital city" of the Confederacy was tendered the wedding party after the ceremony.

After an extended western trip Mr. and Mrs. Stevens will be at home to their friends at Smithfield, N. C., where Mr. Stevens is a successful business man.

The bride is an accomplished young woman and has won the love and confidence of all who knew her .-- Richmond, (Va.) Exchange.

Mrs. Ed Moore had the misfortune to get her hand and arm badly burned last Friday morning by hot grease. For several hours the pain was very intense. She is still suffering more or less from the effects of the burn. -Glenns Graphic.

Judge Nunn, of Frankfort, is in Madisonville and will remain here until after Thanksgiving. The Judge all travelers; from some it is hidden, has so many friends in this town and but those who stop there to pray becounty that he feels it incumbent on hold within it a cross, and they him to make them occassional visits. -Gleans Graphic.

What's

worth doing is worth doing well. If you wish to be cured of Rheumatism use Ballard's Snow Liniment and you will be "well cured" A postive cure for Sprains, Neuralgia Bruises, Contracted Muscles and all the ills that flesh is heir to. AD they take pains to be blessed in their used Snow Liniment for sprained ankle and it Women's Home Companion for Decregulators of Stomach and Bowels. Guaranteed gave the best of satisfaction I always keep it in

For Thin Babies

to a baby; that is why | I will sell you pabies are fat. If your paby is scrawny, Scott's Emulsion is what he wants. The healthy baby not need immediately for oone and muscle. Fat pabies are happy; they do not cry; they are rich; heir fat is laid up for ime of need. They are happy because they are comfortable. The fat surrounds their little nerves and cushions them. When nerves are hurt at every ungentle touch. They delight in Scott's Emul-Mr. Blackman Lee Stevens, of sion. It is as sweet as

Send for free sample.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Scott & Bowne Chemists 409.415 Pearl Street

50c. and $1.00 All Druggists

The Christmas Joy of the Lonely Heart.

While the earth abides there will always be lonely hearts whose loneliness is increased by the general good-fellowship of the season. Sorrow has a way of lifting the latch and coming, an unbidden guest, at some time or other, into every life. One day all is brightness, the next the world is dark. Among those who are keeping Christmas this year there are some who have to rise above the personal grief in their determination not to cloud the sunshine of others. How may they best succeed? By the old-fashioned way that leads heroic feet over rough roads and shows that every turn B shrine where one may stop and worship. The shrine is not visible to wreathe the cross with flowers. They are lonely themselves, to drop the metaphor, but they do not inflict their sadness on their friends. They invite children to visit them, they carry comfort and cheer to the aged and the inform. Although their own lives seem shorn of blessing

Closing Out at Cost!

Having decided to close out my stock of Gen-Fat is of great account eral Merchandise at this place at COST and less

GOODS FOR CASH

Cheaper than they were ever sold in Crayneville.

Anyone looking for a Good Stand for business can get tores as fat what it does a bargain from me by buying the whole stock.

> All who owe me on account or by note, will please call and settle same at once as I need the money to pay my bills. Yours,

J. F. CANADA, Crayneville, Ky.

It Didn't Hurt a Bit

DR. F. S. STILWELL

:: :: DENTIST :: ::

Plate Work a Specialty

OFFICE OVER MARION BANK.

MARION, KY.

R. I. Nunn, Sec-Treas Albert McConnell, Gen. Mgr

H. ORME' President OHN WES LAMB, Vice-President

Marion Milling Co. Takes the lead when it comes to first-class Flour and dont you for-

YOU MUST TRY OUR

'ELK" Best Patent 'Crown' Straight Grade

get it. See!

WHY IMPORT OUR PRODUCT?

Where is there another mill in Western Kentucky that only makes 40 per cent, of their wheat into Patent Flour :: :: :: :: ::

SIGHT US!

We cannot be downed in price or quality, and then we know how to treat you; we show our customers every courtesy. Yours for more trade,

The Marion Milling Company.

LOCKYEAR'S BUSINESS COLLEGE EVANSVILLE, INDIANA "A SCHOOL WITH A REPUTATION" LARGEATTENDANCE NINE TEACHERS FIFTY TYPEWRITERS LESSONS BY MAIL

That's It!!!

Cough yourself into a fit of spasms and then wor der why you don't get well. If you will only try a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup your cough will be a thing of the past. It is a positive cure M Williams, Navasota. Texas, writes: "I have ministry. - Margaret E. Sangster in for Coughs, Influenza. Bronchitis and all Pulmonary diseases. One bottle will convince you-at your druggist, 25c, 5oc. $1.00 Sold by Woods &

Will Surely Stop That Cough

PROGRAM.

MUSICALE

To be Given at the Marion High School Auditorium ter Sunday, and Sunday night. Monday Evening, December 10.

Miss Ida Cole

Miss Ada Zellar

Miss Nina Dale Park Cellis	t
Sonate, cello and piano allegro agitato	Edward Grieg
Vacal-Angel's Serenade, with cello obligato	Braga
Piano { a. Prelude	Chopin
Cello a. Calm as the Night b. Elegie c. Sherzo
Vocal. Flower Songs a. Violets b. Morning Glory Song c. The Pine d. Forget-me-Not e. The Seed's Song
Piano a. Romanza, F sharp b. Polish song
Cello, Cantabile
) a Sulvia	Sahnhant

On Monday evening, December the tenth, Marion will be most fortunate in having brought to her talent that is recognized by critics to be most ceived, also our Press for another artistic. The program will appeal to all, old and young, even those who year. We Kentucky folks are alre not music lovers and claim they do not understand music for,

"There is in souls a sympathy with sounds, And as the mind is pitched, the ear is pleased

b. Springtide (with cello obligato)

With melting air or martial, brisk or grave

Some chord in unison with what we hear. . Is touched within us, and the heart replies.

There is nothing on the program heavy and fit only for the musical artist, but is a carefully selected lot of gems and bids all who are care-worn to come, for such "music washes away from the soul the dust of every-day

"The man that bath no music in him self

Nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds, Is fit for tseasons, stratagems, and spoils;

The motions of his spirit are dull as night,

And his affections dark as Erabus:

Let no such man be trusted.

This is the way Shakespeore in his "Merchant of Venice" stamps man without appreciation for music.

The talent is brought from Cincinnati and each one is an artist, bearing wide reputation. The concert is given under the auspices of Dr. F. S Stillwell and Miss Lillie Cook for the benefit of sixth grade of the Marion Graded School

Halton Powell's Lifeorama will be shown at the Opera House three Inimitable "Florida Cracker," the nights, commencing Dec. 6th. The "Scrubpalm Philospher" and "Sage earthquake is depicted all in life mo- of Bradford," will appear at the tion. The falling of the sky-scrap. School Auditorium Tuesday evening, ers will be made realistic by noise Dec. 11th, 1906, in his masterpiece, effects. A ton of rock and iron will "If I were the Devil;" Query: What be used for this purpose. The city would You do if You were the Devil? in flames, the crumbling walls, the Dr. Southers has been before the excited populace fleeing from the public continuously for over thirty city, a trip through Golden Gate years, appearing in every civilized park and all those terrible scenes country and some countries that were caused by earthquake will be shown not civilized. His lectures have been on canvas in moving pictures as they internationally celebrated for their took place. This part of the show realism, striking truths and grim lasts twenty-live minutes,

PROGRAMME.

How Nick Carter captured the counterfeiters.

The Cowboy's Revenge. The Escaped Lunatic. The Chicken Thief.

Opera, Faust in Colors.

Mr. Blue Beard.

The Lost Child. Mrs. Blue Beard, etc.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills quickly drive the poison from the system and thu4 afford relief. A week's treatment for 25c Sold by Woods

A Kentucky Girl at Hymen's Alter.

Married -- at the Christian parsonage, North Yakima, Nov. 5, 1906, Mr. Edward Taylor, of Toppenish and Miss Myrtle E. Jacobs of Zillah; Rev. Morton officiating.

Thus joined together for weal or woe two of the most popular young as they never before heard. Don't people of this section of the Yakima forget the place and date; the School valley. The groom is well and favor ably known in Toppenish and vicini. 11th, 1906. ty for his sterling worth -sobriety, industry and is of good character. The young lady is of superior grace and culture.

The Review adds to the wish of many friends: 'Long life and hap- pills or ordinary cathartics. Does not nauseate piness to Mr. and Mrs. Taylor-Toppenish Review.

Edwin "Cyclone" Southers, the humor. They have been extensively copied by others who fain would "follow in his wake" He is favored with a personal magnetism and delightful charm possessed by few other lecturers on the platform. Edwin "Cyclone" Southers stands alone, pre-eminently, in his marvelous breadth of survey, matchless and day evening. incomparable oratory, grim, cynical and Mephistophelean humor, and soul-stirring powers of description. Dr. Southers asks the question: in speaking of Devils: "What would you do if you were the Devil, and (in your opinion) what is the 'Boss'

Dr. Southers devotes only a few weeks out of each year to the lecture platform and owing to this fact Marion is indeed fortunate to secure him even for one lecture and those who are fortunate enough to hear his masterpiece will receive a treat such Auditorium, Tuesday evening, Dec.

Makes the Liver Lively.

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup gives permanent elief in cases of habitual constipation as it stimulates the liver and restores the natural action of the bowels without irritating these organs like or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Renember the name Orino and refuse substitutes Woods & Orme

CHAPEL HILL.

Silas McMurry and wife, of Repton, were guests of Charles Clement's family Saturday and Sunday.

John Asbridge and wife, of Jackson school house vicinity, were the guests of W. H. Bigham and daugh-

About half of the tobaco in this vicinity, has been stripped, and some delivered and all are very well pleased with their average to the acre.

Corn in this community is turning out well, some are through gathering.

Some of our boys have killed hogs in this precinct, and they have already begun to look greasy about the already some tobaccobeds have been burnt. Look out boys who are you going to sell to next time.

Wheat is looking well in this part of the vinyard, but a very small crop has been sown.

About half of the tobacco crop has been bought up in this country at a good price.

Will Ward and family will move to Evansville next year.

E B DeWitt & Co, of Chicago, at whose labor artory Kodol is prepared, assure us that this remarkable digestant and corrective for the stomas conforms fully to all provisions of the Nationa Becker Pure Food and Drug Law Sold by Woods

> Toppenish, Wash., Nov. 11 1906 Editor Press, Dear Sirs: -- Yours reways glad to hear from our friends east. The Press is welcomed and each Tuesday brings it to our homes.

MRS. THOS. C. HILL.

Open the bowels-DeWitts Little Early Risers re recommended and Sold by Woods & Orme

LEVIAS

A hog killing time.

We are glad to report our sick as improving, viz, Dr. Davidson, Masie Threlkeld and Curtis Allison.

Mrs. Sarah Hayden, of Salem, is visiting relatives here this week.

Dr. Pope, of Louisville, was here last week looking after his mining

Mrs. Pennie Hollowell and Ross Fox, of Shady Grove, visited their brother, Dr. Fox Saturday and Sun day, returning home Monday.

The entertainment by the school Wednesday night was quite a credit to the teacher and school, but the order was a shame and disgrace to the community. Even professing school, Sunday evening. ladis were disorderly. Better not see the stage as to be seen out of place. We are glad to say however they were not "girls" and the house was too much crowded for accomoda-

A. LaRue and family spent Thanks giving with relatives in Salem.

Mrs. Alda Wolford and children. of Salem visited relatives here Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Addie Boyd, of Salem, greeted friends here Thanksgiving en route to the Teachers Association at Princeton.

Abb Henry and wife, of Marion, attended the entertainment Wednes-

...NEW... BLACKSMITH FIRM

We have purchased the Jas. Gilbert Blacksmith shop and have opened for business under the firm name of

James & Lanham

We will add new and up-todate tools and machinery and in addition to doing a general line of blacksmithing, will be prepared to repair Boilers, Engines Pumps and other work not heretofore done in Marion. We have

An Expert Horse Shoer A. M. Hillyard. Shoeing 80c. We guarantee all work and solicit your business. W. B. JAMES W. R. LANHAM MARION, KENTUCKY

••••••••••••• ATTENTION

If any of my work has proven unsatisfactory during the past three years please call at my > office at once Very respectfully,

Dentist

·····Office·····

Rooms 3 and 4 Jenkins Bldg.

MARION, KY.

BELLVILLE BEND.

gathering corn, have been damaged by the back water.

Miss Effic Brown has come to spend the winter with her sister Mrs. Rebecca Travis.

Several from here attended church at Shady Grove Sunday.

There will be speaking at Hood school house Tuesday night, Dec. 4.

Johnnie the twelve year old son of John Semore, died suddenly at his home Saturday morning while at breakfast, of paralysis. He was a bright inteligent boy and loved by all who kne v him, he will be sadly missed in school and Sunday school where he was a bright active scholar. And we sypathize with the bereaved family in this their great sorrow, and may they realize that their loss is his eternal gain.

J. A. Wood who is here on a visit from Oklahoma, visited relatives here last week.

CRAYNEVILLE.

According to rumor there will be wedding soon.

Hog killing is the order of the day. Bro. Oakley add Bro. McAfee will give a lecture on temerace Tuesday

The train killed a fine cow for W. H. O.dway Thursday night.

Mark Pierce and Auburn Maxwell, of Salem, were the guests of J. C.

to Marion Saturday.

W. B. Brown will tend some of J. A. Ordway's land next year. Tobacco is being stripped and de

Prayes meeting every Thusday

Mr. Haynes has moved to uncle John Woodall's farm.

Mrs. Nora Moore is visiting J. O. Tabor's family.

An Alarming Situation

frequently results from neglect of clogged bowels and torpid liver, until constipation becomes chror This condition is unknown to those who use Dr King's New Life Pills; the best and gentles egulators of Stomach and Bowels. Guaranteed proper level by the government. by Woods & Orme, Druggists. Price 250

••••••••••

TO POLICY HOLDERS OF THE German Insurance Co OF FREEPORT

Upon presentation at this office we will endorse all policies of the German of Freeport and give a guarantee that the contract will be fulfilled as expressed in the policy.

This guarantee will be made good by the Royal Insurance Co OF LIVERPOOL

Examine all your policies and if any are found to be written in the German of Freeport forward here at once.

M. Crider & Co.

ARTIFICIAL WARMTH.

an Inherited Habit and With the big, restless, energetic vorid outside of this tropical beit, how ever, the matter of keeping warm i ever present, troublesome and casen sive, throughout half of each passing

As a matter of fact, the world of hu manity dwelling in stoveland never has been in all the ages really and comfortably warm in winter. It is largely our own fault. Mankind is the only at imal which employs fire in the effort to sirvive the cold of the winters. The hardy lower animals do not need it. however much their luxuriously enervated representatives, the dog and the cat, may enjoy it when they have a

Ancient man only got himself rid of his provident coat of hair and his sufficent latent heat when he began to loaf around the family cooking stove and absorb the intoxicating comfort of artificial warmth. This faraway ancestor is responsible for the fact that the present day human being, outside of the belt aforesaid, is obliged to keep close to a thermometer registering Farmers who were not through nearly or quite 70 degrees F. from October to May, besides which he must needs wear extra clothing. This also is an inherited habit.

A traveler west once asked a half naked Indian in midwinter how he managed to stand the weather. The Indian replied: "Your face no got a coat. It no cold. Indian face all over." .-National Magazine

VIRTUE IN COPPER.

The Metal Is a Death Dealer to All Disease Germs.

"Copper is a marvelous preventive of disease. If we returned to the old copper drinking vessels of our fore athers, typhoid epidemic would disap-

The speaker, a filtration expert, took a copper cent from his pocket. "Examine this cent under the micro scope," he said, "and you will find it altogether free from disease germs. Examine gold and silver coins, and you will find them one wriggling and contorting germ mass. Yet copper coins pass through dirtier hands than gold and silver ones. You'd think they ought to be alive with micro-organisms. But no. Copper kills germs. Diphtheria and cholera cultures smeared on a copper cent die in less than two hours.

"They have many cholera epidemics in China, but certain towns are always immune. These towns keep their drinking water in great copper vessels. Travelers have tried to buy these vessels, for they are beautiful, but the villagers will not sell them. They have a superstition that their bealth and welfare depend on their retention. I wish all superstitions were as true and salutary as that." - Philadelphia Bul-

The Joke Was on the Students. When Dr. Nathan Lord was president of Dartmouth college be used to drive about in a dilapidated, old fashioned contrivance. The students became tired of seeing the concern and. Carleton's family Saturday and Sun- though Dr. Lord knew of this, he clung to the old catash. One night a group of the young men bauled the thing out of Henry Dunn's family have moved the shed where it was kept, took it several miles down the road toward Lebanon and hid it in a spot where it was There was a good crowd at Sunday concealed by dense foliage. They were just about to depart, well satisfied with the tiresome job, when the curtain which completely enveloped the front of the calash was suddenly pushed aside and the well known face of President Lord appeared. "Now, gentlemen," he said, "you may draw me back

Homes Under the Ground.

In the salt district in Cheshire, England, the brine has been pumped so continuously out of the earth that the land has settled very considerably. The houses naturally sink with the earth, and in some of the streets in Northwich only the roofs are visible. The houses are inhabited, although the rooms are underground. In a great many cases additional stories have been added, so that by living in the upper rooms the residents may have some light and air. The road ways sink, too, but are kept up to the

He Latd.

"Don't waste your time in elipping off the branches," said the woodman to his son, "but lay your ax at the root of the tree." And the young man went out and laid his ax at the foot of the tree, like a good and dutiful boy, and then he went fishing. Truly there is nothing so beautiful as filial obedience. -Strand Magazine.

One View of It.

"But if she makes all her own dresses I should think she'd be a good wife for you. It shows she's industrious and sensible."

"Not for me, thank you. It simply shows how poor her father must be." Philadelphia Ledger.

Hit It.

"You can't guess what sister said about you just before you came in, Mr. Highcollar," said little Johnnie "I haven't an idea in the world, John

"That's it. You guessed it the very

The Difference.

Tell a women her face is her fortune and she is complimented. Hint to a man that his cheek is his most valuable asset and he is likely to get mad. -- Chicago Record-Herald.

He who reads only what pleases nev

An Animal Story For Little Folks

te Discontented Deer

his lot. His home was on a high plateau which was stall a vered with woods and brokers by beautiful sfreams which fell in bubbling cascades at the edge of the plateau to the valley be-

"That is a beautiful valley," declared the deer one day as he stood and looked at the pretty landscape spread out before him, but many hundred feet below. "How I should like to live there, and yet it is impossible for me to climb down the steep sides of this immense precipice. Just now I saw a little sparrow who had been twittering in a bush at my side spread his wings and swiftly fly down, down, down, to the meadow on the bank of the valley stream. Why should not I fly?"

LANDSCAPE.

And the foolish deer thought so long on this subject that he actually be came possessed of the idea that be could fly.

"Here I go," he cried at last; "here I go to the velvet meadows and the cool shade of yonder valley!"

Then he plunged forward into the Well, there isn't anything more to tell about the deer, but it may be said that on that selfsame day the jackals of that beautiful valley had a feast of boneless venison such as they had never enjoyed before.-Atlanta Constitu-

> An Animal Story For Little Folks

THE KING OF BEASTS' MISTAKE

"I've just been told," said the lion to his wife, "that I'm the king of

And so you are." replied his wife. "The only pity is that you do not conduct yourself as a king should." "What shall I do?" asked the lordly

"Well, in the first place, you should dress like a king," answered his wife. Theremon the lion went out and proceeded to get what he thought would be the proper clothes for a king.

WENT OUT TO SHOW HIMSELF OFF.

He dressed himself up in the best he could get and then went out to show, himself off among the animals. "Hello, Leo!" cried Mr. Hippo. "What does this mean?' "Why, I'm the king of beasts, and these are my royal garments," answered the lion, looking proudly down at his clothes. Mr. Hippo leaned back and laughed oud and long. "The king of beasts, indeed," exclaimed he. "Well, you may have been before you went crazy, but now, that you have dressed yourself up in those things you are no more than a king s fool. You are neither beast nor man.

My friend, you've made a mistake." So the lion went home and thought it all over and finally beat his wife for giving him such bad advice.-St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

NEW YOR'S CHURCHES.

Value + 21 112. 00.000. water that 812.500,s the hand oc-valuable part of New York, if not most valuable division of prop-1 the world.

Paul's church is valued at $5,500,- e church, at what was once described as the head of Broadway, is valued at $950,000.

The First Presbyterian church, on ivenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, is valued at $750,000. St. Mark's church, on Second avenue, an old landmark in that neighborhood, is valued at $275,000. The Marble Collegiate church, Fifth avenue and Twenty-ninth street, is valued at $1,000,000.

The Church of St. Paul the Apostle (the Paulist church), at Fifty-ninth street and Columbus avenue, is valued at $700.000.

The West Presbyterian church, on West Forty-second street, is valued at $450,000, St. Thomas' at $1,700,000 and factory. the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, 9 and 11 West Fifty-ninth street, at

The valuation of the Temple Emanu-El is $1,530,000, of St. Patrick's cathedral 80,000,000, of the B'nai Jeeshurun synagogue $300,000, of the Temple Beth-El, at the corner of Fifth avenue and Seventy-sixth street, $1,300,000, of the Broadway Tabernacle, Broadway and Fifty-sixth street, $700,000 and of the Christian Scientist church, Central Park West and Sixty-eighth street. $300,000.-New York Sun.

PRACTICAL PICTURES.

Odd Parlor Ornaments and a Very Substantial Dinner.

There is a practical minded millionaire who has invented a substitute for valuable pictures which it is hoped will not commend itself to others. He has had a large number of bank notes Masonic honors, on the following framed, and these are hung upon the day. wall where the pictures should be.

In the drawing room is one frame that contains a bank note for £100,000, and he says: "There is the money in case I find a picture which is sufficient- ried. Many extend congratulations. ly valuable to pay that price for it. Meanwhile the note tells its own tale and saves me from explaining to my visitors that 'this picture cost so much,' as most other rich men do.

"The chief pleasure of these collectors appears to arise not from the beauty of | Thanksgiving enroute to Kuttawa the work, but from the cost of it; then why not have checks or bank notes for a large sum hung on the walls, as I do? Besides, I find that it is much more in- tracting parties are attened by many teresting to my visitors, for most of them look long and carefully at the bank notes who would but glance at the work of art."

This eccentric man gave a dinner on the same principle. In the soup plates mons, aged twenty-five years died affish were served five-pound notes, for game checks and for sweets shares in a gnest who did not enjoy this enterteinment more than any he or she had ever before been present at .-- London poets of his day who had introduced the "barbarous custom of abbreviating words to fit them to the measure of the "verses." Swift instances "drudg'd" an! "disturb'd" as mortal offenses. Dyeusburg Saturday telling her The custom so introduced had begun to nate prose. Another cause-borvift suggested, from the clipess-which he held had conited to the maining of the lanre, "is a foolish opinion advanced of late years that we ought to spell exactly as we speak; which, besides the obrious inconvenience of utterly destroying our etymology, would be a thing we should never see the end of." Risks in Railway Journeys.

Dean Swift on Spelling. Dean Swift roundly

e idea that the man who goes on a and is rather more likely than to meet with an untimely death at ely borne out by the fact that the ces against any one passenger ing his death on the railway are 0,000 to 1. This immunity from ter reflects considerable credit the companies, but still more upon | Monday. e drivers and signalmen, whose and care are the main factors in

I ason, reason as much as you like, beware of thinking that it answers verything, suffices for everything, fies everything. This mother loses child. Will reason comfort her? s cool reason counsel the inspired the beroic warrior, the lover? y, and that is the least interesting. Mrs. E. J. Hayward. rest obey feeling, true or false, passion, good or bad.

Taking Him Down. * 'rittick was pleased to say that my had few equals as a bit of real-" remarked young De Riter. .e said even more than that," said

" es," he added, "and positively no int riors."-Exchange.

ndeed?

Carelessue s Somewhere. ('adys-Mamma can't, see anybody She's upstairs with the new You see, they sent her a girl a she'd ordered a boy, an' she's so opointed she's sick .- Puck.

e men who go through life with on their shoulders always avoid

DYCUSBURG.

Mr. Cambie Clifton, salesman for a leading house in Kuttawa, spent Thanksgiving at home with his parnts, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Clifton.

Mr. Owen Boaz has rented the old Yancey homestead and will remove from Salem to this place. He will open a grocery here.

Mrs. Nellie Hard was in town one

Mrs. Harry Bennett and family spent Thanksgiving in town.

Mrs. Carrie Humphries, of Frances, is the guest of friends here.

The "Gate City" is at the canning factory landing while her barges are eing filled with tomato caus. It s said that Mr. Polk realized a handsome profit off of the renting of the

Miss Pearl Ramage has returned to Kuttawa accompanied by Miss

Mr. Ed Dalton has his handsome grocery building completed and rent ed to E. G. Brown.

J. C. Griffin and P. K. Cooksey were in attendance at Marion circuit

The Graves family, Messrs. J. A. and Herbert Graves and Misses Cora and Lilly were called to Salem to attend the illness of their uncle, the venerable Richard Shelby who ex pired at his home Nov. 22, and was biried at Salem with distinguished

On Thanksgiving Miss Annie Majors and Mr. Lewis Smith were mar-

Miss May Travis and Mr. Ed. Perkins, of Fraces, accompanied by Mr. Mr. McCline and Miss Emma Patpassed through Dycusburg where Miss Travis and Mr. Perkins were united in marriage. The con-

November 22nd, at the home of his mother, Mrs. Ed Ramage, Hes Sim there was no soup, but sovereigns; for ter an illness of several months. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Ora Simmons, thriving company, and there was not a and three small children. Universal sympathy is felt for the bereaved.

> Master Lon Bennett, son of Mr. H. B. Bennett, of Dycusburg, has entered school at Marion. The faculty there will find him one of the brightest pupils in attendance.

Miss Ivy Perry, of Koon was in friends good-bye preparatory to going to Paducah with her mother and sister. Miss Lillian who will remove to that city this week. After New Year Miss Ivy will go to San Francisco, Cal., for the benefit of the climate and spend the winter with her aunt who resides there.

Miss Rosa Smith and Mr. Ed Baker, both of Clay, were married tay journey takes his life in his Thanksgiving at Evansville. The day, bride is a grand-daughter of Mr. Wm. first curve the train negotiates is | Smith, Sr., and has many relatives and friends here.

> Mrs. W. B. Grove, and daughter, of Livingston, visited in Dycusburg,

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Smith and litsafety of the passenger.-London the daughter, of Tylene, visited in Dycusburg Saturday.

> School was dismissed for the observance of Thanksgiving.

Miss Cora Graves is at home after a few days pleasant visit in Marion, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Emma on guides but a small part of Hayward and her cousins, Mr. and

> On account of the indisposition of her mother, Mrs. P. K. Cooksey, Mrs. T. L. Phillips has assumed charge of the domestic affairs of her mother's home.

Rev, Virgil Elgin, of Marion, delivered a lecture pending the coming whisky election at the Baptist church Tuesday evening to a large and appreciative audience.

A "pound supper" given by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Padon at their country home in honor of their daughters, Misses Jessie and Emma, was largely attended and greatly enjoyed by ing the right man. -- New York | the young people. It was a farewell occasion at the farm as Mr. Padon is for the advantages of school and staggers. church. They will occupy the cottage owned by Mrs. Fannie Graves

Mrs. Mattie Wadlington spent Thansgiving at Koon, the guest of Mrs. Moreland.

Miss Maymie Steele, is in Salem, paying on extended visit.

Miss Minnie Cassidy left last week for a visit of some length to her niece, Mrs. Laleene Sikin, of Clifton, Tennessee. She was accompanied as far as Paducah by Mrs. Mayme White who returned via Kuttawa after shopping in the city.

Mrs. C. H. Richards is in Marion for an indefinite stay.

Born .- To the wife of Mr. Newman Decker a sixteen pound boy.

Born-To Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup drives out the old and stops the cough Contains Honey and Tar Free from any opiates Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law Pleasant to take Sold by Woods & Orme

NEW SALEM.

Mrs. Nancy White, and Mrs. Allen Watson, are sick and under the care of a doctor.

Miss Jennie Binkley, of Pinkneyville, spent last week the guest of have moved to the Deboe farm. her sister, Mrs. Harris Austin.

Miss May Austin is visiting her grand parents at Pinkneyville.

Mrs. Tom Burklow spent part of last week the guest of relatives at Pinkneyville.

Everybody and his uncle killed logs last week.

Some of our farmers are through stripping their tobacco, but say the buyers wont let them deliver it. What are the people to do for imber. In a few and a very few years the county will be barren of A protracted meeting has been in progress at Typers Chapeil the past of the M. E. church. Bird hunters are having a rather hard time this season getting lands to hunt on. Under our present law it is rather a risky business.

George Kinsolven, of Emmaus, spent Sunday in this vicinity.

Lou Harpending, of Salem, spent Sunday with his parents.

The mining prospects grow brighter every day in this section.

SHADY GROVE.

Charlie Terry, of Repton, was here Sunday, visiting friends and rela-

George Brown, of Piney, was here Monday on business.

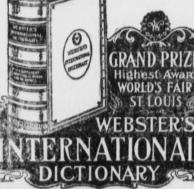

Dr. Nunn, of Marion, was through here Wednesday.

Henry Brown and Harrison Thomason, of Iron Hill were here Wednes-

William Paris and H. Crowell went to Blackford Tuesday.

Leonard Crowell had a fine mare

GET THE BEST

Recently Enlarged

25,000 New Words New Gazetteer of the World with more than 25,000 titles, based on the latest census returns. New Biographical Dictionary containing the names of over 10,000 noted persons, date of birth, death, etc.

Edited by W. T. HARRIS, Ph.D., LL.D., United States Commissioner of Education 2380 Quarto Pages New Plates. 5000 Illustrations. & Rich B Needed in Every Home

Also Webster's Collegiate Dictionary 1116 Pages. 1400 Illustrations. Regular Edition 7x10x2% inches. 3 bindings. De Luxe Edition 63/x83/x11/2 in. Printed from same plates, on bible paper. 2 beautiful bindings. FREE, "Dictionary Wrinkles." Illustrated pamph!

G. & C. MERRIAM CO., ublishers, Springfield, Mas

bringing his family to town to reside to die Wednesday night with blind

J. L. Gardner, of Piney, was here Wednesday on business.

Tom Walker, of Iron Hill, was here Tuesday.

Benjamin Drennan, of Iron Hill was here on business Wednesday.

Alfred M. Dowell left Wednesday for Hopkinsville to visit his sister-

Ray Towery and Jim Joyce went to Blackford Tuesday.

Mack Horning of Providence, was here Wednesday looking after busi, William Wallace, of Iron Hill, passed here Wednesday.

IRON HILL.

John Butler has moved to Tribune neighborhood

Mrs. Ida Morse has had some improvements added to her residence.

John Birchfield, has moved to his farm in this community. G. D. Kemp made a trip to Dawson last Tuesday.

Will Deboe has moved to Blackford and J. C. and Sherman Curry

Mrs. J. M. Walker is visiting her son, Edwin Walker, at Blackford, who has been seriously ill.

Mrs. Florence Hardin is visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity. Her husband has just homesteaded a quarter section of fine land near Texico, New Mexico, and she will start west in a few months.

Mrs. Annie Lemon and Miss Ruth Morse are visiting their aunt, Miss Nannie Dean north of Marion, who is dangeronsly ill with pneumonia.

Eula McConnell killed a catamount one night last week near the Uncle Johnie Clark Spring. He has the animal's pelt and will exhibit it to week, conducted by Rev. Hazlewood, any doubting ones.

> Mrs. Allie Paris, of Charleston, Mo., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Sallie Wood, here.

> Mr. and Mrs. John C. Brown visited their uncle, Alac Woody near Mattoon last week.

Don't Suffer

all night long from toothache neuralgia or rheumatism

Sloans Liniment

kills the pain - quiets the nerves and induces sleep At all dealers. Price 25c 50c & $1.00

Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass. U.S.A.

Will Coal "Go up" or "Come down," and how much?

Answer: Our Prices are always right, Our coal is always right—because we handle the very best on the market. "Call us up" and get a load. You'll never have occasion to "Call us down." Yours for coal satisfaction, Sutherland Coal & Transfer Co. Marion, Kentucky. 'Phone No. 200.

HOTEL FOR SALE!

10 Rooms, Newly Furnished, Centaally Located, a $2.00 House, Good Town and Alright. Reason for selling-Am going west. Will sell for Cash or on 3 or 5 years time. A BARGAIN. Call on or address

D. W. Stone,

TOLU, KY.

FREEV

TO every person who will pay one year's subscription, $1.00, to this paper, THE CRITTENDEN PRESS, in advance, we will give absolutely free a full year's subscription to

FARM AND FIRESIDE

The only condition is that you must accept this offer within thirty days from date, as the publishers of Farm and Fireside limit us to that time.

FARM AND FIRESIDE IS Amercia's greatest twice-a-month Farm and Family Journal, 24 to 36 pages every issue, with nearly two million readers throughout the United States. Something in it for every member of the family, and all the farm and rural topics are ably discussed.

Send Your Order To-day ==

Address it to

The Crittenden Press

Marion, Kentucky.

"The bogus Haggerty will never me you were an impostor; why did

"Would you really like to know, before she sailed for Europe. I sim-

"And they still think you were there

"Yes; there is another mystery solve: myself." I knew it. With-

"Mr. Comstalk, you will not mar by causing me annoyance. I am sure that some day we shall be very good helplessness; for I really depend upon and such moonlight nights often superinduce sentimentality. What do you know of me? Nothing. What do

I know of you? Nothing, save that shine. Come, make me a toast!"--lift-gentleman. But it was only consist-

But neither of us drank; there

For the door opened quietly, and in walked the two men we had seen upon

"This Is Romance." Said I.

closed the door and locked it. One was in soiled every-day clothes, the

The latter doffed his opera hat with

The girl and I tooked up at him in blank bewilderment, and set our cups down so mechanically that the warm

Galloping Dick and the affable in-

CHAPTER VIII.

began the pseudo-detective, closing stuffing them into a pocket. "As a friend of mine used to say, it is the unexpected that always surprises us.

We never expected to see these charming masquesaders again, did we,

No, sir," said William, grinning af-fably, "we didn't. The gentleman was very nice and obliging to me, sir, the late Mr. Haggerty, with the dead?

affability of a Macaire, "I beg of you

Mr. Comstalk, I beg of you not to move or to become unduly excited

Physicians tell us that excitement wastes the red corpuscles, that is to "Your blood, sir, must be very thin,"

I returned coolly. But I cursed him soundly in my mind. William's bulging side-pocket convinced me that any undue excitement on my part would

"William, you can always tell a gentleman," said the chief rogue ad-miringly. "A gentleman always re-

"And he is usually witty, too, sir,"

"So I understand. Now," confinued when I was in the cellars."

say, the life of the blood."

be exceedingly dangerous.

hings.

William?"

"The unexpected always happens,"

"You are right," said I. "I am a knew it. With-

You are no longer mystified?"

That is all the mystery there is.'

ich a mystery?"--quizzically.

"It all depends upon you.

rightfully!

glad of it.

wasn't time.

"Dicky? Never! I should always be thinking of paper collars.' cross our paths again. He has skipped by the light of the moon. No, that's

I wish I were witty like that!" She snuggled down beneath the not the mystery. Why did you tell robes.

An artist's model, thought I. Never you go to the cellars with me, when in this world. I now understood the all the while you were at the ball on drift of her uncle's remark about her Mrs. Hyphen-Bonds' invitation? earning capacity. The Alice Haw- She leaned on her elbows and thorne miniatures brought fabulous smiled at me humorously. prices. And here I was, sitting so close to her that our shoulders Signor? Well, I was an impostor. touched: and she a girl who knew She sat with her back to the fire, and intimately emperors and princesses a weird halo of light seemed to surand dukes, not to mention the world- round her and frame her. "Mrs. Hylyrich. I admit that for a moment I phen-Bonds accidentally dropped that was touched with awe. And it was invitation in my studio, a few days beginning to get serious. This girl interested me marvelously. I sum- ply could not resist the temptation. moned up all my courage.

Are-are you married?'

No-0.

'Nor engaged to be married!" "No-o. But you mustn't ask all these questions.

'How would you like to ride around! out rhyme and reason, I was in love: in a first-class motor-car the rest of and without rhyme or reason, I was your days?

She laughed merrily. Possibly it was funny

'Are you always amusing like this?" Supposing I were serious?

In that case I should say you had the exquisite humor of our adventure not yet slipped off your fool's motley.' This directness was discouraging. I wonder if the ten of hearts is friends. But one does not talk of love lucky after all," I mused. We are not in jail. I consider that you would be taking advantage of my

the best of good fortune. "Give me your card," said I

She gave me the card, and I put it It is only the romance, the adventure; with mine.

Why do you do that?' Perhaps I want to bring about an enchantment,"-soberly As Signor Fantoccini, or as Mr. there is a kindred spirit which is al-

"I have long since resigned my posi- Down in your heart you know you are tion in the museum: it was too excit- only temporarily affected by moon-

She made no rejoinder; and for ing her cup. some time there was no sound but the music of the bells.

Finally we drew up under the colon- ent that, having been the fool, I guard. ial porte-cochere of Hollywood Inn and should now play the ass. Here's!" were welcomed by the genial Moriarty | -and I held up my cup. himself, his Celtic countenance a mirror of smiles

'Anything in the house to eat?" . cried, shaking the robes from me.

Anything ye like, if you like cowld things. I can hate ye a pot of coffee on the gasolene-burner, and there's manny a vintage in the cillars.

"That will be plenty!"-joyfully, helping Miss Hawthorne to alight.

Sure, and ye are from the Hunt Club!"-noting our costumes. "Well. well! they niver have anny too much grub. Now, I'll putt ye in a little room all be yersilves, with a windy and a log fire; cozy as ye plaze. Ye'll have nearly two hours to wait for the car-r from the village."

We entered the general assembly. room. It was roomy and quaint, and somewhere above us was the inevitable room in which George Washington had slept. The great hooded fireplace was merry with crackling logs. Casually I observed that we were not alone. Over yonder, in a shadowed corner, sat two men, very well bundled up, and, to all appearances, fast Moriarty lighted a fourbranched candelabrum and showed us; the way to the little private diningroom, took our orders, and left us.

This is romance," said I. "They used to do these things hundreds of years ago, and everybody had a good entering the Inn. One of them gently time.

"It is now all very wicked and improper," murmured the girl, laying other in immaculate evening dress. aside her domino for the first time; "but delightful! I now find I haven't the most engaging smile imaginable. the least bit of remorse for what I have done. In that dark evening gown she was very beautiful. Her arms and shoul- amber liquid spattered on the tableders were tinted like Carrara marble; | cloth. and I knew instantly that I was never going to recover. I drew two chairs spector of the cellars stood before us! close to the grate I sat down in one and she in the other. With a contented sigh she rested her blue-slippered feet on the brass fender. "My one regret is that I haven't his hat, drawing off his gloves and any shoes. What an adventure!

"It's fine!" Two hours in the society of this enchanting creature! It was almost too good to be true. Ah, if it might always be like this-to return home from the day's work, to be greeted warmly by a woman as beautiful as this one! I sighed loudly. Moriarty came with the chicken and ham and coffee. "If ye would like, it won't be a bit of trouble to show ye George Washington's room; or"-with inimitable Irish drollery-"I can tell ye that he dined in this very room."

'That will serve," smiled the girl; and Moriarty bowed himself out. His departure was followed by the clatter of silver upon porcelain. Of a truth, both of us were hungry. "I was simply ravenous," the girl confessed.

'And as for me, I never dreamt I could be so unromantic. Now," said I, pushing aside my plate, and dropping sugar into my coffee, and vainly hunting in my pockets for a cigar, there remains only one mystery to be cleared up." 'And what might this mystery be?" she asked. "The whereabouts of the bogus Haggerty

The girl sat pale and rigid in her

"What do you want?" I demanded savagely,

"For one thing, I should like to nan's sitting down to dine with a lady without having washed his face. The coal-dust does not add to your manly beauty. You haven't a cake of soap about you, William, have you?"

Shall you ever be able to solve indescribable enjoyment of the scene The girl's mouth stiffened. She was struggling to repress the almost irre-

> "In times like these," said I, deteroften thoughtless in regard to our of the Unitenaen Circuit Court as C S Nunn, adr., vs Ruth Guess, etc. personal appearances. I apologize to special Judge; and, the lady on eight hours' acquaintance. Besides, 'Fine, fine! I sincerely admire you, you to see me safe back to New York.

"He certainly has, sir."

invitation, and has a merry time of the bar, litigants and officers of the Electa M Frisbee. it indeed. To have the perfect sense of humor-that is what makes the world go round.

ways likely to lead us into trouble. "Aren't you taking extra risk in offering me these pleasantries?" I asked. "Risks? In what manner?"

sonated is at the club." I do not know for his uniformly kind and patient ery, etc. what prompted me to put him on his

Mr. Haggerty's habits. He is hustling high personal esteem and great ad- J C Towerv, etc vs Sarah Kemp. back to New York as fast as he can. He passed here ten minutes ago in the patrol, lickety-clip! He wishes to kindness and impartialty continuous- L H James, etc., vs J F Moore, etc. warn all pawnbrokers and jewelers to ly'displayed during this entire term T M George vs Al Kirk, et al

"A fourth of which goes to you, my good and faithful friend.

Two cooler rogues I never wish to But wouldn't it be well, sir, to hasten?" asked William. We have plenty of time

'You have not entered this room, said the girl, her terror slipping from papers of Crittenden and Caldwell her, "simply to offer these banalities, counties, with the request that same the rogue, taking out a cigarette case, ered to Hon. Ward Headley. "I don't know what that word L. H. James, President; Champ-ing young lady scents our visit from Moore, A. C. Moore, Wm. H. Clark, mean that." William leaned against A. Moore, A. H. Travis, Jailer: the wall, his beady eyes twinkling mer- Jno. G. Asher,

The master rogue lighted a cigarette at one of the candles. "Pardon me," he said, "but will

I took a cigarette and fired it. (I really wanted it.) I would show up peace. well before this girl if I died for it. I blew a cloud of smoke at the candle-flame. There was a sparkle of admiration in the girl's eyes.

'Mr. Comstalk, my respect for you increases each moment." The rogue sat down.

"And to whom might this handsome case belong?" I asked, examining it closely

"Oh, that has always been mine. There was a time,"-blowing rings at the candelabrum,-"when I was respected like yourself, rich, sought after. A woman and a trusted friend: how these often tumble down our beautiful edifices! Yes, I am a scamp, a thief, a rogue; but not because I need the money. No,"-with retrospective eyes-"I need excitement, tremendous and continuous, excitement to keep my vigilance and invention active day and night, excitement failing to file statement. to obliterate memory.

us. She is an impartial Nemecis; she dogs the steps of the righteous and the unrighteous. To obliterate memory, that is it! And where might I find this oblite. ation, save in this life? Drugs? Pah! Oh, I have given Haggerty a royal chase. It has been meat and drink to me to fool the cleverest policeman in New York, Till yesterday my face, as a criminal, was unknown to any man or woman, save William here, who was my valet in the old days. I have gone to my clubs, dined, played billiards; a fine comedy, a fine comedy! To-morrow William and I sail for Europe. Miss Hawognizes his opportunities, and never eses his sense of the balance of thorne, you wear one of the most exquisite rubies I have ever seen. Perit me to examine it.'

NOVEMBER TERM

question the propriety of a gentle- Resolutions by the Bar and Court Officials Complimenting Judge

THE FOLLOWING CASES DISPOSED OF J M Swnnsy-vs Robt Belt, etc.

The November term of the Crit- Harry Watkins vs C H Omer. tenden Circuit Court closed Saturday J W Blus, Jr vs E T Robinson. after two weeks session was presided D C Roberts vs J P Reed, etc. himself by the Hon. Ward Headley. Threlkeld, etc. of Princeton. Below we give the Geo M Travis, etc., vs T V Hill. findings in each case which shows J A Graves vs W T Graves, etc. that much business was transacted Emaline Turk vi W A Parfitt, etc. and the docket cleared of many cases. That the Judge pro tem pleased the er, etc. parties concerned is shown by the resolutions which we publish and which were signed by the officials of the court and the members of the Marion bar.

RESOLUTIONS

At a meeting of the Marion Bar S S Brown vs Ed E Squiers. room at the call of the President L. C Byford vs Alice Byford "No sir." William's face expressed H. James, the following resolutions Alto Moss vs Will Moss were passed.

Headley, of Princeton, Ky., has just vs Jas Writtenberry, etc. mined not to be outdone, "we are completed the November term 1906. C S Nnnn vs Frank Posey, etc.

Whereas, the said Hon. Ward and Merchants Bank, etc. spirit of adventure. Hasn't he, Wil- the high position with signal ability, nan. perfect impartiality, and with the Geo R Simpson vs A J Grant.

Now, Therefore, Be it resolved that we, the members of the Marion M. F. Pogue, Assignee, etc., vs W. bar and officers of the court, tender Pogue, etc. deportment while presiding over the D B Kevil, etc vs W H Clark. The rogue laughed lightly. "I know court, and beg to assure him of our Thomas J Jones vs Malissa Jones. miration for his legal ability and his J H Travis vs J P Reed. of the court. And we trust that our L F White vs D M Boyd. ly begun, may ripen into years of lowing cases. friendship.

> Resolutions be spread upon the re- R W Wilson vs Mary Fowler, etc. cords of this court, upon a page set Sallie Tharp vs Jessie Tharp. be published, and a copy also deliv-means, sir. but as you do, it seems to ion & Champion, J. G. Rochester, "It means, William, that this charm- W. J. Deboe, R. L. Moore, Jno. A. "I had a suspicion, sir, that it might J. W. Blue, Jr., Ollie M. James, Jas. Committee.

COMMONWEALTH DOCKET.

The following cases were continued Same vs J. R. Green, trespass. Same vs Shade Holder, breach of Same vs same, carrying concealed deadly weapon.

Same vs Ira Sullivan, selling liquor to a minor. Same vs Ira Sullivan, selling liquor without a license. Same vs Charley Cook, cutting another in sudden heat. Same vs Fred Gaines, carrying concealed a deadly weapon.

Same vs Bob Pogue, breach of Same vs E, K. Pool peddling without license.

Same vs same, same. Same vs National Fertilizer Co.,

Same vs Fred Gaines, breach of

The following were settled. Same vs Clyde Woody, on appeal Same vs same, same

Same vs same, same

The following were compromised. Same vs Illinois Central R R Co. failing to sound whistle, etc.

Same vs same, same Same vs same, same Same vs Central Telephone Co.,

creating a common nuisance. EQUITY DOCKET.

NOVEMBER TERM, 1906.

Boston & Paris vs J E Chittenden, Co. etc. Court of Appeals. CIRGUIT COURT CLOSED James Lane vs Leoha Lane. Dismiss-

The following cases were continued Henry M. Daniels vs John Daniels. J W Bettis vs H A Hodge. W C Rice vs Lizzie Harris. Josephine Duncan vs W F Duncan. Annie L Orme vs Prince Pickens.

C J Pierce vs L F McCage. over with signal ability and credit to Carrie Threlkeld, admx., vs Foster W D Crowell, administrator vs

Mrs E H Porter vs J. C. Funkhous- E Crowell.

J N Todd vs J H McDowell. M F Pogue, etc., vs Henry Adams. W T Mitchell vs K B Mitchell. M G Jacobs vs R H Enoch. Rosella Saunders vs Jno. Saunders Ellis Pool vs Arlander Pool. Lena B Powell vs Rudell Elder. J N Todd vs J R McKinney. Association held in the circuit court Eva Curberley vs Joseph Curberley

J L Turley vs J C Alexander Whereas, the said Hon. Ward Massillon Engine & Thresher Co.

James T. Skinner, etc., vs Farmers Mr. Comstalk. You have the true Headley has discharged the duties of Dixie Buchannan vs W H Buchan-

Comes to a private ball without an utmost courtesy to the members of Bigham Masonic Lodge vs Mrs

The following were settled.

The man you so cleverly imper- to Judge Headley our sincere thanks Mary J Black, admx., vs Alice Tow-

A very tidy sum, sir," said William. acquaintance with him, so auspicious- Judgment was rendered in the fol-

Wm W Plumblee vs Sophia Plumblee Be it Further Resolved, That these Cordelia Cannada vs J M Cannada. apart for that purpose, and that cop- Marion Shoemaker vs Fleming Akers ies of same be delivered to the county | Alice Myers Beavers vs Tom Myers, | pany.

> Annie E Lemon vs Macy Lemon etc ORDINARY DOCKET.

NOVEMBER TERM, MONDAY SEVENTH DAY NOVEMBER, 26, 1906. H F Easley, vs W D Tudor. De-

The following were continued.

R. R. Pickings vs. Western Union Telegraph Co.

J. E. Stevenson, administrator vs. W. H. Locket. M. C. O'Harro vs. W. C. O'Bry-

Ada Robinson vs Illinois Central railroad company.

J. G. Rochester, administrator vs. B. E. Vinson & Company. Same vs. Same, same.

Wm. S. Birchfield, vs. The Royal Fraternal Union. R. H. Kemp, etc., administrator, vs. W. S. Kemp, Jr. Same vs. same, same. Willis E. Jolly & Co., vs. J. W.

Sullivan Machine Co., vs. Adams

& Pierce. Marion Coal of Kentucky vs. Theodore R. Troendle.

Hasting Industrial Co., vs. W. H. Harp, etc. John Tinsley, vs. Marion Mineral company. Annie E. Rhodes, vs. J. A. Graves, etc.

Annie E. Rhodes, vs. S. H. Casidy, etc. Theodore R. Troendle, vs. Coal &

Coke Co. Jacob Mitchell, vs. D. C. Roberts. Mayer Bros. & Co., vs. T. H. McReynolds.

C. Harris, vs. I. C. R. R., Co. T. R. Troendle, vs. Marion Coal Co., of Kentucky.

Thompson Wilson & Co., vs. T. H. McReynolds.

J. L. Ladd, vs. Robert Boyd etc. John G. Martin, vs. I. C. R. R. sold by Woods & Orme

Newton Jones, vs. I. C. R. R. Co. Alf Doom, vs. M. A. Cassidy, etc. H B Hoover, vs Lee Line Steam-

Eskew Bros. vs J W Wilson. Judge Hoover, vs. J. H. Bettis etc.

executors. A H McNeeley, etc. vs LCR R com

Elza Clement, v. W E Boaz. Griffin & Wells, vs O H Scott, etc. T H Robinson, v. A F Franklin Ira C Hartzell, vs Andrew J Hart-

John F Crowell, etc. W. D. Crowell administrator vs *

I P Orr. etc. W O Crowell administrator vs J

The following were settled.

H. H. King, vs. Nannie J. Michall.

J. W. Givens, vs. D. E. Mar M. F. Pogue, vs. Bankers Union of the World. Jesse Tharp, vs Mrs E H Porter. Nannie Newbill, vs Herbert Pruce, Harry Bennett, vs R M Peak. Farmers Bank, vs Richard Mills.

Judgment was rendered in the following cases. J. R. Green, vs. Arthur Nunn. J. V. Hayden, vs. J. R. McKen-

Merrit Manufacturing Co., vs. Mrs. Plur.

T A Frazer, vs G W Horning. Green & Sons, vs W B Binkleye Walter A Wood Host Machine Co, vs Jas Writtenbisog etc.

Wm Towler, vs J E Travis. J O Dixon, vs Wm Johnson. I N McCormick, vs I C R R Co. EQUITY APPEARAECES.

I J Hill, vs Emma Hill. Dis-

The following were continued. Wm Wheeler, vs Lily Wheeler. M E Croft, vs J A Rogers, etc. Cochran & Baker, vs John S Woodall, etc.

J A Wheeler, etc, vs J H Bittis. Burt Craynd, etc vs Linuie Dor-roh, etc.

The following were settled. J P Pierce Guar, vs Joseph Hurst. W B Wilborn, vs The United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company of Baltimore, Md.

A H Reed, vs Marion Zine Com-R L Moore, vs T H Cossitt, etc.

W B Yandell, vs Mary Hill, etc. J V Hayden, vs J C Kinsolving.

Henry Watson, vs J J Croff etc. W D Crowell, administrator, vs. Orr, etc. Judgment was rendered in the following cases. A R Hughes, vs Newton Jones. Lucy Flanary, vs Dock Flanary. J C B McMicaw, vs H S Gilbert. S Kahus Sons, vs A A Deboe, etc. W H Clark, vs W H Mann.

Has Stood the Test 25 Years.

The old original Grove's Tastless Chill Tonic. You know what you are taking. It is iron and quinine in a tastless form. No cure No pay price 50c;

We make Sevelag Machines to suit all conditions full of rele. The to No. of Taxast I sands att of ad of a Color in return to to no world be automotived the new work. NUNN & TUCKER.

CASCASWEET, the ideal medicine for the little ones Contains no opiates Conforms fully with National Pure Food and Drug Law Write E C DeWitt & Co. Chicago, Ill. for the "Baby Book sistible smile that tickled her lips.

The Master Rogue & Ighted a Cigarette.

Ten thousand in a night!"-jovially.

Thank you, sir," replied William.

son.

"What perspicacity, Wiliam!" cried

you join me?"--proffering the handsome gold case.

"But we can't do it, my friend, we can't do it. Memory is always with peace.

Fall Clothing Bargains

BEST STYLE SUITS AND OVERCOATS

TRY Clothes IF YOU WANT Style

Do you want the Best? Do you want the Style? Do you want the Fit? Do you want to Save? Then buy from us.

Old Men Young Men Boys and Children

Suits Overcoats Pants

The Home Of BARGAINS

.....TRY.....

Yandell-Gugenheim Company

You Won't be Sorry

Big Stock to Select from Large values for all Not Many Shopping Days Before CHRISTMAS

Be Wise and XMAS GIFTS FOR

Girls Men Ladies Boys The Kind that will be Appreciated and USEFUL to all

Dress Goods Waist Goods Silk Waists Kid Gloves Silk Wool

Fascinators

Hosiery

Suspenders Neckwear Umbrellas Half Hose Hankerchiefs Mufflers Mens Gloves Fancy Combs Boys Gloves

Hats, Caps Rugs Carpets Druggets Blankets House . Slippers Mens Slippers

Gifts See us!

These

a Few of the tial

Substan-

Are only

Cloaks, Furs---Children's Fur Sets

SHOE SUGGESTIONS!

وَ إِنَّ وَالَّهُ وَا

Winter days bring the need of Stouters Shoes, but Stouter Shoes will not mean clumsy shoes nor less stylise shoes if you buy onr SHOES which are The Best for Least Money

We Fit All Feet

Men-Women-Children

Men's Slippers---Women's Slippers

Our Baby Shoes are just the Kind you want

-SEE OUR-House Slippers SHOES

FOR

YANDELL-GUGENHEIM COMPANY

The Crittenden Press

S. M. JENKINS Editor and Publisher.

Entered as second-class matter June 26th, 187 of the postoffice at Marion, Ky., under the Act Congress of March 3rd, 1879.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

THURSDAY, DEC. 6, 1906

out till next week.

Narrowness of mind causes stubbornness. We do not believe what se beyond that which we see.

well, for that is the principle of mor- wood, Ind.

"Who is the great man? He who is strongest in patience. He who patiently endures injury and maintains a blameless life, he is a man indeed.

The first duty we should teach ourselves is to do unflinchingly each and every daty that devolves on us. Sometimes these seem crosses and are many times a trial but duty well done soon becomes a pleasure in performance.

JU$T $0, $0!

It takes much labor and many diffeent kinds of material to print a greatest of care and appreciation. new paper and it takes money to pay as list of subscribers that always would like to emphasize the fact that p, he has no trouble in making

T'e ways of this world are uncertain an editor is supported it is al. for his interest, according to promise. mot a certainty that the paper will r regularly. An editor usually remain rerally sought when some one san article printed free gratis oundly oussed when he does it, and when a pay job is $ independent of the paper.

money from.

we $aid before it take$ fund$ a bright, newsy and up-to-1$p our menning. $ $ $ $.

A man who slanders secretly his neighbor should be shunned. He is like a cup of poison with cream on the surface, in any community, and sooner or later is discarded by all

The Dycusburg Cannery has closed this season of 1906, by shipping last Thursday the remainder of its output which during the season, has amounted to 8000 cases of two doz. cans each, making almost 192,000 cans, and 175 barrel of pulp for catsup been well managed and is perfected. The cannery employed about sixty Ky. people during the season, and was under the management of J. A.

To the Public

in the planlng mill and his interest in all accounts due, I want to thank to us, and to so many for standing by prosperity. us and giving us their support and of us are infallable, I want to say I the trade and we extend our most sincere thanks for their indulgence. ville We further want to say that any business we may have of yours in the future will be looked after with the

Now a word to those knowing themwe will need every cent due us, so I may be able to settle with Mr. Paris

As ever yours, J. N. Boston.

RETIRES FROM PLANING NILL.

Mr. O. H. Paris has sold his init is taken to a job printer terest in the planing mill to J. N. Boston his partner. The business like to favor our $ub$criber$ will be continued as usual. Mr. ill do $0 if they will favor u$ Paris is not settled as to what he will family lived for a few months. Some and plenty of stock water. heir work that we can realize engage in but will not remain idle one asked her if she was glad to get to Jas. L. Rankin & Co. Fresh were to her more beautiful than flowcw$paper like our$. We hope candies, nuts, fig, dates, raisins, cit- ers in any other state. In fact she thing good to eat.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

of her health.

John and Ellen Asbridge, of Jackon neighborhood, were the guests of Harrison Bigham and daughter Sun-and 5000 gallons of chili sauce. It 9 and 10 by Rev. Dr. Lewis. preach- days. is quite gratifying to the manager to ing morning and evening, every one know that only one can out of 200 especially invited to hear Dr. Lewis.

the President's message will be left first year 12 out of each 200 spoiled, lying near Tribune, Ky., will divide anthem "Learn of Jesus Every Day which proves that the business has to suit purchaser, good improvements the choir was rich and sweet. The low price, easy terms. Write at Duet, "Some Time Some Day" by of Crayneville, is now in the employ and pleasantly by each one of their

"Nor love thy life, nor hate: but what thou livest live well: how long Hour dignity consists in thought, Graves, this year, who represented or short, permit to heaven" Your therefore let us contrive to think the lessee J. T. Polk Co, of Green-teeth are what you live with. Dr.

Mrs, T. J. Nunn left for Frank. influence. While I realize that none fort Sunday, after spending Thanksgiving with her children here. have made a special effort to please Judge Nunn who visited last week

To my friends and the public in general, having sold my interest in the planing mill to my partner J. N. Boston, I desire to thank every one who has extended us their patronage for ese things. When an editor selves indebted to the firm. We and to request them to continue same with my successor. O. H. Paris, Marion, Ky., Dec. 1st, 1906.

> Again thanking you, I beg to botoms. It is a very rare occurrence tinquished minister, and all who this time of the year, and consequent- | well paid for their attendance. ly many of our river bottom farmers were not prepared for this unexpectback to Marion, she said yes unhesitatingly and by way of emphasis add-For all the Christmas dainties, go ed that the rocks in old Kentucky bloom at that.

light placed at the I. C. depot to be dinner Thanksgiving day to the Bap- the sunny south-land venttred to used during arrival and departures of all night trains. This would make the town loom up much brighter to the city, among spell out the reason on her fingers their guests were: Revs. T. C. Carbon and the town loom up much brighter to the city, among spell out the reason on her fingers and the town loom up much brighter town loom up much brighter town loom up much brighter town of its best advertisements.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. T. Akin, of Princeton, were the guests of Hugh Hurley and wife on south main street day night, in the Chapel Hill neigh- Sunday. They returned home on the Corydon Monday after noon. She the Rev. Benjamin Andres and his The first quarterly meeting, of the Amanda, who had been the guests of home two weeks ago on account of a courses, would have done credit to Methodist church will be held Dec. their sister, Mrs. Hurley, for several serious spell of sickness. During the table of King Edward himself, as

Owing to lack of space, part of put up, failed to keep, whereas the FOR SALE-175 acres of land ing was exceptionally good. The in the school room. once to Collins Waller, Morganfield, Mrs. J. W. Wilson and Miss Kittle of the Rock Island R. R. Co, at Jealways add much interest to the ser- with Texas, a fine country to make

> F. S. Stilwell Dentist over Marion a professor in the Louisville Theol. ogical Seminary, preached at the Geo. H. Crider and his esteemable Presbyterian church Sunday morning Having bought Mr. Paris' interest family have gone to Canyon City, at 11 oclock. He arrived Thursday Texas. They left Tuesday, Mr. and was the guest of Rev. Andres Crider and each one of his family and wife at the manse on West Salwill be missed very much here and em street. Dr. Crawford assisted at my friends for their liberal patronage we hope they will have health and the marriage of Rev. and Mrs. An-

> > A party of mining capitalists interested in the "Albany Mining Co," and other properties near here were in the city Monday. The members at Madisonville has also returned of party were Messrs. J. Walter home, joining Mrs. Nunn at Norton-Baird and J. M. Molsenbacher, of Muncie, Ind., L. M. Weller and P. Whitsett, of Columbus, Ohio. They went by carriage to the different proand spent several days in the field.

> > ·· A Correct Life and its Inflaences," was the subject of Rev. Elgin's sermon at the Methodist church Sunday night. It was directed Reports are coming in from all especially to the young men, a large parts of the county where over flows number of whom took advantage of took place about damaged corn in the the opportunity of hearing the disthat onr rivers over flow their banks were so fortunate as to hear it were

> > FOR SALE -- My farm three mile north of Marion on the Fords ferry road, 90 acres. Twenty acres in Mrs. Phil. Deboe has immortallized timber, 70 acres tilable, 7 acres in even the rocks of old Kentucky. grass, orchard, residence three rooms She recently returned to the blue in fair repair, new stables, barn, ungrass state from Arkansas where the der good fence. spring, pond, wells, P. C GILBERT.

Farm for Sale.

Farm near Hardin, Ky. for sale. our few remarks that ron, evaporated peaches, apricots said every rock in Marion tooked to Good land, good buildings and ill catch the drift of our words and prunes. And in fact every her like a rose bush and in full cheap. Write to Collins Waller, Morganfield, Ky.

and J. S. Henry. A beautiful feast little bird told the Press about it. hospitality was dispensed.

evening train accompanied by their was obliged to give up her place in bride. Covers were laid for ten, and her absence Miss Milderd Hayne's it comprised of many delicacies de-The music and singing at the Presbyterian church, last Sunday morn-byterian church, last Sunday morn-Harris has now resumed her place host and hostess who are never hap-

Our young friend Geo. Ordway, Gray was beautiful, and was well richo, Texas. He writes us under money and au ideal climate, let the good old Press come on, am always Dr. C. K. Crawford, of Louisville, glad to got the news from old Crittenden, best regards to you.

GEO. G. ORDWAY.

When Madam Slenderpole, announced last Sunday morning that she would not attend Sunday school and church that day, there were a Holly Springs. N. C. For Sale by Woods & Orme good many questions and surmises in the home of a good natured M. D. who resides on Wilson avenue. One Journal one year for $1.50.

A move is on foot to have an arc Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Dial gave a of the children who was named for

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hendel Sayer entertained a few friends at dinner Miss Carolyn Harris returned from on Thanksgiving day, in honor of pier than when giving pleasure to others will be rememerbered long rendered, a good musical program date of Nov. 28th, am well pleased A Home Made Happy by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy neasles which settled on her lungs and at last resulted in a severe attack of bronchitis. We had two doctors but no relief was obtained. Every body thought she would die. I went to eight dif ferent stores to find a certain remedy which had been recommended to me and failed to get it. when one of the storekeepers insisted that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and our

The Press and weekly Courier

CLOSING OUT AT COST!

Our entire stock of Groceries, Queensware, Glassware, perties in which they are interested Tinwsre and Graniteware must be sold by January 1st, 1907 as we will make a change in our business. We also have a Big Stock of Christmas Goods which we must move for CASH at LOW PRICES.

Hicklin Bros.

BRING THE LITTLE ONES

We have XMAS PRESENTS For Old and Young that will be Useful and Ornamental

The Best Selected Line of HOLIDAY GOODS

In the City to Select from HAYNES & TAYLOR

OME THINGS to YOUR OWN

There are many things that you probably contemplate buying during the Holidays and we will try hard to make it to your Interest to do your Christmas shopping with us

Especially in

Our Stock is Large and Complete in every Particular and

Whether in Suits for Men and Boys, Extra Pants, Overcoats or Cravenettes,

We will give you

by examining

High Quality

Price Protect your own intersts

Our Line.

New Line "Lion Brand" Shirts and Collars Suspenders Ties and Handkerchiefs

OUR

Fur Sales

have been the greatest we have ever had and we contribute it solely to the High Class, New Style, Low Priced Goods we have shown.

Don't Fail To Look

Before Buying

New Things in Dress Goods and Waistings Do you want the Best S

SHOES

If so come and examine our Line.

W. L. Douglas For Men

Duttenhofers For Women

Red School House For Children are the best

Shawls-----Fascinators Underwear---Hosiery

Direct from the Mills

Carpets--Rugs

NO TROUBLE TO SHOW GOODS AND A PLEASURE TO PLEASE

TAYLOR & CANNAN

MASONIC TEMPLE

F. W. Nunn, dentist, Press Building.

Hot coffee at Haynes & Taylor.

Mr. I. F. Threlkeld, was in town Tuesday.

Come in and look over our line of toys-Fosh.

W. F. Brown, of Iron Hill, was in the city Monday.

J. R. Steinman was at the Hotel

Crittenden Tuesday.

Mrs. Lester Terry, of the Mounds vicinity was here Tuesday.

Mrs. Zack Terry, of Hebron, vicinity was here Tuesday. Miss Carrie Moore returned to Hopkinsville Sunday evening.

Stewart's pictures are all good, he retouches his work.

Jas. A. Hill, of Chapel Hill, was in the city Thanksgiving day.

Miss Conyer, of New Salem, was visiting her parents Tuesday.

Ardmore, Indt., to visit relatives. Miss Maud Finley, of St. Charles,

Mrs. Jim Henry left Tuesday for is the guest of Miss Maud Hurley.

Call on J. L. Stewart and see the fine photos he will make you for

John H. Scott, of Linton, Indiana is contracting in this county for tim-

Busts, nic-nacks, cups and saucers and lamps, and in fact every thing at-Fohs.

Chas. Clement has returned from Amarillo Texas and is much pleased with his trip.

If you want something nice for Christmas, go and have Stewart to make your pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Riggin, of Madisonville, arrived last week to spend Thanksgiving.

WANTED--White shucked corn Will pay the highest market price. MARION MILLING Co.

Caleb Stone who has been visiting friends and relatives in Hughey, Lyon Co., has returned home.

Mr. Wm. Glenn and wife, of Eddyville, spent thanksgiving with them, cast their toys away" Dr. Fredtheir daughter Mrs. W. T. McConnell crick S. Stilwell the Dentist, asks you izen of that place, is attending the glasses changed without additional to consider this. on Walker street.

F. W. Nunn, dentist, Press Building Fancy hand painted china at Fohs.

J. L. Rankin & Co., fine groce-

Henry Bennett, of Dycusburg, as here last week during court. Pictures and medallions in large Woods & Orme. stortment. The firms which get the business are those that advertise in the PRESS.

There will be preaching at Chapel Hill church on next Sunday at 11

Dont forget to see J. N. Boston when needing anything made of

Miss Minnie Hoover, of Sheridan, is the guest of Miss Subie Murphy, of this city. J. B. Croft, of Tolu, was in the city last week. He lost some corn by the overflow. Remember the concert December

10th for the benefit of the sixth grade in the public school. Fancy china and glass ware make good Xmas presents, we handle them

Dr. W. T. Daughtery has moved J. L. Rankin & Co. to the Glenn house on Salem street p posite Gus Taylor's.

Patience is a plant that grows not in all gardens. Dr. Frederick S. Stilwell over Marion Bank.

W. D. Baird and his bonny bride will occupy the Gugenheim cottage opposite the court square.

A. L. Alley and C. M. Gray, of Salem, were here Friday shipping stock to the Louisville market.

Miss Katie Carter, of the Levias section, was in the city last week visiting relatives.

Mrs. T. J. Nunn, of Frankfort, arrived in the city to spend Thanksgiving with her children here.

Four Barred Plymoth Rock roosters for sale. Phone 176. MAURY BOSTON.

Stewart will make you a picture of yourself on cloth which you can wash and iron, and it wont fade out.

When you think of groceries, think of J. L. Rankin & Co., they are as near you as your telephone.

"He mouths a sentence as curs mouth a bone." Get your teeth fixed by Dr. Frederick Stilwell Dentist over Marion Bank.

"Men deal with life as children right prices. with their play, who first misuse

F. W. Nunn, dentist, Press Building Hot chocolate at Haynes & Taylor.

A complete line of dolls and other oys for girls and boys.

Mrs. Susan Glenn will spend holidays with relatives in Livingston Co. J. F. Flanary has returned from a business trip to Frankfort and Lex-

Woods & Orme have everything for the holidays and will gladly show

Miss Ina Nunn, the daughter of E. L. Nunn, of Rodney, is attending school at Danville, Ky. Robt. Foster and wife, of Vicks- times burg, were the guests of Geo. Foster and family several days last week. L. Rankin & Co, and get the top produce. price for fresh goods.

Cleve Wolf arrived Wednesday from Mo. accompanied Miss Subie relatives and friends.

Blanke's Selebrated Peaberry coffee at Jas. L. Rankin & Co, north; side court square.

Some people fuss and fume about their groceries, the others trade with

No hunting or fishing on my farms. Tresspassers will be prosecuted. A. H. CARDIN, View, Ky.

Rev. J. R. McAfee, of Louisville, arrived Monday night and is shaking with Mrs. Judson Bennett. hands with many old friends.

When you want good reliable groceries, call on J. L. Rankin & Co. R. E. Pickens general salesman.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Orme left Tuesday for a trip in the south. They go first to Rosswell New Mexico.

Mrs. Rose Mayes, of the Caldwell Springs vicinity, was here last week the guest of her mother, Mrs. Flan-

Miss Frome Stembridge, of Blackburn vicinity, was the guest last week of her cousin. Miss Della Stem-Miss Florence Harris has returned from Henderson county where she spent Thanksgiving with friends and Mrs. D. E. Woods, of St. Louis, was entertained this week by Mrs. R. F. Haynes at her home on north College street.

Iarion Graded School.

Woods & Orme fine box candies and choice confections.

Prof. Victor G. Kee spent Thanksgiving, and several days last week at Thanksgiving day to visit his uncle Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Mrs. Kit Loyd, of Fredonia, who eccived a paralytic stroke not long since came down to be treated by the osteopath.

E. H. James was here last week to prepare to move his family and house hold goods to his new home Kuttawa.

street grocery firm will treat you right and give you good values at all Jim Rankin has fresh groceries, and will make close prices. He pays Take your butter and eggs to Jas. the highest market prices for country Rob Hoover who recently returned from Berea to spend Christmas with Murphy, of this city, on a trip in the vicinity last Sunday. Robt. Hoover and brother Hugh Hoover and Mack Thomas have all > recently returned from south east Mo. for the hollidays. Geo. Conditt, of Mounds, was in the city Sunday, to hear Dr. C. K. Crawford, of Louisville, at the Presbyterian church. Edna Clark, of the Pleasant Hill neighborhood, is attending the Ma-

Marion Clark has returned from Ardmore Indty, and has rented the pelled to use crutches. residence near the depot, formerly occupied by Will Crawford.

Acrowd of young people spent nost pleasant time with Miss Maud Hurley Monday evening, in honor ly on Depot street. of her visitor, Miss Finley.

Mrs. Green Jacobs, who is sufferng with tuberculosis, is reported no better and her friends feel very solicitous about her. She is the daughter of Wm. Loyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Riggin, of Madisonville, arrived on Wednesday of last week to spend Thanksgiving with her sister, Mrs. Q. M. Conyer, D. B. Kevil the Dawson miller and capitalist, was in the city to spend thanksgiving with his parents Mr and Mrs, J. Bell Kevil.

Call on Stewart early, and get Wher in need of lumber, shingles your picture made on cloth, to make laths, windows and doors, call on J. sofa pillows, satchet bags and fancy N. Boston. He has them at the work for Christmas.

Go to Dr. Geo. W. Stone and Lon Bennett, of Dycusburg, son have you eyes tested, and glasses fitof Henry Bennett, a well known cit- ed. He will see that you see or

When tired try hot beef tea at Haynes & Taylor.

Chas. Mays, of Fredonia, was here J. F. Flanary. He was en route to Sturgis to visit some friends there.

Mrs. F. W. Nunn and dhildren returned from Corydon Saturday after noon, after spending a few days visiting her parents and other relatives.

Blanke's Jaraette is the best coffee you, ask some of our lady customers. is spending a few days in the country Jas. L. Rankin & Co. Will McElroy returned to Nash ville Tuesday morning to fill a vacancy caused by the death of one of our holiday goods we will for the the salesmen in the house he works next week offer cloaks at unpreced-J. O. Brown was in the city Frinight. He came over from his home in the I. O. O. F. Lodge, a flousishing young lodge of this city. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Weldon and children have retured from a visit to Raymond Babb and family at Salem.

They went to spend Thanksgiving and remained until Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Stevens, of Smithfield, North Carolina, and Mrs. D. E. Woods, of St. Louis, rion Graded School, and is staying Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Farmer has holidays at home and return in the arrived Thursday morning to spend more until late the following spring. Thanksgiving and a few days with Lexie and his two brothers are doing her parents J. Bell Kevil and fami- well there and all are of course

Santa Clause informs us that he will leave a lot of good things at our store for the little folks.

J. L. Rankin & Co.

Lee Orme, of St. Louis, the well known stationery salesman was in the city for thanksgiving, and until Tuesday the guests of mayor J. W. Blue on Wilson avenue.

Miss Millie Eaton who was with her sister Mrs. Eugene Love in the on the market, a trial will sconvince millinery business the passed season, visiting her parents Rev. E. M. Eaton and wife near Salem

> On account of lack of space for ently low price, come quick before all are gone. Mrs. A. S. CAVENDER.

Miss Carrie Moore arrived from in Tolu to take the Initiatory degree Hopkinsville to spend Thankgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. , A. Moore on south main street. She was entertained Sunday at dinner by Charles Moore on Walker street.

Woods & Orme are as usual opening a large line of holiday goods. Their store is alway the central point of interest when Christmas shoppers start out, and already throngs are there daily and nightly making purwere the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. chases for Christmas and New Year M. Jenkins Tuesday evening at 6 offerings.

Lexic Hughes, son of Zeke Hughes Mrs. J. A. Farmer and Miss Addie arrived home last Thursday from Franks returned from Owensboro North Dakota and will spend the partially recovered from the accident spring. He is much pleased with which crippled her, but is yet com- the country and says the snow, now fifteen inches deep will remain all winter. When the ground is cover-Mrs. D. E. Woods, of St. Louis, ed there in the fall it is not seen any pleased.

EVERYTHING GOOD IN INSURANCE!

Fire Tornado Steam Boiler Plate Glass

Life Health Accident

The Best Companies The Strongest Agency

Bourland & Haynes

Opposite Postoffice.

Metz & Sedberry, Leading Barbers

Hot Baths, Sharp Razors, Clean Towels, Good Workmen. Electric Massage

In The Hotel Crittenden Block,

MARION, KY.

Stenographer and Notary Public

Office with Blue & Nunn in Postoffice ment this has apparently taken place, Building, Marion, Ky.

Dr. M. Ravdin,

Practice Limited to Diseases and Defects of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat,

Suits 16 and 17, Areade Building. Glasses Fitted.

INDIANA.

EVANSVILLE,

JOE B. CHAMPION T. W. CHAMPION

Champion & Champion.

MARION, - -

Will practice in all the courts of Cancer Sanitarium, Harrisburg, III.

Office Suite 3 and 4 Press Building MARION, KENTUCKY.

Attorney-at-Law

Special attention given to collections.

Will practice in all the courts of the | Electric Light Plants Are Like Horses State and in the United States court. Office in Press Building, Room 7.

Phone 106.

J. B. KEVIL,

Lawyer

Abstracting a Specialty Office in Press Building, Room 5

. KENTUCKY.

fire Insurance Agency in MARION, KENTUCKY

If you have property in the town of Marion, let them insure it. You said the original loan. That's what shall have no reasons to regret it. Office in Press Bulding, Room 5 Telephone 225.

TELEPHONES

Switchboards Large Stock of Electric

Light, Street Railway and Telephone Supplies Constantly on Hand.

Don't fail to send for latest Catalogue No. 7.

Jas. Clark Jr. & Co. 313 W. Main St. Louisville, Ky.

Early to Bed

and early to rise, makes one healthy, happy and wise especially if you take Herbine before retiring A positive cure for Constipation, Dyspepsia and all liver complaints Mrs S--, Columbia Fenn. writes: "I always keep a supply of your Herbine on hand. Am so pleased with the relief it gives in constipation and all liver complaints. that words can't express my appreciation Sold

GOVERNMENT WAGES LOW.

H. T. Newcomb Gives Facts of Interest to Wage Earners.

From 1896 to 1904 the average retail cost of the ordinary articles of food used in the United States advanced no less than 17 per cent (16.96, to be more exact)-that is, the purchaser of food for a family had to pay $1.17 in 1904 for the same quantity and quality of food that $1 would purchase in 1896. These are official statistics compiled by the highly skilled experts employed by the federal government, and every housewife knows that they do not overstate the advance. Other necessities of life have advanced in cost with aproximately equal rapidity.

Unquestionably wages ought, generally speaking, to have advanced somewhat in proportion to the increase in the cost of living. In private employthe average wages per hour reported by the federal bureau of labor being 17.36 per cent higher in 1904 than in 1896 and the average weekly earnings 12.76 per cent higher. The advances thus represented are spread all over the country; they characterize every private industrial enterprise and have benefited all classes of workmen employed in private undertakings. How is it with public employment? A few undertakings conducted under public ownership employ labor like that similarly serving private employers in the same communities, and in these cases the public rate of wages has slowly been advanced somewhat in proportion to the advance in the wages privately paid. But where any American government, municipal, state or national, is the sole or by far the largest employer of a particular class of labor the advances to meet increased cost of living have been so few that the ordinary investigator will be un-KENTUCKY. able to discover a single instance.

Throughout the postal service, among the 25,000 clerical employees at Washthe Commonwealth. Special atten- ington, in the customs and internal tion given to collections. Office in revenue services there have been no Press Building, second floor, Room 6 advances in pay to meet the rise in cost of food, clothing and shelter. The pay of letter carriers, for example, remains precisely where it was fixed twenty years ago by an act approved on Jan. 3, 1887.

The largest printing office in the world is that maintained at Washing-No knife, no pain, book free. Address ton by the government, and there the federal government employs a large force of intelligent and highly skilled workingmen. A change in the basis of payment in 1899 from the piece work to the per hour system prevents comparisons with dates prior to the hange, but wages have remained staionary since March 3, 1899, although the official statisticians report that the cost of food has advanced since the rate of wages was fixed by statute fully 12.25 per cent. During the same years the wages of printers in private book publishing or job printing establishments advanced throughout the United States as follows: Compositors, male, 14.67 per cent; compositors, female, 20.30 per cent; press feeders, W. H. CLARK, male, 22.41 per cent; press feeders, remale, 21.27 per cent; pressmen, 11.75 per cent.-H. T. Newcomb.

DO YOU OWN A HORSE?

In Some Respects.

The subject of depreciation is well worthy of the careful consideration of MARION, KY. hose who are prone to ignore that tem in estimating the cost of lights nore people own horses than lighting plants it may be helpful to consider depreciation as applied to horses.

You pay $250 for a five-year-old horse. That's original cost. If you borlow the money you must pay interest on it. If you don't borrow it you lose he interest you would get if you didn't ony the horse. Either way it's interest. You feed the horse, and perhaps hire a nan to take care of him. That's opertting expenses. You get him shod ocasionally and call in the veterinarian when he is sick. That's renewals and epairs. After a few years, in spite of he best of care, the horse is no longer capable of doing the required work and is sold for $50, a loss of $200 as compared with the original cost. That's lepreciation. If you haven't laid that by year by year out of the horse's sarnings, you've got to borrow it to ony a new horse, and you may not and it easy to do so if you haven't resappens to municipal plants that don't provide an adequate depreciation fund.

Making Peter Pay For Paul.

Whether a public utility be adminstered by the government itself or by private corporation, we hold that very person who uses it should be held to pay the cost of the service which e receives and that no man should be compelled by taxation or otherwise to bear any part of his neighbor's expenses for light and power, for telephone service or for transportation of himself or of his goods.

Every proposal that a municipality assume operation of all public utilities and reduce rates to persons using them, regardless of what the service may actually cost, is an attempt to force some men to bear the expenses of others, because where the outlay for operation exceeds earnings the deficit must be made up by taxation, and this we denounce as socialistic and therefore hostile to justice and subversive of democratic government. - Bourke

Senator Sorghum In Doubt. "Do you think that municipal own-

rship would eliminate graft?" "I am not quite sure." answered Senttor Sorghum, "whether it would elimitate it or simply originate a new kind." -Washington Star.

The Period

given to "change of life." Your menses come at long intervals, and grow scantier until they stop. The change lasts three or four years, and auses much pain and suffering, which can, however, be cured, by

It quickly relieves the pain, nervousness, irritability, miserableness, fainting, dizziness, hot and cold flashes, weakness, tired feeling, etc. Cardui will bring you safely through this "dodging period," and build up your strength for the rest of your Try it.

You can get it at all druggists in

"EVERYTHING BUT DEATH writes Virginia Robson, of East-ntil I took Cardul, which cured ie so quickly it surprised my doctor, who raging and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.

Which of the Two Creeds do You Prefer? CREED OF THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

.. Who hath woe? Who hath sorrow? Who hath contentions? Wlo hath babblings? Who hath wounds without cause? Who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine, those who go to seek mixed

Look thou not upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth its color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder.

"Woe" unto him that giveth'his. neighbor drink, that putteth the bottle to him and maketh him drunken

Woe unto to him that buildeth a town with blood and establisheth a city of iniquity.'

.. Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that continues un til night, till wine inflames them.

CREED OF THE WHOLESALE LIQUOR DEALERS.

At a meeting of the Wholesale supplied by municipal plants. But as Liquor Dealers of the United States, held at Louisville several months ago the following is taken from their

> "We believe that wines and spirits are a blessing per se, intended by an All-Wise Providence to bring health and happiness to mankind.

We believe that their mission is to carry light into dark places, to replace mental and physical weariness with strength and 'aughter; to kind e the fires of brotherly love and lift men out of self and into the realm of tion to broadest charity.

"We believe that the saloon and the cafe can, and should be, so conducted that men would not hesitate to visit them accompanied by their wives and children, and that the atmosphere of such places should be beneficial to both body and mind."

.We think that the saloon should be the workmen's club in the truest sense, and that the efforts of society should be toward developing it into such an institution.

When to go Home

From the Bluffton, Ind, BANNER: "When tired out, go home When you want consolation, go home When you want to show others that you have reformed, go home and let your family get acquainted with the fact When you want fun, go When you want to show yourself at you best go home and do the act there. When you feel like being extra liberal go home and practice or your wife and children first. When you want to shine with extra brillancy go home and light up the whole household." To which we would add when you have a bad cold go home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and a quick cure is certain' For Sale by Woods & Orme, The Leading Drug Store in Western Kentucky

To Cure A Cold in One Day.

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. Drugreists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. Glove's signature is on each box.

News From Kuttawa.

Mr. A. Dewey, the new miller and his wife will reside in this city as soon as a house can be obtained. They come to us highly recommended and on the part of the people of our little city, we welcome them

It was said that the Cumberland river was so much higher than the Ohio at Smithland and the current so strong in the Cumberland that boats could not stem the current and ascend the Cumberland during the late rise in the stream.

The Glenn bottom near the Eddyville depot is under water and about a thousand bushels of corn ungathered nd still on the stalk have been de troved. Herschel Glenn cultivated most of the bottom and his loss is very heavy.

Mr. Edgar James, manager of the new milling firm and his family will reside in this city in the near future. Mr. James has charge of the flouring mill lately purchased of Mr. Boughter and contemplates making improvements and additions to the plant. We will be glad to have him and his family as citizens. Our doors are open to Mr. and Mrs. James and the little Jameses. -- Lyon County Times.

Deadly Serpent Bites

a sure remedy: Electric Bitters; the great storative medicine, of which S A Brown, of Be nettsville, S C, says: "They restored my wife to "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is perfect health, after years of Suffering with dy spepsia and a chronically torpid liver." Electric Bitters cure chills and fever, malaria, biliousnes lame back, kidney troubles and bladder disorders Sold on guarantee by Woods & Orme, druggist

The Auto-Speed Maniac.

He scorched upon the highway, He scorched upon the street; He scorched away from rivals,

He scorched his friends to meet He scorched in pleasant weather. He scorched when it was hot.

He scorched when races asked it, He scorched when they did not. At last, his neck he broke it,

When scorching on a bet; And for all that you and I know. He may be scorching yet.

Death From Lockjaw

Arnica Ralve. It's antiseptic and healing prope chant of Rensselaersville, N Y, writes: "It cured Seth Burns, of this place, of the ugliest sore on s neck Lever saw." Cures Cuts Wounds Par

THINK MIGHT--TO BE RIGHT

0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0,0

A MENTAL MOSAIC.

When thoughts are born, Though they be good and humble.

one should mind How they are reared, or some will go astray

And shame their mother, JEAN IN-Those who think must govern those here. Thinking is the talking of the soul with itself. again slumber.

Great thoughts, like great deeds, ! need no trumpet. There is nothing either good or bad, but thinking makes it so. ies prevent blood poisoning. Chas Oswald, mer- The revelation of thought takes men out of servitude into freedom.

nature, but he is a thinking reed.

Have You

A Cold Room?

proper heating facilities—to say nothing of chilly hallways. Even though the heat of your stoves or furnace should be inadequate to warm the whole house there need not be one cold spot if you have a

PERFECTION

Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

It will heat a room in no time and will keep it warm and cozy. Operated as easily as a lamp and perfectly safe. Wick cannot be turned too high or too low. Gives no smoke or smell because fitted with unique smokeless device. Can be carried about, which cannot be done with an ordinary stove. The Perfection Oil Heater is superior to all other oil heaters and is an ornament to any home. Made in two finishes—nickel and japan. Brass oil fount beautifully embossed. Holds four quarts of oil and burns nine hours. Every heater warranted. If not at your dealer's write nearest agency for descriptive circular.

THE Rayo Lamp is the safest and best all-round household lamp. Made of brass throughout and nickel-plated. Equipped with latest improved burner. Every lamp warranted. An ornament to any room whether library, dining-room, parlor or bedroom. Write to nearest agency if not at your dealer's.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY, Incorporated.

The mind conquers everything: it gives even strength to the body.

Thought can never be compared with action but when it awakens in us the image of truth.

The mind can weave itself warmly in the cocoon of its own thoughts, and dwell a hermit anywhere.

Our thoughts are the epochs in our lives; all else is but as a journal of the winds that blew while we were

Thoughts may be classified as friends and enemies. Charitable, inspiring. uplifting thoughts are our friends, Thought, one awakened, does not and discordant, malicious, life-destroying thoughts are our enemies.

Brooding over the evil that you have done will never correct that evil. Rather will it make possible a repetition of the thing dwelt on. Set your mind the other way. Think honest, pure, kind, courageous thoughts all the time, and your mind Man is but a reed, the weakest in will have no time for their opposites

O every person who will pay one year's subscription, $1.00, to this paper, THE CRITTENDEN PRESS, in advance, we will give absolutely free a full year's subscrip-

FARM AND FIRESIDE

The only condition is that you must accept this offer within thirty days from date, as the publishers of Farm and Fireside limit us to that time.

FARM AND FIRESIDE IS Amercia's greatest twice-a-month Farm and Family Journal, 24 to 36 pages every issue, with nearly two million readers throughout the United States. Something in it for every member of the family, and all the farm and rural topics are ably discussed. Send Your Order To-day

Address it to

The Crittenden Press Marion, Kentucky.

ROOSEVELT'S ANNUAL MESSAGE TO CONGRESS

President Deals with Some New and Important Subjects and He Also Recommends Much Legislation

ASKS FOR INCOME AND INHERITANCE TAX

Believes Such Legislation Is Constitutional and That It Would Curb the Growth of Fortunes to Dangerous Proportions-Asks for Legi lation That Will Enable Government to Appeal Criminal Cases in Prosecutions of the Trusts-Would Minimize Injunctions in Labor Troubles-His Views on the Negro Question-Promises a Special Message on Panama Canal-Cuban Intervention, Currency Reform and Many Other Subjects Reviewed.

Washington, Dec. 3.-The following is the full text of President Roosevelt's message to the second session of the Pifty-ninth congress:

To the Senate and House of Representatives: As a nation we still continue to enjoy a literally unprecedented prosper-My; and it is probable that only reckless peculation and disregard of legitimate business world can materially mar this

No congress in our time has done more geed work of importance than the prescongress. There were several matwever, which I most earnestly hope will complete before your adjourn-again recommend a law prohibiting corporations from contributing to the eampaign expenses of any party. Such bill has already past one house of concress. Let individuals contribute as they desire; but let us prohibit in effective fashion all corporations from making stributions for any political purpose, contributions for any political purpose, directly or indirectly.

Another bill which has just past one house of the congress and which is urgestly necessary should be enacted into lay is that conferring upon the government the right of appeal in criminal cases on questions of law. This right axists in many of the states; it exists in the District of Columbia by act of the congress. It is of course not proposed that in any case a verdict for the defendant on the merits should be set and e. Recently in one district where the government had indicted certain persons for conspiracy in connection with the government had indicted certain persons for conspiracy in connection with relates, the court sustained the defendants demurrer; while in another jurisdiction an indictment for conspiracy to obtain rebates has been sustained by the court, convictions obtained under it, and two defendants sentenced to imprisonment. The two cases referred to may not be in real conflict with each other. But it is unfortunate that there should even be an apparent conflict. At present there is no way by which the government can cause such a conflict, when it occurs, to be solved by an appeal to a higher court; and the wheels of justice are blocked without any real decision of the question. I can not too strongly arge the passage of the bill in question. A failure to pass will result in seriously hampering the government in its effort to obtain justice, especially against wealthy individuals or corporations who do wrong; and may also prevent the government from obtaining justice for wageworkers who are not themselves able effectively to contest a case where the judgment of an inferior court has been against them. I have specifically in view a recent decision by a district judge leaving railway employees within view a recent decision by a district judge leaving railway employees without remedy for violation of a certain so-called labor statute. It seems an absurdity to permit a single district judge, against what may be the judgment of the immense majority of his colleagues on the bench, to declare a law solemnly enacted by the congress to be "unconstitutional," and then to deny to the government the right to have the supreme court definitely decide the question.

President Roosevelt.

Crimiani Prosecutions.

Criminal Prosecutions.

It is well to recollect that the real efficiency of the law often depends not upon the passage of acts as to which there is great public excitement, but upon the passage of acts of this nature as to which there is not much public excitement, because there is little public understanding of their importance, while the interested parties are keenly alive to the desirability of defeating them. The importance of enacting into law the particular bill in question is further increased by the fact that the government has now definitely begun a policy of resorting to the criminal law in those trust and interstate commerce cases where such a course offers a reasonable chance of success. At first, as was proper, every effort was made to enforce these laws by civil proceedings; but it has become increasingly evident that the action of the government in finally deciding, in certain cases, to undertake criminal proceedings was justifiable; and tho there have been some eonspicuous failures in these cases, we have had many successes, which have had penalties of both kinds have already been inflicted by the courts. Of course, where the judge can see his way to inflict the penalty of imprisonment—and penalties of both kinds have already been inflicted by the courts. Of course, where the judge can see his way to inflict the penalty of imprisonment the deterrent effect of the punishment on other offenders is increased; but sufficiently heavy fines accomplish much. Judge Holt, of the New York district court, in a recent decision admirably stated the need for treating with finst severity offenders of this kind. His opinion runs in part as follows:

"The government's evidence to establish the defendant's guilt was clear, conclusive and undisputed. The case was a flagrant one. The transactions which took place under this illegal contract were very large; the amounts of rebates returned were Criminal Prosecutions.

that basis—that is, if this discrimination in favor of this particular shipper was made with an 18 instead of a 23 cent rate and the tariff rate was maintained as against their competitors—the result might be and not improbably would be that their competitors would be driven out of business. This crime is one which in its nature is deliberate and premeditated. I think over a fortnight elapsed between the date of Palmer's letter requesting the reduced rate and the answer of the railroad company deciding to grant it, and then for months after—wards this business was carried on and these claims for rebates submitted month after month and checks in payment of them drawn month after month. Such a violation of the law, in my opinion, in its essential nature, is a very much more heinous act than the ordinary common, vulgar crimes which come before criminal courts constantly for punishment and which arise from sudden passion or temptation. This crime in this case was committed by men of education and of large business experience, whose business standing in the community was such that they might have been expected to set an example of obedience to law, upon the maintenance of which alone in this country the security of their property depends. It was committed on behalf of a great railroad corporations, has received gratuitously from the state large and valuable privileges for the public's convenience and its own, which performs quasi public functions and which is charged with the highest obligation in the transaction of its business to treat the citizens of this country alika, and not to carry on its business with usuat discriminations between different editions or different classes of citizens. This crime in its nature is one usually done with secrecy, and proof of which it is very difficult to obtain. The interstate commerce act was passed in ASI, nearly 20 years ago. Ever since that time complaints of the granting of rebates by railroads has been common, urgent. Insistent, and altho the court to fix a penalty which s been convicted, be fined the sum of $1,000, making six fines, amounting in all to the sum of $6,000; and the defendant, The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad company, for each of the six crimes of which it has been convicted, be fined the sum of $18,000, making six fines amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $108,000, and judgment to that effect will be entered in this case."

Evasion by Technicalities.

Evasion by Technicalities.

In connection with this matter, I would like to call attention to the very unsatisfactory state of our criminal law, resulting in large part from the hab't of setting aside the judgments of inferior courts on technicalities absolutely unconnected with the merits of the case, and where there is no attempt to show that there has been any failure of substantial justice. It would be well to enact a law providing something to the effect that:

No judgment shall be set aside or new effect that:

No judgment shall be set aside or new trial granted in any cause, civil or criminal, on the ground of misdirection of the jury or the improper admission or rejection of evidence, or for error as to any matter of pleading or procedure unless, in the opinion of the court to which the application is made, after an examination of the entire cause, it shall affirmatively appear that the error complained on has resulted in a miscarriage of justice.

Injunctions.

In my last message I suggested the enactment of a law in connection with the issuance of injunctions, attention having been sharply drawn to the matter by the demand that the right of applying injunctions in labor cases should be wholly abolished. It is at least doubtful whether a law abolishing altogether the use of injunctions in such cases would stand the test of the courts; in which case of course the legislation would be ineffective. Moreover, I believe it would be wrong altogether to prohibit the use of injunctions. It is criminal to permit sympathy with criminals to weaken our hands in upholding the law; and if man seek to destroy life or property by mob violence there should be no impairment of the power of the courts to deal with them in the most summary and effective way possible. But so far as possible the abuse of the power should be provided against by some such law as I advocated last year.

In this matter of injunctions there is lodged in the hands of the judiciary a necessary power which is nevertheless last year.

In this matter of injunctions there is lodged in the hands of the judiciary a necessary power which is nevertheless subject to the possibility of grave abuse. It is a power that should be exercised with extreme care and should be subject to the jealous scrutiny of all men, and condemnation should be meted out as much to the judge who fails to use it boldly when necessary as to the judge who uses it wantonly or oppressively. as much to the judge who fails to use it boldly when necessary as to the judge who uses it wantonly or oppressively. Of course, a judge strong enough to be fit for his office will enjoin any resort to violence or intimidation, especially by conspiracy, no matter what his opinion may be of the rights of the original quarrel. There must be no hesitation in dealing with disorder. But there must likewise be no such abuse of the injunctive power as is implied in forbidding laboring men to strive for their own betterment in peaceful and lawful way; nor must the injunction be used merely to aid some big corporation in carrying out schemes for its own aggrandizement. It must be remembered that a preliminary injunction in a labor case, if granted without adequate proof (even when authority can be found to support the conclusions of law on which it is founded), may often settle the dispute between the parties; and therefore if improperly granted may do irreparable wrong. Yet there are many judges who assume a matter-of-fact course granting of a preliminary injunction to be the ordinary and proper judicial disposition of such cases; and there have undoubtedly been flagrant wrongs committed by judges in connection with labor disputes even within the last few years, altho I think much less often than in former years. Such judges by their unwise action immensely strengthen the hands of those who are striving entirely to do away with the power of injunction; and therefore such careless use of the injunctive process tends to threaten its very existence, for if the American people ever become convinced that this process is habitually abused, whether in matters affecting corporations, it will be well-nigh impossible to prevent its abolition.

Criticism of the Judiciary.

Criticism of the Judiciary.

Criticism of the Judiciary.

It may be the highest duty of a judge at any given moment to disregard, not merely the wishes of individuals of great political or financial power, but the overwhelming tide of public sentiment, and the judge who does thus disregard public sentiment when it is wrong, who brushes aside the plea of any special interest when the pleading is not founded on righteousness, performs the highest service to the country. Such a judge is deserving of all honor; and all honor cannot be paid to this wise and fearless judge if we permit the growth of an absurd convention which would forbid any criticism of the judge of another type, who shows himself timid in the presence of arrogant disorder, or who in his capacity as a construer, and therefore in part a maker of the law, in flagrant fashion thwarts the cause of decent government. The judge has a power over which no review can be exercised; he himself sits in review upon the acts of both the executive and legislative branches of the government; save in the most extraordinary cases he is amenable only at the bar of public opinion; and it is unwise to maintain that public opinion in reference to a man with such power shall neither be exprest nor led.

The best judges have ever been fore-ed, best judges have ever been fore-with such power shall neither be exprest nor led.

The best judges have ever been foremost to disclaim any immunity from criticism. This has been true since the days of the great English Lord Chancellor Parker, who said. "Let all people be at liberty to know what i found my judgment upon; that, so when I have given it in any cause, others may be at liberty to judge of me." The proprieties of the case were set forth with singular clearness and good temper by Judge W. H. Taft, when a United States circuit judge, Il years ago, in 1895.

"The opportunity freely and publicly to criticize judicial action is of vastly more importance to the body politic than the immunity of courts and judges from unjust aspersions and antack. Nothing tends more to render judges careful in their decisions and annously solicitous to do exact justice than the consciousness that every act of theirs is to be subjected to the intelligent scrutiny and candid criticism of their fellow-men. Such criticism is beneficial in proportion as it is fair, dispassionate, discriminating and based on a knowledge of sound legal principles. The comments made by learned text writers and by the acute editors of the various law reviews upon judicial decisions are therefore highly useful. Such critics constitute more or less impartial tribunals of professional opinion before which each judgment is made to stand or fall on its merits, and thus exert a strong influence to secure uniformity of decision. But non-professional criticism also is by no means without its uses, even if accompanied, as it often is, by a direct attack upon the judicial fairness and motives of the occupants of the bench; for if the law is but the essence of common sense, the protest of many average men may evidence a defect in a judicial conclusion, tho based on the nicest legal reasoning and profoundest learning. The two important elements of moral character in a judge are an earnest desire to reach a just conclusion and courage to enforce it. Insofar as fear of public comment does not af are an earnest desire to reach a just conclusion and courage to enforce it. Insofar as fear of public comment does not affect the courage of a judge, but only spurs him on to search his consicence and to reach the result which approves itself to his inmost heart, such comment serves a useful purpose. There are few men, whether they are judges for life or for a shorter term, who do not prefer earn and hold the respect of all, and who cannot be reached and made to pause and deliberate by hostile public criticism. In the case of judges having a life tenure indeed, their very independence maken the right freely to comment on their decisions of greater importance, because it is the only practical and available instrument in the hands of a free people to keep such judges alive to the reasonable demands of those they serve.

"On the other hand, the danger of destroying the proper influence of judicial decisions by creating unfounded prejudices against the courts justifies and requires that unjust attacks shall be met and answered. Courts must ultimately quires that unjust attacks shall be met and answered. Courts must ultimately rest their defense upon the inherent strength of the opinions they deliver as tne ground for their conclusions and must trust to the calm and deliberate judgment of all the people as their best vindication."

Sound Judgment of the People

There is one consideration which should be taken into account by the good people who carry a sound proposition to an excess in objecting to any criticism of a judge's decision. The instinct of the American people as a whole is sound in this matter. They will not subscribe to the doctrine that any public servant is to be above criticism. If the best citizens, those most competent to express their judgment in such matters, and above all those belonging to the great and honorable profession of the bar, so profoundly influential in American life, take the position that there shall be no criticism of a jedge under any circumstances, their view will not be accepted by the American people as a whole. In such event the people will turn to, and tend to accept as justifiable, the intemperate and improper criticism turn to, and tend to accept as justifiable, the intemperate and improper criticism uttered by unworthy agitators. Surely, it is a misfortune to leave to such critics a function, right in itself, which they are certain to abuse. Just and temperate criticism, when necessary, is a safeguard against the acceptance by the people as a whole of that intemperate antagonism towards the judiciary which must be combated by every right-thinking man, and which, if it become widespread among the people at large, would constiamong the people at large, would consti-tute a dire menace to the republic.

THE NEGRO PROBLEM. President Says Mob Law Is a Menace to the Country.

to the Country.

In connection with the delays of the law, I call your attention and the attention of the nation to the prevalence of crime among us, and above all to the epidemic of lynching and mob violence that springs up, now in one part of our country, how in another. Each section, north, south, east or west, has its own faults; no section can with wisdom spend its time jeering at the faults of another section; it should be busy trying to amend its own shortcomings. To deal with the crime of corruption it is necessary to have an awakened public conscience, and to supplement this by whatever legislation will add speed and certainty in the execution of the law. When we deal with lynching even more is necessary. A great many white men are lynched, but the crime is peculiarly frequent in respect to black men. The greatest existing cause of lynching is the perpetration, especially by black men, of the hideous crime of rape—the most abominable in all the category of crimes, even worse than murder. Mobs frequently avenge the commission of this crime by themselves torturing to death the man committing it; thus avenging in bestial fashion a bestial deed, and reducing themselves to a level with the criminal.

Lawlessness grows by what it feeds

man committing it; thus avenging in bestial fashion a bestial deed, and reducing themselves to a level with the criminal.

Lawlessness grows by what it feeds upon; and when mobs begin to lynch for rape they speedily extend the sphere of their operations and lynch for many other kinds of crimes, so that two-thirds of the lynchings are not for rape at all; while a considerance of all crime. Gov. Candler, of Georgia, stated on one occasion some years ago: "I can say of a verity that I have, within the last month, saved the lives of half a dozen innocent negroes who were pursued by the mob, and brought them to trial in a court of law in which they were acquitted." As Bishop Galloway, of Mississippi, has finely said: "When the rule of a mob obtains, that which distinguishes a high civilization is surrendered. The mob which lynches a negro charged with rape will in a little while lynch a white man suspected of crime. Every Christian patriot is America needs to lift up his voice in loud and cternal protest against the mob spirit that is threatening the integrity of this republic." Gov. Jelks, of Alabama, has recently spoken as follows: "The lynching of any person for whatever crime is inexcusable anywhere—lit is a defiance of orderly government; but the kilhing of innocent people under any provocation is infinitely more horrible; and yet innocent people are likely to die when a mob's terrible lust is once aroused. The lesson is this: No good citizen can afford to countenance a defiance of the statutes, no matter what the provocation. The innocent frequently suffer, and, it is my observation, more usually suffer than the guilty. The white people of the south indict the whole colored race on the ground that even the better elements lend no assistance whatever in ferreting out criminals of their own color. The respectable colored people must learn not to harbor their criminals, but to assist the officers in bringing them to justice. This is the larger crime, and it provokes such atrocious offenses as the one at Atlanta. The two races can never get on until there is an understanding on the part of both to make common cause with the law-abiding criminals of any color."

Danger of Kace Hatred.

Moreover, where any crime committed by a member of one race against a member of another race is avenged in such fashion that it seems as if not the individual criminal, but the whole in such fashion that it seems as if not the individual criminal, but the whole race, is attacked, the result is to exasperate to the highest degree race feeling. There is but one safe rule in dealing with black men as with white men; it is the same rule that must be applied in dealing with rich men and poor men; that is, to treat each man, whatever his color, his creed, or his social position, with even-handed justice on his real worth as a man. White people owe it quite as much to themselves as to the colored race to treat well the colored man who shows by his life that he deserves such treatment; for it is surely the highest wisdom to encourage in the colored race all those individuals who are honest, industrious, law-abiding, and who therefore make good and safe neighbors and citizens. Reward or punish the individual on his merits as an individual. Evil will surely come in the end to both races if we substitute for this just rule the habit of treating all the members of the race, good and bad, alike. There is no question of "social equality or "negro domination" involved; only the question of relentlessly punishing bad men, and of securing to the good man the right to this life, his liberty, and the pursuit curing to the good man the right to his life, his liberty, and the pursuit of his happiness as his own qualities of heart, head and hand enable him to achieve it of heart, head and hand enable him to achieve it.

Every colored man should realize that the worst enemy of his race is the negro criminal, and above all the negro criminal who commits the dreadful crime of rape; and it should be felt as in the highest degree an offense against the whole country, and against the colored race in particular, for a colored man to fail to help the officers of the law in hunting down with all possible earnestness and zeal every such infamous offender. Moreover, in my judgment, the crime of rape should always be punished with death, as is the case with murder; assault with intent to commit rape should be made a capital crime, at least in the discretion of the court; and provision should be made by which the punishment may follow immediately upon the heels of the offense; while the trial should be so conducted that the victim need not be wantonly shamed while giving testimony, and that the least possible publicity shall be given to the details. The members of the white race on the other hand should understand that every lynching represents by just so much a loosening of the bands of civthe other hand should understand that every lynching represents by just so much a loosening of the bands of civilization; that the spirit of lynching inevitably throws into prominence in the community all the foul and evil creatures who dwell therein. No man can take part in the torture of a human being without having his own moral nature permanently lowered. Every lynching means just so much moral deterioration in all the children who have any knowledge of it, and therefore just so much additional trouble for the next generation of Americans. Americans.

Let justice be both sure and swift; but let it be justice under the law, and not the wild and crooked savagery of a mob.

Need for Negro Education.

Need for Negro Education.

There is another matter which has a direct bearing upon this matter of lynching and of the brutal crime which sometimes calls it forth and at other times merely furnishes the excuse for its existence. It is out of the question for our people as a whole permanently to rise by treading down any of their own number. Even those who themselves for the moment profit by such maltreatment of their fellows will in the long run also suffer. No more shortsighted policy can be imagined than, in the fancied interest of one class, to prevent the education of anmaltreatment of their fellows will in the long run also suffer. No more shortsighted policy can be imagined than, in the fancied interest of one class, to prevent the education of another class. The free public school, the chance for each boy or girl to get a good elementary education, lies at the foundation of our whole political situation. In every community the poorest citizens, those who need the schools most, would be deprived of them if they only received school facilities proportionately to the taxes they paid. This is as true of one portion of our country as of another. It is as true for the negro as for the white man. The white man, if he is wise, will decline to allow the negroes in a mass to grow to manhood and womanhood without education. Unquestionably education such as is obtained in our public schools does not do everything towards making a man a good citizen; but it does much. The lowest and most brutal criminals, those for instance who commit the crime of rape, are in the great majority men who have had either no education or very litle; just as they are almost invariably men who own no property; for the man who puts money by out of his earnings, like the man who acquires education as is conferred in schools like Hampton and Tuskegee; where the boys and girls, the young men and young women, are trained industrially as well as in the ordinary public school branches. The graduates of these schools turn out well in the great majority of cases, and hardly any of them become criminals, while what little criminality there is never takes the form of that brutal violence which invites lynch law. Every graduate of these schools—and for the matter of these schools has been to their colored pupils and to the colored people

Exciting Mob Vengeance.

Be it remembered, further, that the individuals who, whether from folly, from evil temper, from greed for office, or in a spirit of mere base demagogy, indulge in the inflammatory and incendiary speeches and writings which tend to arouse mobs and to bring about lynching, not only thus excite the mob, but also tend by what criminologists call "suggestion," greatly to increase the likelihood of a repetition of the very crime against which they are invelghing. When the mob is composed of the people of one race and the man lynched is of another race, the men who in their speeches and writings either excite or justify the action tend, of course, to excite a bitter race feeling and to cause the people of the opposite race to lose sight of the abominable act of the criminal himself; and in addition, by the prominence they give to the histour deed they undoubtedly tend to excite in other brutat and deprayed netures thoughts of committing it. Swift, relentless and orderly punishment under the law is the enly way by which criminality of this type can permanently be sup-

CAPITAL AND LABOR.

Severely Condemned.

In dealing with both labor and capital, with the questions affecting both corporations and trade unions, there is one matter more important.

is one matter more important to remember than aught else, and that is the infinite harm done by preachers of mere discontent. These are the men who seek to excite a violent class hatred against all men of wealth. They seek to turn wise and proper movements for the better control of corporations and for doing away with the abuses connected with wealth, into a campaign of hysterical excitement and falsehood in which the aim is to inflame to madness the brutal passions of mankind. The sinister demagogs and foolish visionaries who are always eager to undertake such a campaign of destruction sometimes seek to associate themselves with those working for a genuine reform in governmental and social methods, and sometimes masquerade as such reformers. In reality they are the worst enemies of the cause they profess to advocate, just as the purveyors of sensational slander in newspaper and magazine are the worst enemies of all men who are engaged in an honest effort to better what is bad in our social and governmental conditions. To preach hatred of the rich man as such, to carry on a campaign of slander and invective agains him, to seek to mislead and inflame to madness honest men whose lives are hard and who have not the kind of mental training which will permit them to appreciate the danager in the doctrines preached—ail this is to commit a crime against the body principle and tradition of American national life. Moreover, while such preaching and such agitation may give a livelihood and a certain notoricty to some of those who take part in it, and may result in temporary political success of others, in the long run every such movement will either fail or else will provoke a violent reaction, which will itself result not merely in undoing the mischief wealth by the demagog and the agitator bear full sway, because income loosened, and hysteria and sensationalism replace the spirit of sound the horest in buffer of none for success for our people lies in such committee and to an already huge forture, seeks to exploit his profit; and when hatred is sown the crop which springs up can only be evil.

Duty of the People.

Duty of the People.

The plain people who think—the mechanics, farmers, merchants, works of the control of the provided by the vives and children of emerchanics, farmers, merchants, works of the control of the country and try to act decently by their neighbors, owe it to themselves to remember that the most damaging blow that can be given popular government is to cleet an unworthy and sinister agitator on a platform of violence and hypocrisy. While country nothing can be gained by flinching from it for in such case democracy is itself on trial, popular self-government under republican forms is itself on trial. The triumph of the mob is just as evil a thing as the triumph of the plutocracy, and to have escaped one danger awaits nothing the notion poor, who earns his own living and tries to deal justly by his fellows, has as much to fear from the insincer and unworthy demagor, promising much and perforning nothing, or else performing nothing out evil, who would set on the moit to plunder the common people to be exploited by the very wealthy. If we ever let this government fall into the hands of men of either of these two classes, we shall show ourselves false to America's past. Moreover, the demagog and corruptionist often work hand in hand. There are so the public burdens, as being even more objectionable than the violent agitator who browse cutes them when they violate the law, or who seeks to make them bear their proper share of the public burdens, as being even more objectionable than the violent agitator, indianing the public servant who prosecutes them when they violate the law, or who seeks to make them bear their proper share of the public burdens, as being even more objectionable than the violent agitator, indianing the public servant who prosecutes them when they violate the law, or who seeks to make them bear their proper share of the public burdens, as being even more objectionable than the violent agitator, indianing the pub the aim is fearlessly to do exact and even justice to all.

Railroad Employees' Hours.

I call your attention to the need of passing the bill limiting the number of hours of employment of railroad employees. The measure is a very moderate one and I can conceive of no serious objection to it. Indeed, so far as it is in our power, it should be our aim steadily to reduce the number of hours of labor, with as a goal the general introduction of an eight-hour day. There are industries in which it is not possible that the hours of labor should be reduced; just as there are communities not far enough advanced for such a movement to be for their good, or, if in the tropics, so situated that here is no analogy between their needs and ours in this matter. On the isthmus of Panama, for instance, the conditions are in every way so different from what they are here that an eight-hour day would be absurd; so far as the isthmus is concerned, where white labor cannot be employed, to bother as to whether the necessary work is done by alien black men or by alien yellow men. But the wageworkers of the United States are of so high a grade that alike from the merely industrial standpoint and from the civic standpoint it should be our object to do what we can in the direction of securing the general observance of an eighthour day. Until recently the eighthour day is no our federal statute books has been very scantily observed. Now, however, largely thru the instrumentality of the bureau of labor, it is being rigidly enforced, and I shall speedily be able to say whether or not there is need of further legislation in reference thereto; for our purpose is to see it obeyed in spirit no less than in letter. Half holidays during summer employees; it is as desirable for wageworkers who toil with their hands as for salaried officials whose labor is mental that there should be a reasonable amount of holiday.

Labor of Women and Childrem. Railroad Employees' Hours.

Labor of Women and Children. Labor of Women and Children.

The congress at its last session wisely provided for a truant court for the District of Columbia; a marked step in advance on the path of properly caring for the children. Let me again urge that the congress provide for a thoro investigation of the conditions of child labor and of the labor of women in the United States. More and more our people are growing to recognize the fact that the questions which are not merely of idustrial but of social importance outweigh all others; and these two questions most emphatically come in the composition of those which affect in the tifar-reaching way the home life of the nation. The horrors incident to the employment of young children in factories or at work anywhere are a blot on our civilization. It is true that each state must will mately settle the question in its own way; but a thoro official investigation of the matter, with the results published broadcast, would greatly help toward arousing the public conscience and securing unity of state action in the matter. There is, however, one law on the subject which should be enacted immediately, because there is no need for an investigation in reference thereto, and the failure to enact it is discreditable to the national government. A draste and thorogoing child-labor law should be enacted for the District of Columbia and the territories.

Employers' Liability.

Employers' Liability.

Employers' Liability.

Among the excellent laws which the congress past at the last session was a employers' liability law. It was a marked step in advance to get the recognition of employers' liability on the statute books; but the law did not go far enough. In spite of all precautions exercised by employers there are unavoidable accidents and even deaths involved in nearly every line of business connected with the mechanic arts. This inevitable sacrifice of life may be reduced to a minimum, but it cannot be completely eliminated. It is a great social injustice to compel the employee, or rather the family of the killed or disabled victim, to bear the entire burden of an inevitable sacrifice. In other words, society shirks is duty by laying the whole cost on the victim, whereas the injury comes from what may be called the legitimate risks of trade. Compensation for accidents or deaths due in any line of industry to the actual conditions under which that industry is carried on should be paid by that porcompensation for accidents or deaths due in any line of industry to the actual conditions under which that industry is carried on, should be paid by that portion of the community for the benefit of which the industry is carried on—that is, by those who profit by the industry. If the entire trade risk is placed upon the employer he will promptly and properly add it to the legitimate cost of production and assess it proportionately upon the consumers of his commodity. It is therefore clear to my mind that the law should place this, entire "risk of a trade" upon the employer. Neither the federal law, nor, as far as I am informed, the state laws dealing with the question of employers' liability are sufficiently thorogoing. The federal law should of course include employees in navy-yards, arsenals, and the like.

Investigation of Disputes.

Investigation of Disputes.

the like.

Investigation of Disputes.

The commission appointed by the president October 16, 1902, at the request of both the anthracite coal operators and miners to inquire into, consider, and pass upon the question in controversy in connection with the strike in the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania and the causes out of which the controversy arose, in their report, findings, and award exprest the belief "that the state and federal governments should provide the machinery for what may be called the compulsory investigation of controversies between employers and employees when they arise." This expression of belief is deserving of the favorable consideration of the congress and the enactment of its provisions into law. A bill has already been introduced to this end.

Records show that during the gear from January 1, 1881, to December 31, 1900, there were strikes affecting 117,509 establishments, and 6,105,694 employees were thrown out of employment. During the same period there were 1,000 establishments, throwing over 1,000,000 people out of employment. These strikes and lockouts involving nearly 16,000 establishments, throwing over 1,000,000. The public suffered directly and indirectly probably as great additional loss. But the money loss, great as it was, did not measure the anguish and suffering endured by the wives and children of employees whose pay stopt when their work stopt, or the disastrous effect of the strike or lockout upon the business of employers, or the increase in the cost of products and the inconvenience and loss to the public.

Many of these strikes and lockouts would not have occurred had the parties to the dispute been required to appear before an unprejudiced body representing the nation and, face to face, state the reasons for their contention. In most instances the dispute would doubtless be found to be due to a misunderstanding by each of the other's rights, aggravated by an unwillingness of either party to accept as true the statements of the other as to the justice or hjustice of Withdrawal of Coal Lands.

It is not wise that the nation should alienate its remaining coal lands. I have temporarily withdrawn from settlement all the lands which the geological survey has indicated as containing, or in all probability containing, coal. The question, however, can be properly settled only by legislation, which in my judgment should provide for the withdrawal of these lands from sale or from entry, save in certain especial circumstances. The ownership would then remain in the United States, which should not, however, attempt to work them, but permit them to be worked by private individuals under a royalty system, the government keeping such control as to permit it to see that no excessive price was charged consumers, it would of course be as necessary to supervise the rates charged by the common carriers to transport the product as the rates charged by those who mine it; and the supervision must extend to the conduct of the common carriers, so that they shall in no way favor one competitor at the expense of another. The withdrawal of these coal lands would constitute a policy analagous to that which has been followed in withdrawing the foriest lands from ordinary settlement. The coal, like the forests, should be treated as the property of the public and its disposal should be under conditions which would inure to the benefit of the public as a whole.

CONTROL OF CORPORATIONS.

Recommends Some Minor Changes to Laws Recently Enacted.

Laws Recently Euncted.

The present congress has taken long strides in the direction of securing proper superivision and control by the national government over corporations engaged in interstate business—and the enormous majority of corporations of any size are engaged in interstate business. The passage of the raflway rate bill and only to a less degree the passage of the pure food bill, and the provision for increasing and rendering more effective national control over the beefpacking industry, mark an important advance in the proper direction. In the short session it will perhaps be difficult to do much further along this line; and it may be best to wait until the laws have been in operation for a number of months before endeavoring to increastheir scope, because only operation will show with exactness their merits and their shortcomlings and thus give oppertunity to define what further remediately states of the label and for charging that on the label and for charging the content of the label and for charging the label and for charging the content of the label and for charging the label and for charging the label and the label laws have broady justified their mactment. The interstate commerce we, for instance, has rather amusingly listified the prediction, both of those who asserted that it would ruin the railroads and of those who asserted that it did not far enough and would accomplish bothing. During the last five months the maliroads have shown increased earnings and some of them unusual dividends; while during the same period the mere taking effect of the law has produced an unprecedented, a hitherto unheard of, number of voluntary reductions in freights and fares by the railroads Since the founding of the commission there has never been a time of equal length in which anything like so many reduced tariffs have been put into effect. On August 27, for instance, two days before the new law went into effect, the commission received notices of over 5,000 separate tariffs which represented reductions from previous rates.

It must not be supposed, however, that with the passage of these laws it will be possible to stop progress along the line of increasing the power of the national government over the use of capital in interstate commerce. For example, there will ultimately be need of enlarging the powers of the interstate commerce commission along several different lines, so as to give it a larger and more efficient control over the railroads.

Need of Federal Legislation.

mission along several different lines, so as to give it a larger and more efficient control over the railroads.

Need of Federal Legislation.

It cannot too often be repeated that experience has conclusively shown the impossibility of securing by the actions of nearly half a hundred different state legislatures anything but ineffective chaos in the way of dealing with the great corporations which do not operate exclusively within the limits of any one state. In some method, whether by a national license law or in other fashion, we must exercise, and that at an early date, a far more complete control than at present over these great corporations, and that will compel the disclosures by each big corporation of its stockholders and of its properties and business, whether owned directly or thru subsidiary or affiliated corporations. This will tend to put a stop to the securing of inordinate profits by favored individuals at the expense whether of the general public, the stockholders, or the wageworkers. Our effort should be not so much to prevent consolidation as such, but so to supervise and control it as to see that it results in no harm to the people. The reactionary or ultraconservative applogists for the misuse of wealth assail the effort to secure such control as a step toward socialism. As a matter of fact it is these reactionaries and ultraconservatives who are themselves most potent in increasing socialismic feeling. One of the most efficient methods of averting the consequences of a dangerous agitation, which is so percent, wrong, is to remedy the 20 per cent, of evil as to which the agitation is well founded. The best way to avert the very undestrable move for the governmental ownership of railways is to secure by the government on behalf of the people as a whole such adequate control and regulation of the great interstate composition with the business use of wealth under our present system—or rather no system of railways is to secure by individual charett and foresight which five allowed to the deadenin competition and reduces former competitors to a position of utter inferiority and subordination.

In enacting and enforcing such legislation as this congress already has to its credit, we are working on a coherent plan, with the steady endeavor to secure the needed reform by the joint action of the moderate men, the plain men who not wish anything hysterical or dangerous, but who do intend to deal in resolute commonsense fashion with the real and great evils of the present system. The reactionaries and the violent extremists show symptoms of joining hands against us. Both assert, for instance, that if logical, we should go to government ownership of railroads and the like; the reactionaries, because on such an issue they think the people would stand with them, while the extremists care rather to preach discontent and agitation than to achieve solid results. As a matter of fact, our position is as remote from that of the bourbon reactionary as from that of the bourbon reactionary as from that of the burbon reactionary as from that of the burbon such as the government should not conduct the business of the nation, but that it chould exercise such supervision as will maure its being conducted in the interest of the nation. Our aim is, so far as may be, to secure, for all decent, hardworking men, equality of opportunity and equality of burden.

Combinations Are Necessary.

The actual working of our laws has shown that the effort to prohibit all combination, good or bad, is noxious where it is not ineffective. Combination of capital like combination of labor is a necessary element of our present industrial system. It is not possible completely to prevent it; and if it were possible, such complete prevention would do damage to the body politic. What we need is not vainly to prevent all combination, but to secure such rigorous and adequate control and supervision of the combinations as to prevent their injuring the public, or existing in such form as inevitably to threaten injury-for the mere fact that a combination has secured. Combinations Are Necessary. control and supervision of the combinations as to prevent their injuring the public, or existing in such form as inevitably to threaten injury—for the mere fact that a combination has secured practically complete control of a necessary of life would under any circumstances show that such combination was to be presumed to be adverse to the public interest. It is unfortunate that our present laws should forbid all combinations, instead of sharply discriminating between those combinations which do evil. Rebates, for Instance, are as often due to the pressure of big shippers (as was shown in the investigation of the Standard Oil company and as has been shown since by the Investigation of the iobacco and sugar trusts) as to the initiative of big railroads. Often railroads would like to combine for the purpose of preventing a big shipper from maintaining improper advantages at the expense of small shippers and of the general public. Such a combination, instead of being forbidden by law, should be permitted to railroads to make agreements, provided these agreements were sanctioned by the interstate commerce commission and were published. With these two conditions complied with it is impossible to see what harm such a combination could do to the public at large. It is a public evil to have on the statute books a law scappable of full enforcement because both judges and juries realize that its full enforcement would destroy the business of the country; for the result is to make decent railroad men violators of the law against their will, and to put a premium on the behavior of the willing to break it in many ways. No more scathing condemnation could be visited upon a law than is contained in the words of the interstate commerce commission when, in commenting upon the fact that the numerous joint traffic associations do technically violate the law, they say: "The decision of the United States supreme court in the Transmissiospippi case and the Joint Traffic association case has produced no practical effect in justice to business of the country cannot be conducted without breaking it. I recommend that you give careful and early consideration to this subject, and if you find the opinion of the interstate commence commission justified, that you amend the law so as to obviate the evil disclosed.

INHERITANCE AND INCOME TAX. Both of These Are Recommended by the President.

The question of taxation is difficult in any country, but it is especially difficult in ours with its federal system of government. Some taxes should on every ground be levied in a small district for use in that district. Thus the taxation of real estate is peculiarly one for the immediate locality in which the real estate is found. Again, there is no more lexitimate tax for any state than a tax on the franchises conferred by that state upon street railroads and similar corporations which operate wholly within the state boundaries, sometimes in one and sometimes in several municipalities or other minor divisions of the state. But there are many kinds of taxes which can only be levied by the general government so as to produce the best results, because among other reasons, the attempt to impose them in one particular state too often results in merely driving the corporation or individual affected to some other locality or other state. The national government should impose a graduated inheritance tax, and, if possible, a graduated income tax. The man of great wealth owes a peculiar obligation to the state, because he derives special advantages from the mere existence of government. Not only should he recognize this obligation in the way he leads his daily life and in the way he earns and spends his money, but it should also be recognized by the way in which he pays for the protection the state gives him. On the one hand, it is desirable that he should assume his full and proper share of the burden of taxation; on the other hand, it is quite as necessary that in this kind of baxation, where the men who vote the tax pay but little of it, there, should be clear recognition of the danger of inaugurating any such system save in a spirt of entire justice and moderation. Whenever we, as a people, undertake to remodel our taxation system along the lines suggested, we must make it clear beyond peradventure that our aim is to distribute the burden of supporting the government more equitably than at present; that we intend Subject Needs Careful Study.

Subject Needs Carefal Study.

I am well aware that such a subject as this needs long and careful study in order that the people may become familiar with what is proposed to be done, may clearly see the necessity of proceeding with wisdom and self-restraint, and may make up their minds just how far they are willing to go in the matter; while only trained legislators can work out the project in necessary detail. But I feel that in the near future our national legislators should enact a law providing for a graduated inheritance tax by which a steadily increasing rate of duty should be put upon all moneys or other valuables coming by gift, bequest, or devise to any individual or corporation. It may be well to make the tax heavy in proportion as the individual benefited is remote of kin. In any event, in my judgment the pro rata of the tax should increase very heavily with the increase of the amount left to any one individual after a certain point has been reached. It is most desirable to encourage thrift and ambition, and a potent source of thrift and ambition, and a potent source of thrift and ambition is the desire on the part of the breadwinner to leave his children well off. This object can be attained by making the tax very small on moderate amounts of property left; because the prime object should be to put a constantly increasing burden on the inheritance of those swollen fortunes which it is certainly of no benefit to this country to perpetuate.

There can be no question of the ethical propriety of the government thus determining the conditions upon which any gift or inheritance should be received. Exactly how far the inheritance tax would, as an incident, have the effect of limiting the transmission by devise or gift of the enormous fortunes in question it is not necessary at present to discuss it is wise that progress in this direction should be gradual. At first a permanent national inheritance tax, while it might be more substantial than any such tax has hitherto been, need nor approximate, either in am

Inheritance Tax Constitutional.

Inheritance Tax Constitutional.

This species of tax has again and again been imposed, altho only temporarily, by the national government. It was first imposed by the act of July 6, 1787, when the makers of the Constitution were alive and at the head of affairs. It was a graduated tax; the small in amount, the rate was increased with the amount left to any individual) exceptions being made in the case of certain close kin. A similar tax was again imposed by the made in the case of certain close kin. A similar tax was again imposed by the act of July 1, 1862; a minimum sum of $1,000 in personal property being excepted from taxation, the tax then becoming progressive according to the remoteness of kin. The war-revenue act of June 18, 1838, provided for an inheritance tax on any sum exceeding the value of $10,000, the rate of tax increasing both in accordance with the amounts left and in accordance with the legatee's remoteness of kin. The supreme court has held that the succession tax imposed at the time of the civil war was not a direct tax but an impose of excise which was both constitutional and valid. More recently the court, in an opinion delivered by Mr. Justice White, which contained an exceedingly able and elaborate discussion of the powers of the congress to impose death duties, sustained the constitutionality of the inheritance tax feature of the war-revenue act of 1898.

18 income Tax Constitutional?

the best work of which the country is capable is to be done. It is probable that a thoroly efficient sytem of education comes next to the influence of patriotism in bringing about national success of this kind. Our federal form of government, so fruitful of advantage to our people in certain ways, in other ways undoubtedly limits our national effectiveness. It is not possible, for instance, for the national government to take the lead in technical industrial education, to see that the public school system of this country develops on all its technical industrial, scientific and commercial sides. This must be left primarily to the several states Nevertheless, the national government has control of the schools of the District of Columbia, and it should see that these schools promote and encourage the fullest development of the scholars in both commercial and industrial training. The commercial training should in one of its branches deal with foreign trade. The industrial training is even more important. It should be one of our prime oblicts as a nation, so far as feasible, consuntity to work toward putting the mechanic, the wageworker who works with his hands, on a higher plane of efficiency and reward, so as to increase his effectiveness in the economic world, and the dignity, the remuneration, and the power of his position in the social world. Unfortunately, at present the effect of some of the work in the public schools is in the exactly opposite direction. If boys and girls are trained merely in literary accomplishments, to the total exclusion of industrial work and to make them relucant to go into it, or unfitted to do well if they do go into it. This is a tendency which should be strenuously combated. Our industrial development depends largely upon technical training, the tendency is not oit, it mis is a tendency which should be strenuously combated. Our industrial development depends largely upon technical education. The far-reaching is the effect of a good building or mechanical trades school a textile, or Agricultural Interests.

The only other persons whose welfare is as vital to the welfare of the whole country as is the welfare of the wageworkers are the tillers of the soil, the farmers. It is a mere truism to say that no growth of cities, no growth of wealth, no industrial development can atone for any falling off in the character and standing of the farming population. During the last few decades this fact has been recognized with ever-increasing clearness. There is no longer any failure to realize that farming, at least in certain branches, must become a technical and scientific profession. This means that there must be open to the farmers the chance for technical and scientific training, not theoretical merely, but of the most severely practical type. The farmer represents a peculiarly high type of American citizenship, and he must have the same chance to rise and develop as other American citizens have. Moreover, it is exactly as true of the farmer as it is of the business man and the wageworker, that the ultimate success of the nation of which he forms a part must be founded not alone on material prosperity but upon high moral, mental, and physical development. This education of the farmer—self-education by preference, but also education from the outside, as with all other men—is peculiarly necessary here in the United States, where the frontier conditions even in the newest states have now nearly vanished, where there must be a substitution of a more intensive system of cultivation for the old wasteful farm management, and where there must be a better business organization among the farmers themselves. Agricultural Interests. a better business organization among the farmers themselves.

Good of Grange Organizations. Several factors must cooperate in the improvement of the farmer's condition. He must have the chance to be educated in the widest possible sense—in the sense which keeps ever in view the intimate relationship between the theory of education and the facts of life. In all education we should widen our aims. It is a good thing to produce a certain number of trained scholars and students; but the education superintended by the state must seek rather to produce a hundred good citteens than merely one The result was well as the mean of the control of t states of the Rocky mountains and Great Plains thru the development of the national policy of irrigation and forest preservation; no government policy for the betterment of our internal conditions has been more fruitful of good than this. The forests of the White mountains and Southern Appalachian regions should also be preserved; and they can not be unless the people of the states in which they lie, thru their representatives in the congress, secure vigorous action by the national government.

Memorial Amphithenter at Arlington. I invite the attention of the congress to the estimate of the secretary of war for an appropriation to enable him to begin the preliminary work for the construction of a memorial amphitheater at Arlington. The Grand Army of the Republic in its national encampment has urged the erection of such an amphitheater as necessary for the proper observance of Memorial Day and as a fitting monument to the soldier and sailor dead buried there. In this I heartily concur and command the matter to the favorable consideration of the congress.

Marriage and Divorce.

I especially call your attention to the second subject, the condition of our currency laws. The national bank act has ably served a great purpose in aiding the enormous business development of the country; and within tenyears there has been an increase in circulation per capita from $21.41 to $133.05. For several years evidence has been accumulating that additional legislation is needed. The recurrence of each crop senson emphasizes the defects of the present laws. There must soon be a revision of them, because to leave them as they are means to incur liability of business disaster. Since your body adjourned there has been a fluctuation in the interest on call money from two per cent to 30 per cent.; and the fluctuation was even greater during the preceding six months. The secretary of the treasury had to step in and by wise action put a stop to the most violent period of oscillation. Even worse than such fluctuation is the advance in commercial rates and the uncertainty felt in the sufficiency of credit even at high rates. All commercial interests suffer during each crop period. Excessive rates for call money in New York attract money from the interior banks into the speculative field; this depletes the fund that would otherwise be available for commercial uses, and commercial berrowers are forced to pay abnormal rates; so that each fall a tax, in the shape of increased interest charges, is placed on the whole commerce of the country. The mere statement of these facts shows that our present system is seriously defective. There is need of a change, Unfortunately, however, many of the proposed changes must be ruled from consideration because they are complicated, are not easy of comprehension, and tend to disturb existing rights and interests. We must also rule out any plan which would materially impair the value of the United States two per cent, bonds now pledged to secure circulation, the issue of which have been approved by many prominent bankers and business men. According to this plan wational banks should farmers and business men in the west; for at present at certain seasons of the year the difference in interest rates between the east and the west is from six to ten per cent. Whereas in Canada the corresponding difference is but two per cent. Any plan must, of course, guard the interests of western and southern bankers as carefully as it guards the interests of New York or Chicago bankers; and must be drawn from the standpoints of the farmer and the merchant no less than from the standpoints of the city banker and the country banker.

The law should be amended so as to specifically to provide that the funds derived from customs duties may be treated by the secretary of the treasury as he treats funds obtained under the internal revenue laws. There should be a considerable increase in bills of small denominations. Permission should be given banks, if necessary under settled restrictions, to retire their circulation to a larger amount than $3,000,000 a month.

Philippine Tariff.

in his dealings with his neighbor and with the state, then he is entitled to respect and good treatment. Especially do we need to remember our duty to the stranger within our gates. It is the sure mark of a low civilization, a low morality, to abuse or discriminate against or in any way humiliate such stranger who has come here lawfully and who is conducting himself properly. To remember this is incumbent on every American citizen, and it is of course peculiarly incumbent on every government official, whether of the nation or of the several states.

And the state of t

HOGWALLOW ITEMS.

Poke Easley is cleaning off the ground in his horse lot for the construction of a pond. He will put a heavy rock foundation to it as he in-

A deep frost fell here this week and made the earth look very fazzy. Tobe Moseley's rooster was eaught out in it but Tobe upon the approach of the frost had presence of mind enough to hoist an umbrella over

Sap Spradlen has learned something else during the past few days and will have to get a larger hat.

Fit Smith is fast getting well again. On his road to recovery he will stop off atj Tickville for a few

Possum time is here. At the big meeting Saturday the deputy constable was instructed to tie lantern on all the possums on Musket Ridge so that it will be no trouble to find

After Raz Barlow taken Miss Gonola Henstep out driving in his cart some horse hairs were seen on his coat. This looked quite suspicious as Raz drove a mule.

The sun set one hour ahead of time Sim Flinders watch the other evening and several of our citizens were caught out in the dark without lan-

Fletcher Henstep has broke the record in successfully raising the smallest pumpkin. It is fully developed, having the rich, yellow color and ridges in it and is not quite as large as a buckshot. He is just! proud of it and as soon as it was ful grown he hitched up his yoke of steers and hurried it to the postoffice a corner of the room was cleared and it was put on exhibition.

The wife of Joe what's his "name living in hollowing distance of Rye Straw is fixing to entertain with an

Great Relief

During that trying period in which women so often suffer from nervousness, backache, sick headache, or other pains, there is nothing that can equal Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They stop the pains, soothe the nerves, and give to the relief so much desired. If taken on first indication of pain or misery, they will allay the irritable condition of the nerves, and save you further suffering. Those who use them at regular intervals have ceased to dread these periods. They contain no harmful drugs, and leave no effect upon the heart or stomach if taken as directed.

Women

They give prompt relief.

"I have been an invalid for years. I have neuralgia, rheumatism and pains around the heart. By using Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills I am relieved of the pain, and get sleep and rest. I think had I known of the Pain Pills when I was first taken sick, they would have cured me. I recommend them for periodic pains."

MRS. HENRY FUNK, E. Akron, O.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pilis are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it falls, he will return your money.

25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk. diles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind

owl social tonight in honor of her husband who has been dead for the Sid Hocks, Ellick Hellwanger and Raz Barlow took a small jag of tends to raise some large fish next Moonlight Reel Saturday night and ook possession of a dance at the home of Luke Mathewsla, who lives in shooting distance of the Rye Straw grave yard. The constable was shot through the hat and had to be carried home. The Excelsior Fiddling band got excited and left the house without finishing the tune they were of it at beginning of the next dance.

> Bat Smith is busy turning out some licker for the Chrismas festivities. It will be flavored with the rippling waters of Gander Creek and will be so strong that it will warp Asthma Suffers Should Know This he letters on the jug.

hay while the sun shines.

Gam Sims looked into the cistern yesterday and saw himslf in the water. He will get a ladder and go lown and talk to himself today.

It is a straight lane that has no urning.

When in aoubt use a fine comb.

FREE ADVICE TO LOVERS.

more except on barrels.

Kind Editor Botts: I am 23 years that she does not love me, yet I beabout it? Q. S. N.

in ill-fated numeral. You might put her to a test, however, by attempting suicide. Go to the nearest reliable drug store and purchase a pint of carbolic acid diluted with nitroglycerine and drink it on her front doorshe loved you.

Dear Editor of Hogwaller: I have had nothing to eat for six days, and have had a intense longing for something. Can you tell me what it is? After giving your case much thought perhaps you are hungry.

My finance promised to meet me at the corner in the shadow of the telephone pole last nigt at 7:18 o'clock. I waited until sunrise but she never showed up. Now why? Earnest Earnest.

Dear Ernest: We do not know as Leave Marion 127 pm Arrive Evansville 345 pm we haven't had a chance to see her Leave Marion 340 pm

Dear Editor I have a serious case. met a young woman a day or two Leave Marion 336 am ago, since which time she has treated Leave Marion 1117AM me coolly. This has terribly upset Leave Marion 340 pm me and I cannot sleep at night as Leave Marion 735 pm something keeps worrying me. An immediate answer is my wish. M.

Investigate the bed closely and if you find that it is not bugs or mosquitoss you are in love.

Nell, in eating hickory nuts always remove the shell, as they are hard to

Notice to our Customers

We are pleased to announce that Foley's and Drug law as it contains no opiates or other conforms fully to all provisions of the National harmful drugs, and we recommend it as a safe Pure Food and Drug Law Sold by Woods & remedy for children and adults. Woods & Orme ! Orme

An old lion named Leo, who had lived

An Animal Story Por

Little Polks

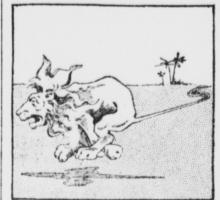

The Discontented Lion

in a circus tent for many years, grew very tired of the life he led and said: "Here I am caged up, with only half enough to eat, and all these strange people staring at me, and the men who run this show make all of the money and have a good time too. I'm tired into business for myself." So one morning when the animal keeper opened the barred door to feed the lion old Leo gave one spring, of it and intend to escape at the very first opportunity, find a partner and go stop running until he was far out in the country, tired, thirsty and hungry. The next morning he started out to look for partners, but as soon as any of the other animals saw him they would run away in terror, never giving Leo the opportunity to tell of his wonderful plans. After wandering about for several days without being able to find anything to eat he determined to go back to the circus, but when he reached the playing, and will play the remainder town the circus had left, and, as every one was afraid of Leo, some men formed a company, armed themselves and shot him on sight.

Moral.-Don't be too ambitious.-Atlanta Constitution.

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases f asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs When the cats are away they make Adolph Buesing, 701 West Third St. Davenport Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew in asthma. The best medical skill available could not give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma which had been growing on me for twelve years. If I had taken it at the start I would been saved years of suffering." Woods & Orme

A Guaranteed Cure For Piles

Itching, Blind, Bleeding, Producing Piles. Druggists are authorized to refund money if Pazo Ointment No. Laura, hoops are not worn any fails to cure in 6 to 14 days price 50c.

Following the Flag.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Phili of age and have a girl who contends tion. Willis T Morgan, retired Commissar Sergeant, U.S.A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H. says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years i lieve she does. What would you do the Philippines, and being subject to colds, which kept me in perfect health. And now i Well, you should not attempt to New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine marry while you are 23, that being the world for coughs, colds, bronchial trouble

TO THE HOME-SEEKERS.

Any one wishing to buy realestate in the new state of Oklahoma, can step. If she weeps at the funeral get cheap lands, good titles and free transpotation by calling on F. W. MOORE, Repton, Ky.

How Diptheria is Contracted.

aught a severe cold which developed into diptheria," when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diptheria germ. When Cham berlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cure the cold and lessens the danger of diptheria of any other germ disease being contracted. Fo sale by Woods & Orme, The Leading Drug Store

Local Time Table I. C. Railroad

NORTH BOUND

Leave Marion 702 am Arrive Evansville 945 am SOUTH BOUND

Arrive Princeton 1215 pm

Makes the Liver Lively.

Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup gives permanen relief in cases of habitual constipation as it stim ulates the liver and restores the natural action of the bowels without irritating these organs like pills or ordinary cathartics. Does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take, Remember the name Orino and refuse substitutes. Woods & Orme

No hunting or fishing on my farm. Trespassers will be prosecuted. Second notice. JOHN COCHRAN.

E B DeWitt & Co, of Chicago, at whose labor-Honey and Tar for Coughs, colds and lung artory Kodol is prepared, assure us that this retroubles is not affected by the National Pure Food markable digestant and corrective for the stomach has stood the test 25 years. Average Annual Sales over One and a Half Million bottles. Does this record of merit appeal to you? No Cure, No Pay.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic

Enclosed with every bottle is a Ten Cent package of Grove's Black Root Liver Pills.

Princeton, Ky., Nov. 28, 1906. Editor CRITTENDEN PRESS, Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir:-Will say in regard to advertisement placed in your paper several weeks ago by M. C. O'Hara, that I am still at O'Hara, Ky., (commonly known as Cedar Bluff, Ky .. and intend staying here for a number of years. I am at present doing the practice for the employees of the F. W. Katterjohn Construction Com pany under contract, also most the practice in the surrounding country, and will also state that the practice in the surrounding country will not justify the service of another doctor.

Yours most respectfully, DR. JNO. R. JONES.

Will T. Hicklin

Ordway Bros. & Guess Livery, Sale and Feed Stable North Main St. Marion, Ky.

The patronage of the Public is solicited

"The Old Blue Bear and the Rabbit."

An unpublished poem by Eugene Field is a rare literary treat for both old and young. The wonderful sympathy and love for his children shows strongly in these verses from the poem published in the December number of the Women's Home Com panion for the first time:

A big blue Bear came up one day And to the Rabbit's ma said he: I've come to take your child away To roam the fields and woods with

My little Rabbit wandering so

Unless you've lots of jelly-cake. The Bear replied, you need not fear To let the Rabbit go with me, For I have lots of goodies here-

As you yourself can plainly see. And saying thus, the old blue Bear

Back from his bag the cover threw, And mamma saw the goodies there-The jelly-cake and candy, too.

A Good Medicine

For sale by Eberle, Hardin & Co. Marion, Ky.

HOMESEEKERS round-trip rntes

TO THE SOUTH

at greatly reduced rates on the first and third Tuesday of each month, from points on the line of the

Illinois Gentral R. R. in the North. Your home Ticket

Agent will give you full particulars as to rates, conditions and train time. FULL PARTICULARS concerning Home eekers' Excursion Rates can be had of agents of the Illinois Central and connecting lines or by addressing e, ther of the undersigned F. W. HARLOW, D. P. A., Louisville, NO. A. SCOTT, A. G. P. A., Memphis

A. H. Aanson, P. T. M., Chicago S. G. Hatch, G. P. A., Chicago

Witch Hazel Salve Sold by Woods & Orme

The Old Hickory Distilling Co.

MOVED UP TOWN.—On account of the city council refusing to grant us new quart license at the distillery, we were compelled to buy out a place up town or let our friends and patrons go without Old Hickory which is known to be the best, purest and cheapest in Marion. Nobody else in town has our Old Hickory. Call and see us. We have a full line of Whiskey, Wines, Beer and Cigars. Prices on Old Hickory same as at the quart house.

Billart Stand, Opposite Post Office.

Old Hickory Distilling Company.

By T. H. LOWERY, Manager.

SENT FREE Booklet entitled "Draughon's you more Bookkeeping wou that Draughon's Colleges can, by their SU- and that Draughon's Colleges can, by their SU- and that Draughon's PERIOR and COPYRIGHTED methods, teach POSITIONS secured or money refunded. Written contract given. For Catalog and "Eve Opener." call, 'phone, or write ing. Arithmetic, Bus. English, Etc. Jno. F. Draughon, 'President, either place.

Evansville, Paducah, Nashville, St. Louis, Memphis, Little Rock, Atlanta, Dallas, San Antonio, etc.

WANTED!

-XXXXXXXX

BOLTS AND White and Red Oak!

Sound Green Timber, free from knots, windshakes, Then Rabbit's mama said, "Oh no, checks, worm holes and other defections. Must be barked You big blue Baer, you shall not and well quartered. Also buy Standing Oak Timber for Heading Bolts, where there are available facilities for getting it ont. For Prices call on

JAS. TOLLEY, Agt.

Marion, Kentucky.

A Complete Stock of

Dry Goods, Notions, Hats, Caps, Boots, Shoes, Hardware, Tinware and Groceries. Prices consistent with Quality.

I Buy and Sell all kinds of Produce.

Give me a call.

Chas. Larue,

The Leading Merchant,

Always Remember the Full Name Laxative Bromo Quinine Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in Two.

6. Th. Livour on Box. 25c.

Parlor

Walter McConnell. Proprietor

Clean Towels and Good Workmen.

> First-Class Hot or Cold Baths Press Building, MARION, KENTUCKY.

> > Will Interest Many

Every person should know that good health i mpossible if the kidneys are deranged. Foley's Kidney Cure will cure kidney and bladder disease in every form, and will build up and strengthen these organs so they will perform their functions properly. No danger of Bright's disease or dia-For chapped and cracked hands get DeWitt's betes if Foley's Kidney Cure is taken in

A Home Made Happy by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

About two months ago our baby girl had the easles which settled on her lungs and at last resulted in a severe attack of bronchitis. We had two doctors but no relief was obtained. Everybody thought she would die. I went to eight different stores to find a certain remedy which had been recommended to me and failed to get it. when one of the storekeepers insisted that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and our . baby is alive and well today.—Geo W Spence. Holly Springs, N. C. For Sale by Woods & Orme

Farm and Fireside, twice a month one year free with each subscriber of the Press. We have sent a sample copy to each subscriber.

ELECTRIC BILLIOUSNESS AND KIDNEYS.

Have you tried the new Cream Crisp breakfast food. A ten cent package and hetter than many of the fifteen cent sellers. Morris & Yates.

Dr. King's New Life Pills The best in the world.

Γhe Last and Best Gifts of the Year≡ CHRISTMAS, and our Rich, Rare, and Beautiful Stock of HOLIDAY GOODS

COME AND SEE IT AND YOU WILL BE PLEASANTLY SURPRISED Nothing Missing Everything the Newest Everything the Best Everything Up-to-Date A Fine Assortment

OUR MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY OF HOLIDAY GOODS IS A POPULAR SUCCESS It Satisfies Because it Anticipates Your Every Need It Saves Because the Prices are Right and Reasonable It Pleases Because it is Fresh, New and Novel.

Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silverware, Novelties

DON'T FAIL TO SEE OUR VERY SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS IN

And Many Appropriate Gifts That Cannot be Here Enumerated

OUR HOLIDAY LINE IS AS COMPLETE AS IT IS FRESH AND DESIRABLE It Contains a Oreat Variety of New and Appropriate Presents for Everybodys Needs

WE OFFER A SURPERB STOCK INCLUDING ONLY GOODS OF APPROVED SUPERIORITY And Are Waiting to Meet Your Wants in the Most Satisfactory Manner and at the Fairest Prices

LEVI COOK.

Great Reduction in Prices of Cloaks at Mrs. A. S. Cavender's

MEXICO.

Mrs. W. K. Bibb returned home yesterday from Wneatcroft.

Sam Caps kitled hogs Wednesday. Ed Mott and wife returned from Marion yesterday.

Mac Hughes has quit working at the carpenters trade at Princeton and has been acting in Ed Motts place in the spar yard.

is visiting the family of Geo. Pierce.

Mis. Sarah Hardy has recoved after a long illness.

Mr. Ed Mott and his mother, expects to go to Berry's ferry Sunday to visit Mrs. Grant Stokes of that place who is very sick.

Mrs. W. O. Wicker has been sick but is much better at present.

Mr. Jim Champion finished gathering corn.

We had a fine time at the Ward school house at Cooksville, Thanksgiving. Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Jones spread the dinner.

There was a tacky party at Mrs. Rena Rushings Thursday night. Miss Robie Rushing and Mr. Jim Terry captured the prizes.

Mr. John Meyers is building a chimney for Mr. Tom Young, Mr.

Tom Nelson is still on the sick list. Mr. P. T. Ward has gone to Princeton to attend the institute.

Milton Whitt still treats the childen every Sunday.

Miss Della Myers attended the funeral of Oscar Tabor at Crayneville, Horace Williamson and wife visited at Mace McGees Thursday. Earl Crider left for California Friday for his health.

up and demanded his money at the We are looking for a buyer. point of a pistol. It is supposed that he thought it was Earl as he had drew money out of the bank that day.

CAVE-IN-ROCK.

In a saloon brawl here one day last week there were several licks, two shots and great deal of loud profanity. Result, two or three skinned heads a day. good man with a helpless and dependent family narrowly escapes last week to Burlie Burklow for $350. death and too or three poor men are ined, thus spending money with which they should have bought shoes and clothing for their children.

Great art thou oh whiskey?

If the Press cares to have such news as the above we can probably furnish something of the kind each week, but it is only a repetition of the old, old story which is told and retold hundreds of times every day.

Mr. Jas. Goodloe and John Tharp stayed over night in Cave-inRock last Friday night.

"Uncle Jim" Paris of Salem, Ky. was over on business last week.

just been elected.

We hope to old Crittenden, which tive land" acquit himself right nobly next Friday.

MATTOON.

of A. L. Lucas Thanksgiving morning, before a large crowd of friends and neighbors. We wish them a pared for you. long and prosperous life.

Miss Josephine Smith recited at the Thansgiving exercises. She recites beautifully.

in town on a furlough.

Roy Woody, of St. Louis, is here to visit his father who is in very poor

Mr. Geo. R. Cook, of Greenville, Miss., is visiting his sister, Mrs. A. L. Lucas. He is a son of the late J. W. Cook.

SEVEN SPRINGS.

Newt Smith lost a good horse last week, with the blind staggers.

Phil. Trevis and wife, of Emmaus. are the proud parents of a fine ten pound baby boy, which arrived at their home Nov. 18th, it has been almost five years since an event like this has occured at that home. The parents of the babe are recieving the congratulations of their many friends on the arrival of the bonny little fel-pork is netting a good price, from 6 its fulfillment would not be pleasant. option State except a few counties, the groom to be was a Methodist and to 7 cents per pound.

A tramp held Mr. Willis Crider this vicinity, that has not been sold.

Mose L. Patton sold to Phil. S. Travis last week one horse colt for $35.00 cash.

in blacksmithing at place.

Lewis Adams sold his home place

Corn corn crbis are well filed in

Mary Guess was seriously burned taining program was rendered.

Tom Patton has been quite sick and confined to his room for the past solo, Miss Jimmie Noe and a sextet are strong ought to bear the infirmi- factory. I wish to remain

Owen Boaz, of Salem, was visiting his friends and relatives here Sunday.

Ayers Howard who has been at rendered a beautiful duet. relatives, of the Ammaus community, tertainment. The visitors from Ma- toxicants, and thus put a stumbling mill one new corduroy dress coat on man, who loved order as he did the returned to colorado Nov. 24th. rion were as pleasant and agreeable block in the way of the growing the after noon of Dec. 3rd 1906, tospel, thus admonished his hearers; They had a family reunion at the as could be, and we hope to have young men of our county. Before Finder will please return and recieve intil the ushers have removed the home of his father, H. G. Howard, them with us again some day soon. - God and a clear conscience I do not reward. The temperance people of Illinois on Sunday before he left Tuesday. Morganfield Sun.

hope to secure the passage of a coun- Ail the members of the family were As Seen From Uniontown's Standpoint. ty unit law by legislature which has present except those that had been The Morganfield High school decut off by the hand of death, such is feated the Marion High school in the case in this life, when we have a spirited debate before a large crowd proudly claim as "my own, my na- our family reunions, here some are at the Grand opera house in Morganmissing from our family circle. field Friday evening. Each school There is hardly a family that the was represented by a team of three death angel has not visited, and tak- speakers. The subject for the deen some loved one from our fond em- bate was: "Resolved, That the Unibrace. But glory be to God when ted States is following in the Foot-Mr. J. W. Simpson and Miss Lou we get to Heaven there be no broken steps of Ancient Rome. Morgan-Pickering were joined in the holy family there, if we live for God in field had the affirmative and won out Mrs. Fannie Moore, of Sheridan, bonds of matrimony at the residence this life, and we then hear the welcome applauded come ye blessed of ers for Morganfield were Paul my father inherit the Kingdom pre- Schmidt, Miss Verlie Coffman and Morganfield's View of it.

Bert Woody of the U. S. Army is Grand last Friday night to hear the ville and A. L. Sloan, of Louisville.

Morganfield took the affirmative side and Marion the negative.

Coffman and Mr. Thomas Waller.

and Miss Annie Dean.

Hog killing is on docket now, obligation with the expectation that "New South." Georgia is a local Judge Kevil's daughter the fact that this one unpleasant task.

advantage of the opportunity to very states are voting against the sale of tions the Judge did not long with- enormous price was asked, which the heartily commend the teachers who ardent spirits. Even in our own hold his consent. are responsible for this enterprise, commonwealh 80 counties out of 119 and express their appreciation of the have voted all, or in the principal Bob Robinson returned from Salem young ladies and gentlemen who have part, for local option. Sunday where he has been engaged participated, and to congratulate. We realize that the more temptathem upon their selection by their tions young men have, the harder it atory: John patton was in Marion Mon- fellew-pupils, and upon the fact that is for them to resist evil and thus to they have all acquitted themselves make pure, sober, upright men. It the affirmative.

the audience with a beautiful violin duty to remove it. "We then that ship and Prices are perfectly satisof school girls, captivated the audi- ties of the weak, and not to please ence and were encored several times; ourselves," (Rom. 15:1). Mr. Travner Young sang a solo, and "How shall we vote? Misses Emma Noe and Grace Dyer | Can we, as citizens of Crittenden home on a visit to his fathers and Altogether, it was a delightful en- desire, afford to vote for the sale in- Post Oak school house and Rays old

Themas Waller. Marion was represented by V. G. Rochester, Miss Fenwick Wathen and Miss Annie Dean. The judges were: C. E. Sugg, of A large audience gathered at the Henderson, J. P. Knott, of Nash-

debate between representatives of the A large crowd of backers followed Morganfield and Marion High schools, the Marion team to the opposing city The gubject for discussion was: and the speakers were enthusiastical-Resolved, That the United States is ly applauded. A return meeting at following in the footsteps of Ancient | Marion is probable in the future .-Telegrim.

Local Option.

of both Morganfield and Marion, dent spirits is unquestioned. The who is worthy of her.

is our duty, as true citizens, to take "By a vote of two to one, we beg every temptation from their pathway power of strong drink. They need first-class in every respect. Miss Nellie Shoemaker deligted the temptation removed. It is our county from some sordid or selfish Lost on the public road between your midst, as one who has a deep and abiding interest for the welfare of the county, as one who wishes to do the greatest good to the greatest number of people, I appeal to you to consider this matter honestly and sincerely before you vote against local option. On the contrary, will not the noble and aspiring citizenship of this county go to the election on December 7, and poll such a vote for local option as will show without doubt that we take our stand in the Delayed Announcement.

many noble lines. JAMES F. PRICE.

trend of public sentiment and against that which blights and withers so

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kevill have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Della to Mr. Black man Lee Stevens, at Richmond, Va., Monday November 26th.

The couple will reside at Smithfield, North Carolina, where Miss Kevil has been residing for some time practicing Osteopathy. The bride is justly popular here where Morganfield was ably represented On Friday Dec. 7, the citizens of she was born and reared and is a by Mr. Paul Schmidt, Miss Verlie Crittenden county will vote on the young woman of strong personality. question of Local Option. To my fine character and bright mind, and Valparaiso the valley of paradise Marion was ably represented by V. mind, this is a momentous question. is one Marion will always respect and G. Rochester, Miss Fenwick Wathen That there is a revolution in the honor. Her hosts of friends here minds of the majority of the people will extend her their best wishes and erly direction. Any person, he de-The judges, who were non-residents in regard to the sale and use of ard- will hope she has won a life partner clares, who sees only the country while praising the able way in which tide of public sentiment is fast turn- Mr. and Mrs. Stevens arrived to were such picturesque spots in Chile. the Marion representatives defended ing against the saloon. The church spend Thanksgiving with the brides their side, gave the decision to Mor of God, irrespective of denomination- parents Judge J. B. Kevil and wife. ganfield. The decision of the judges allines, stands a solid phalanx against Mr. Stevens is a merchant and is pect was one of remarkable natural as read by Mr. C. E. Sugg. of Hen- against it. Great corporations pro- prominently connected at his home derson, is published below in full: hibit their employes from patronizing town, and was congratulated here on gated in all parts. The little square "The judges are reluctant to det the saloon. A tidal wave of temperall sides. "They say" that when gardens are crowded with orange and cide, even though they assumed the ance reform is sweeping over the Mr. Stevens asked for the hand of . They feel, however, that the Tennessee has prohibited the sale of a democrat had almost as much to do There are some good tobacco in pleasures of the evening far ontweigh liquor except in a few large cities. with his success as the fact that he in the hope of making double the price Texas is local option. Mississippi, was sober, upright and industrious. he was offered for them. A well known . They beg to be permitted to take North Carolina and all the Southern In considering all the above qualifica-

A Deserved Compliment

The following letter is self explan-

Henry & Henry, Marion, Ky.

Dear Sirs :- Find inclosed check for the marble work done for to say that the decision is in favor of possible. There are good and noble me by your firm. Please give me men who, through the influence of credit for same. I wish to say to washed. The emperor tried various In addition to the debate, an enter- associations and habits, yield to the you that I consider the work strictly means to cure him, and he at last hit

The Material, Design, Workman-

Yours respectfully,

J. O. SMITHSON.

LOST.

EDGAR SMITH,

Repton Ky.

As one who has spent his life in Lifeorama of Destruction of San Francisco

Halton Powell's Lifeorama will be shown at the Opera House three nights, commencing Dec. 6th. The earthquake is depicted all in life motion. The falling of the sky-scrapers will be made realistic by noise effects. A ton of rock and iron will be used for this purpose. The city in flames, the crumbling walls, the excited populace fleeing from the city, a trip through Golden Gate park and all those terrible scenes caused by earthquake will be shown on canvas in moving pictures as they took place. This part of the show lasts twenty-five minutes,

PROGRAMME.

How Nick Carter captured the counterfeiters. The Cowboy's Revenge. The Escaped Lunatic. The Chicken Thief. Opera, Faust in Colors. Mr. Blue Beard.

The Lost Child. Mrs. Blue Beard, etc.

"Whoever," says Charles Darwin in his "Voyage of the Beagle," "called must have been thinking of Quillota.' Quillota is a thriving town twenty-six miles from Valparaiso in a northeastaround Valparaiso, barren of vegetation, would never imagine that there "As soon as we reached the brow of the sierra the valley of Quillota was Immediately under our feet. The prosluxuriance. The valley is very broad olive trees and every sort of vege-

According to Contract.

A man who was very miserly hoarded up his stacks of hay year after year hav and straw buyer in the district one day asked the price of a stack. An buyer accepted.

"How about the terms of settlement?" asked the old miser.

"Well, you see," said the buyer, "my terms are to settle when I fetch the last load away.

"That's a bargain," said the miser, slapping the other's hand. The old Smithland, Ky., Nov. 30th. | chap watched every load go away except the last, and that the buyer never did fetch away,-London Standard.

No Salute For a Dirty Prince. The crown prince of Germany had as a child a great dislike of being on the right one. The young prince came running to him one day in a great rage, saying the sentry had not saluted him as he passed. "To be sure," said the emperor. "I gave orders they were not to salute a dirty prince, but only a clean one. The child's pride was hurt, and he took: to the bath.

He Must Have Had Faith. the benediction the thoughtful clergychairs from the aisles."-Lippincott's Magazine.

The Crittenden Press.

Marion, Ky., Thursday, Dec. 2, 1906.

ACENTURY OF ROMANOFFS

ALEXANDER III

STORIES OF THE MODERN CZARS.

In number the modern Czars of Russia have been five. There have been three Alexanders and two Nicholases, counting the Nicholas now in the midst of countless troubles. One hundred and five years have they ruled over all the Russians.

To the other Czar Nicholas, who was the autocrat for thirty long troublous years beginning in 1825, belongs the distinction of being the only man who ever determined the line of direction of an important railroad merely by employing a foot rule.

For a long time the engineers to whom had been assigned the task and the Czar's advisers had squabbled over the route of the proposed road between the empire's two capitals, St. Petersburg and Moscow. At last, the emperor, sick of the delay and the wordy war, ordered that a ruler be brought to him.

Seizing it, he laid it on a map of Russia, lying before him on the council table, and imperiously drew a straight line between the two cities.

"Let that be the route," he said, and brought the squabbling to an end.

Straight as the line he drew, the road was built; and to this day it remains the same, with many towns of commercial importance, that the road should have touched, several miles distant from it on either side.

This same Nicholas, as head of the Greek orthodox church, was petitioned by the holy synod, in a memorandum as long as one's arm to declare whether or not the existence of purgatory was orthodox doctrine. The question had long been puzzling the great churchmen.

But it was an easy one for Nicholas. He looked the memorandum over, took his pen in hand, and "No purgatory" was what he wrote on the margin of the memorial.

ALEXANDER I. AND THE SUCKLING PIG.

Alexander I, he who burned Moscow and thus contributed greatly to the ultimate downfall of Napoleon, one day went on a visit to a certain military colony, and undertook a personal inspection of each house.

spread temptingly on the table. At the to its old routine."

second house, a similar sight met their eyes. At the third, also, and so on.

nearly over an attendant, Prince Volkhonski by name, grew suspicious that everything was not as lovely as it seemed, and in one house managed slyly to cut off the pig's tail and to slip it into his pocket.

At the next house, what should h peror, "that we have an old friend here."

Up to the table stepped the prince, and, pulling the tail out of his pocket, deftly fitted it to its place.

Critics agree that up to this moment Alexander I had endeavored to uplift Russia, and had succeeded wonderfully well for his time. But this evi-At the first house he and his suite he turned the affairs of state over to

Finally, when the inspection was behold on the table but a roast suckling pig minus a tail!

NICHOLAS I

"I think," said the prince to his em-"What do you mean?" asked the dence of petty graft was too much for ing the uniforms of his troops, and thus him; it was the last straw. In disgust found a commissariat dinner, the chief Araktcheief, and, as one historical Liberator's career, a prominent Russian dish of which was a roast suckling pig, writer has put it, "the empire returned has told the following incident:

PUNISHMENT THAT FITTED THE CRIME. When Alexander II, known to history as the Liberator, came to the throne he at first busied himself constantly alter-won for himself the sobriquet, "the military tailor." Concerning this part of the but a tailor, meaning to insinuate that he was too fond of altering military

NICHOLAS II

CZAR OF ALL

THE RUSSIAS

"These words came to the ears of the "One day a student of one of the great moned by imperial order to the palace. Czar who had been as autocratic, and, crown colleges, in talking over with his His parents already saw him on the road comrades the reforms of Alexander II, to Siberia. And what punishment do declared that the emperor was nothing you think was inflicted on him? The emperor ordered him to be presented with a complete uniform!"

Alexander's father, the other Nicholas, on his deathbed had pleaded with police, who carried them to the sover- his son to free the serfs as soon as he eign. The imprudent youth was sum- ascended the throne-and this from a hand and, waving hotly exclaimed:

treatment that a prop inflicting on her dome never sleep calmly till to all that!" A little later twee

"Here is a description

people were added to ALEXANDER'S DEATH DU

All the world knows ander was blown to s while out driving; it is understood that he bro an act of kindness.

The explosion of the was hurled tore off Czar's carriage, wou Cossack guards and a otherwise did no harn Even before the away the Czar was s his carriage. "Are you hurt?" a

"No, thank God," am untouched. Don't Let us look after the He was especially comfort of the Cossack tims he ordered all at He was on the po his carriage when h for his day, as cruel as Peter the Great.

One evening six years later Alexander, much excited, burst into his wife's salon. He held a paper in his

This was in 1855.

It Never Shoots Unless You Pull the Tr It Never Fails to Shoot When You Do Pull Our Booklet "Shots" Mailed It's full of dream lore; gives important facts that every or know and goes into the details and illustrates by sectional struction of the Iver Johnson

IVER JOHNSON SAFETY NAMMER REVOLVER | IVER JOHNSON SA 3-inch barrel, nickel-plated finish, 22 rtm | 3-inch barrel, nickel fire cartridge, 32-38 conter fire cartridge 35.00 | taf fire cartridge 6.28 Repor Bone

WINTER STYLE AND SAMPLES is interested in knowbe fashionable in this Winter.

$7.50 to $25 $3.50 to SIS 86.50 to 825 $8.75 to $20

Y ; You will receive them

ELOAK & SUIT CO. 24th Street, New York Agents or Branches. Est. 18 Yea

ING MACHINE, operated b und up like a clock, the ma ou move the start lever, and the eed accurately adjusted, plays s selections equal to a $25.00 e Standard records, Victor or ed on the best and most ex-cert and home entertainment ndest and most marvelous miven away for selling only BLUE at 10c. per package.

ill treat you right. neing Works,

wich St., New York, N.Y. WAGNALLS RD DICTIONARY

Comprehensive Reference

Desk and Schoolroom

EHENSIVE ABRIDGED CTIONARY

on, the convenience for reference nvenience for refer-

e Office rd Dictionary

om the Funk & Wagnalls neet the most exacting require odern abridged dictionary. 62,284 4 illustrations, 2,000 antonyms.

e of prepositions indicated, etc. Exclusive Features oitalizes only such words as require de to capitalizing. oplies prepositions (over 1,000) and rect use onyms (2,000) or opposit RABLE AS SYNONYMS.

adicates the difference between and PHRASES.
ntains thousands of NEW WORDS
ATTURES of great value.

BICH APPENDIX, Large ces, Cloth, Leather Back, ceather, $4.00, Thumb In-xtra. MPLE INTERMEDIATE

ICTIONARY chensive Standard Dictiflar volume that has yet come f fail to see any feature of the be commended."—Gen. James resident American Ethnological omprehensive

rd Dictionary and most perfect handy dictionsh language. It gives the ortho na most perfect handy declara-na language. It gives the orthog-t, meaning, and etymology of trases. There are 800 tasteful ner intermediate dictionary ap-quality or completeness. The neet fully the most recent and its best feature, for one has the pelling and definitions are schol... Hoston Times.

Price, 21.00, Post-paid DICTIONARY OF ITS PUBLISHED

Concise d Dictionary

tains the orthography, prog of about 28,000 words pleasure in spending all one's earnings in extravagant living. As a matter of fact, or Circulars poverty forced a quiet life upon me. After being swindled out of several DICTIONARY COMPANY thousand dollars in my early life I de-Square, New York

FADS AND FANCIES.

BY MINNA SCHATT CRAWFORD.

The ever popular separate waist for pattern No. 1490 is cut in sizes 32, 34, the coming season shows a great many 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. plaid designs, in both silk and soft wool Price 15 cents. fabrics, which are now on the ascending wave of fashion for all but the most important and dressy occasions.

These waists are made absolutely plain, or with broad tucks or other tailored effects, each side of plait at centre ont, and are usually worn with a stiff collar and a trim little bow tie of dark ilk. Many of the imported linen shirtwaists are in strictly tailor made effect nd embroidered. Simple models for every-day wear in early all cases are made with the fu ength sleeve, not over full, and finished with a neat little cuff of its own ma terial. The more dressy the waist the horter the sleeves. The most elaborate nodels show almost no sleeve at alljust a closely shirred puff of some six or seven inches at shoulder over undersleeves of lace, much befrilled at elbow and rather plain below. Many waists show a combination of plaid and plain fabric; this idea also appears in many of the new tailored frocks, which, when made of plain materials such as broad-2156 cloth or Panama, have insets of bias plaid strips set lengthwise in both waist and skirt. Some of these tailored suits are in three pieces, coat, waist and skirt; n these the coat is usually of one material, even when skirt and waist are trimmed or combined with the plaid. Braids and the old-fashioned "saw-

Ladies' stylish suit in garnet cheviot serge, broadcloth, or Panama. The Po

neta Jacket has a vest and standing collar of cream white broadcloth and is trimmed with fancy braid. It is an entirely new model and destined to be extremely successful. The pattern 2155 is cut in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust measure. Price 15 cents.

easier to make and more economical in cut, especially in such materials as Panama or cashmere than some of the plaited skirts with fewer gores because of the greater ease in adjusting the plaits. It is a beautiful style for either silk or woolens. The pattern No. 2156 is cut in sizes 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inches

Ladies' five-gored, plaited skirt in walking length. A very desirable style for separate skirt or as part of a cosfect and closes with an inverted plait at back. The pattern No. 1125 is cut in sizes 22½, 24, 25, 26½ and 28 inches waist measure. Price 15 cents.

To secure these patterns state size and number plainly, and enclose fifteen cents for each pattern desired. Address all

FASHION CORRESPONDENT,

some money. Poverty brings good results at times. It did me good and

"How do I live on so little? Why.

that's simple. My restricted diet, now that I have a good salary, is simply a matter of choice. It is the healthiest

Facts From Many Lands.

A substitute for wireless telegraphy, limited, however, in its application, has been invented by an officer of the artil-lery branch of the United States army.

Simple signals can be given by means wide. These slats are painted various colors and are operated by a lever. The present high cost of the wireless sys-em may give the shutter an important

Maurice Chaulin, a French inventor, has perfected a clever apparatus for killing mosquitoes. It consists of a small lamp-electric or oil-hung between two rings, the rings being connected with tiny vertical and parallel chains. These chains are charged with a current of electricity, sufficiently strong to kill instantly a mosquito which touches any two of them at the same time. The light

"Dearest," he said, as they were at breakfast, "there is but one fault I can

"You make the holes entirely too started me on the right road.

and happiest way to live."

place in the signal service.

find with your doughnuts.

"What is it, George?"

"I never took a drink in my life, and in the lamp, which is entirely sur-

I have never used tobacco in any form," rounded b ythese chains, attracts these he said. "It is dead easy to live a life insects to their death.

290 Broadway,

communications to waist measure. Price 15 cents.

The plaited skirt is a thirtten gore tooth trimming, made of heavy satin ribbon are being much used for garnitures on both jackets and skirts. The new kirts show a return to the graceful plaited styles that are so much more beoming than the circular effects lately in

Ladies' Fancy Waist in light yellow taffetas plaited into a square yoke of cream colored Irish lace. The yoke extends across the front only, and is fin-ished with a narrow lace band or silk edging. The collar and cuffs are of the same lace and finished with edging to match. The back has three tucks on each shoulder, stitched down for about five inches. The pattern 2101 is cut in sizes 32, 34, 36 and 38 inches bust meas

Ladies' plain shirtwaist without lining The very newest idea for waists of flannel, challie, silk, madras or linen. The Room 307.

Augustus Riley, a clerk in the War Department, seventy-four years old, delares that he spends less than twelve

"My average expense every day for live years past has been less than twelve cents," said Mr. Riley, "and I have had plenty to eat. The system requires only so much. I sleep like a baby, and at leisure I go for a several miles' stroll

"I never get hungry; most people feel that way when their imagination runs away with them. I live on $4.11 a month and I have an itemized statement to prove it. My favorite dishes are apples, eggs and rice. I avoid meats and indigestible foods. They tear the vital organs up and put them out of use."

Riley saves 95 per cent of his salary.

He is a man of strong personality and is an excellent specimen of manhood.

He is not a miser, and declares he abhors the life of a recluse. He says he lives well, and he is the envy of the clerks who squander all their earnings and are heavily in debt. He never takes of economy and thrift, and there is no cided to retrieve my losses and to save small."

a drink and abhors coffee.

Twelve Cents a Day.

Healthy and Happy on ents a day for his living.

through the parks.

A CENTURY OF ROMANOFFS

Continued from first page.

be assassin, a prisoner, and, approach ing him quietly, ordered his removal. At that moment came the second ex plosion, which shook the whole city, and minute or two later, when the Grand Duke Michael bent over the mangled body of his brother and asked him if he wished to be removed to a nearby house, he caught these faint words:

"Quick, home-carry to palace-there CZARS AS HOME LOVERS AND HOME

MAKERS.

In these last words of a great emperor stands revealed the latter day Romanoffs' love of home and family. Historians unite in declaring that both Alexander II and his son and successor, the third Alexander, in their home life were above reproach; and though Nicholas II is being damned for many things these days, even his bitterest enemies credit him with being a good husband and father, and an intense lover of his home.

The apple of Alexander III's eyes was his son George. It was pathetic to see the father, a giant in stature, with the strength of an ox, with hands that could rumple a plate of silver, tagging around after and doing the bidding of this delicate boy.

One day the two went out hunting. The lad shot a duck, which fell into what looked to be a shallow stretch of water. The boy plunged in after the game, only to find himself swiftly sinking in a treacherous bog. His cries brought his father, whose great strength enabled him to extricate his son, even after the latter had been swallowed by the bog up to his neck.

Both returned to the palace wet through and chilled, and the boy in a high fever. In the middle of the night model, trimmed with braid. It is much the father wished to go to the boy's room to see how he was. The Czarina, thinking of her husband, objected, saying that the trip through the long, windy corridors to the other end of the palace would be dangerous, especially as he was still chilled from his experience of the afternoon. The Czar had never been able to stand up against the pleadings of his wife; he lay back in bed, feigned sleep, and she, thinking that she had accomplished her object, returned to her

A little later the Czar, clad only in slipping to his boy's room. There he

A day or two later the chill had settled in the Czar's vital organs; how it doctor's questioning. And a few weeks republican." after that the Czar was lying cold in death.

"THANK GOD FOR WORONZOFF!" Another story of this same Czar' parental tenderness has been told 'roung

When Alexander traveled by rail his rain was always divided in four sections, that the Nihilists would not be able to locate the section in which he was secreted and thus blow it up. But, despite this precaution, the bomb throwers did ascertain once on which section the Czar would travel, and it was ried a printed paper. promptly blown to bits.

tume. It has the stylish front panel ef-The Czar succeeded in extricating the Czarina, his daughter and himself from the wreckage, strewn with dead and dying guards. A little group, they stood, unguarded and in the midst of carnage, on the barren steppe. Suddenly the nerves of the child gave way; she flung herself into her father's arms and sobbed out:

New York City. "Oh, papa, now they'll come and murder us all!"

> And the Czar, oblivious to the probable truth of his child's heart cry, comforted her, and was discovered so engaged when protection arrived.

> Alexander III was not without a sense of humor; its possession is a saving grace to a Czar even.

It was while he was Czarevitch that he assumed command of the famous Preobrajenski regiment, a portion of which recently revolted against the Czar. Shortly after he had taken command it became necessary for the names of an enormous shutter, with slats a foot of the officers to be read to him. German name after German name was reeled off. 'Clear down to the letter "W" not a Russian name was read. Then "Woronzoff!" was sung out.

> "Thank God for Woronzoff!" exclaimed the Czarevitch, with a dry smile and a sigh of relief.

> During his fatal illness the Czarina, the present dowager Czarina, was in constant attendance at her husband's bedside. They held hands like two lovers by the hour. One day, turning to his physcian, the sick man, who had been told that death was only a question of weeks at best, exclaimed:

> "I have even before my death got to know an angel."

His son, Nicholas II, said something time his first child was born.

With tears in her eyes the Czarina asked the forgiveness of her husband because it was not a boy.

"I am extremely pleased to have a little girl," he said, as he comforted her. 'This child is ours, and ours alone. If a son had been born it would not have been so. He would have belonged to Russia."

It is not of record that he reiterated this sentiment as daughter followed daughter, even to the number of four. However, in this case, like father, like son. No matter how late he reached home, Alexander III would seek out his sleeping babies, kiss them, and cross himself over them. No matter how troublous the times, Nicholas II is reported to romp daily in care-free fashion with his five children.

"What is Nicholas II?" asked Clemenceau, now grown to be the greatest one-man power in all France, when the young man ascended the throne of his fathers. And he answered his own query in these words: "Nobody knows, possibly not even himself."

Twelve years have come and gone since that day. In this time the Czar, either wittingly or unwittingly, has done and caused to be done many things that should give a good idea as to the manner of man that he is. But to-day, as yester year, the question is heard on every hand, "What is Nicholass II?" By the token of numerous widely antipodal answers it is plain that. excepting the Nicholas of the home, "nobody knows." And shall we add, "possibly not himself"? But, for that matter, what was the other Nicholas? What the first Alexander-the second-the third?

When the people of St. Petersburg shouted for "Constantine and a Constitution" -- Constantine was Nicholas' weak-minded elder brother-and naively asked if Constitution was Constantine's wife, Nicholas mowed them down with cannon and fed them to the Neva through holes cut in the ice. Yet he gave his last breath to a plea for the freedom of the serfs. -His son freed them; he also turned Poland over to the mercies of Mouravieff, surnamed "the hangman." In the treatment of his family no man could have shown a tenderer. bigger heart than Alexander III. He it was who persecuted Nonconformists, a bathrobe and slippers, was quietly Jews and Polish Catholics until the whole world rang with the horror of it remained for some time watching beside all. The first Alexander was one of the the sleeping child before returning to three parties to the Holy Alliance, formed to stamp out the spread of republican ideas. Yet when he came to die he said: "They may say of me what came to do so was brought out by the they will, but I have lived and died a

What is the modern Czar? crowned Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde? It is a question the right answer to which baffles the conscientious historian.

A MATTER OF MIND

By JAMES EDMUND DUNNING. (Copyright.)

The policeman I had been noticing for some minutes came across the station to where I awaited my train. He car-"Where are you going, sir?" he asked me, looking to the paper and back again. I had just bought a Providence ticket, but I replied: "Excuse me, but I'm not sufficiently decided to inform you.'

He did not seem so indignant as I expected, but smiled with an indulgent kindliness which angered me.

"No offence, sir," he continued, "only—well, aren't you Mr. Martin—Gerald Martin, of Philadelphia?" "I'm not obliged to reply to such impertinence," I said.

"No; but aren't you?"
"What?"

"Mr. Martin, of Philadelphia?" "No!" I replied, in a way intended to settle our growing difficulty. "I see," remarked the fellow, with amazing effrontery, because I could not understand what he could see; "then, sir, as a special favor to an officer in the discharge of his duty, will you tell me who you are?"

"A duty?" I asked incredulously.

"An important one, sir," he replied, so earnestly as to win me. I picked up my bag to enter the Providence train. "Since you insist," I said,

"I'll tell you my name is-my name-is why-officer-Horrible, indeed! I could not recall it! The more I tried the less I could.

It was a most astounding psychological incident. I was interested, but annoyed. The policeman enjoyed another indulgent smile and made a sign which brought up two men; they must have been watching us. I did not find myself able to respond with sincerity to their greetings. One, a tall youngster, addressed me most familiarly. The other

"I'm not Gerald Martin," I said, laughing in spite of my mortification, "and but for the rather brutal way in which you have assailed me I could not have mind could be lured from these been placed in this embarrassing posi-I've been working hard of late, I think, and-

"What's your business, sir?" queried the silent member, suddenly. They all seemed deeply interested.

"Nothing regular, you know," I re plied, conscious of a sense of improworthy to be coupled with that at the priety in such an answer, though it was the best I had. "I—I rather keep an eye

RAILROADING WANTED FIREMEN AND BRAKEMEN for all Railros experience unnecessary. Firemen $100, become Engineers carn $150. Positions awaiting strong, competently oung men. State age, height and weight important position preferred. RAILWAY ASSOCIATION, Room 120, 227 Monroe St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

went to smash."

on the market, and I write sometimes.' That was as easy as anything.

The end of it was that we all went to call on the chief of police. I felt chagrined. They chattered at a fearful rate, and then one said: "He has been calling himself George Marsh." My heart leaped.

"I am George Marsh, gentlemen," I cried, for it seemed to come back to me head mean something to you? Put yourthen, "and I am a lawyer by profession, though given to literature. I live in the city of Boston, at the Winterset hotel." ty of Boston, at the Winterset hotel." Vidocq, you know. In short, I make nothing out of it." looked at me hard said:

"And how long have you lived in Boston, Mr. Marsh?'

"Oh," I answered, "not-not so long, you know-not so long." Really, it seemed to me that the time was of no that. I bowed formally.

"Mr. Marsh, we are in a very difficult situation. We cannot get out of it with"My darling!" she white out your aid. I beg you will not insist on our at present informing you of the details. I want to ask you if, as a very man off. Wrangle's face was an added special favor, to help persons in deep insult. distress, you are willing to join our party and accompany us to Philadelphia, free of expense, and at a reasonable compensation for loss of time."

"How long?" I asked, wondering what was coming next. 'Two or three days-perhaps," he re-

"Yes," I agreed; "I will go if it will do you a service-because you seem to be agitated to an extraordinary degree. We started for Philadelphia with no delay, and I found myself in company whose agreeable manners were tempered with a respectful reticence. On nearing our carriage at Camden station

I halted and said: insist that before going further I be "Gentlemen, you must excuse me if I insist that before going further I be admitted to a knowledge of our errand." The slender youth seemed fit for remonstrance; but the other, whom I had begun to like, interrupted:

"To be sure. Well, then, I am Doctor Wrangle-this Mr. Harold Martin, son of Mr. Gerald Martin-

"My double, I suppose?" I said.
"Yes," replied the doctor, and I wondered what about his face reminded me of that policeman. "As to our errand." he continued, "Mr. "As to our errand," he continued, "Mr. Martin most mysteriously disappeared three weeks ago. We are searching for him, and we want you—a practical law-yer, with plenty of leisure to take up father? Who is Marsh, and what's the ver with plenty of leisure, to take up matter with my head. Helena, how does the hunt as an entirely unprejudiced person. The best detectives have failed.

My wife threw a towel one were

We have been seeking a man exactlyyes, I may say exactly like you."
"You display astounding confidence in a stranger," I suggested.

"We are desperate," replied he. "Mrs Martin is frantic with grief and appre-Will you allow us to put you in entire charge of the search for a sufficient period to make a study of the case?

I got into the carriage.

At the door young Martin led the way past a pretty maid into a house set with obvious elegance. It occurred to me that the missing Martin lived well when he was at home. The doctor and I waited. Harold ran upstairs. I heard a door unlatch, and a woman's voice cried something indefinite. Then Harold broke in: "Yes, mother," he said; "we've found

The door closed. I found the doctor regarding me intently. "Well, sir," he remarked, as if expectng me to say something of importance. "Mrs. Martin was expecting me, then?" I inquired.

"Expecting you?"
"Yes—or some one in my capacity." "Yes." The doctor led the way to ward what looked like a library. needed you desperately." "We

"It's very flattering to be in such denand," I replied. "You'll be better than Jolworthy, the police detective who has been bungling the case," returned the doctor. "He has been outrageously careless of Mrs. Martin's feelings. This is Mr. Martin's library.

"Martin lived well, anyway," I said. 'A bookman, wasn't he? 'No. a lawyer."

"A good one, then." "Yes; good to all but himself." "How?" "Overwork. His last murder trial finshed him.' I surveyed the room in detail. It overflowed with elegance. "I've discovered a clew, doctor," cried, as I stood before a ripping collection of Byzantine teapots. He was by my side instantly, all alive.

"Don't start," said I. "I've only discovered that Martin was out of his mind. No sane man could stay out of this library three successive weeks and "Don't trifle, please," said the doctor, ooking pained. But my opinion of Martin was fixed. 'No sane man could quit these teapots three weeks," I repeated. "No proper golian ivories, or these amazing brasses or this luxurious Thackeray; hence, the poor devil is mentally askew. Clew one for me; has Jolworthy so much?' The doctor only pointed to the library "Look over his papers," he said table. 'his diary is there, too, at the top of the pile. He was hot over the trial, you will see.'

I read aloud the last entry:

"Nothing at all!" cried young Martin, in a despairing voice. I turned to see him at the door with a lady whom I supposed was his mother.

They had been cavesdropping, and I did not like importance just then. They spoke in Wrangle's detaining hand, Mrs. Martin, low tones, until my quiet acquaintance a most attractive person. I must admit, came quickly to my side and sank down

"My darling!" she whispered. "Won't

"By heaven, sir!" I cried; "if this is a joke, well sir," and I started for the door, "I don't wonder poor Martin left

Just then the detestable Jolworthy entered. I read insolent intentions in his eyes and met them in perfect kind. "They've, enough of you, sir," I growled, savagely as I could,

He grinned insultingly.
"Oh, drop this bluff," he said. "It makes me tired."

"Will you leave, sir, and let me finish my business with these people?" I demanded, very angry.

Jolworthy sneered audibly. I started or him. He dodged around the library table. I vaulted over it. As I alighted Jolworthy, possibly somewhat cut up by my violence, extended his fist quite vigorously. Something cracked back in my head, and I could do nothing but fall on the floor.

It will always seem that it was a very long while lafer when I awoke. The slender youth and his mother were over me. They looked strangely alike-then it began coming back. Why, I was in my house. My wife and boy-

"Mr. Marsh," he said, "are you betwife threw a towel one way and bottle of camphor the other, after which she shrieked in a loud voice and cast her arms about my neck. I will not ay what she said into my left ear. I discovered that my right ear was covered with a huge damp towel, Harold was yelling like an Indian buck. And then that great boy kissed me.

was angry. "Be quiet, you silly people!" I cried, striving to look not too deeply disgusted over such hysteria. "Now, tell me, did the jury report?" Harold whooped and Helena began to

"Harold," I commanded sternly, "something has happened. Tell me!"
"Yes," cried Wrangle, who had been standing behind me all the time. "Tell him, Harold, all of it-beginning with three weeks ago."

I reared my son to be truthful at all times, but I did not believe all he then After he had done I turned to Wrangle: "What brought me out of it?"

"That thundering rap Jolworthy gave he answered, grinning. "I don't know who Jolworthy is," said , going over to Helena and taking her in my arms then and there; "but, white or black, or whatever, I insist that he he invited here to dinner and that the est in the house be his." But Helena did not seem to care about

CANCER CURED BY ANOINTING

WITH OIL. Cancerol, a compound of essential Oils.

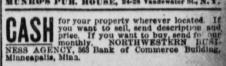

has been discovered which readily cures all forms of cancer and tumor. It is safe and sure, and may be used at home with-out pain or disfigurement. Readers should write for free book to the origina-tors, Dr. L. T. Leach, Box 88K, Indian-apolis, Ind.

IMPLE-OF REPORTED TO THE PROPERTY OF TH AT DRUGGISTS or SENT by MAIL for 50 CENTS Thompson's Pimple-Off Co., 181 Pearl St., N. Y Write for Beoklet "About Pimples" Mailed FREE

VACUUM CAP FOR BALDNESS And Falling Hair. Only successful method. Booklet and demons ration free VACUUM CAP-APPLIANCE CO.

108 Fulton Street, Suite 911, New York City. Boston Office: 15 SUCOL STREET. Your Poems May Be Worth
THOUSANDS OF BOLLARS
Send them to us for the music.
Accept no offer before reading
HAYES MUSIC CO., 200 Star Bidg., Chicage.

trates the heat just where it is needed, the The Stone Oven Sortem stores up the heat like old-fashioned Dutch oven, and bakes with a great
one. ing of fuel.
The oven Thermemeter reduces baking to a soler and prevents burnt food or wasted fuel.
Write for estalogue today. H. F. Tinnerman, Owner, IMPERIAL STEEL RANGE CO., 45 State Street, Cleveland, Ohio

"Jury has now been out twenty-eight hours. My head spins. I'll walk in the park an hour to tone me up."

"That," I declared, "is where Martin

"It is," assented the doctor. "Can't you some way connect that jury business with the mystery? Can't you make that and the walk in the park and the dizzy self in his place, Mr. Marsh, can't you?"

"Can't see it," I replied. "I'm not a

To the Sick and Ailing Everywhere

THE CURE FOR YOUR DISEASE Delivered Free-Free for the Asking-Free to You.

health—Dr. Kidd's offer of free treatmentisgiven in the absolute faith and sincere belief that they can and will stop disease, cure it and lift you up again to healthand vigor. There is no reason why you should not get well if you will only bring yourself to take the free test treatment of these wonderful remedies, no matter

I Want the Doubters

I want to give them the proof—the evidence and the glory of new life in their own bodies—and I want to pay the cost of this proof—all of it—to the very last cent—myself.

I have put my life into this work—I hold the record of thousands of cures—not "some better"—but thousands of desperate sufferers, hearty and strong and big and well; and their letters are in my hands to prove every word I say and strong and big and well; and their letters are in my hands to prove every word I say. Rheumatism, kidney troubles, heart disease, partial paralysis, bladder troubles, stomach and bowel troubles, piles, catarrh, bronchitis, weak lungs, asthma, chronic coughs, nervousness, all female troubles, lumbago, skin diseases, serofula, impure blood, general deblity, organic vital allments, etc., are cured to remain and continue cured.

cured.

No matter how you are, no matter what your disease, I will have the remedies sent to you and given into your own hands free, paid for by me and delivered at my own cost.

These Remedies Will Oure

They have cured thousands of cases—nearly every disease—and they do cure and there is no reason why they should not cure you—make you well—and bring you back to health and the joy ving!

ill you let me do this for you—will you let ill you let me do this for you—will you let Will you let me do this for you—will you let me prove it—brother and sister sufferers? Are you willing to trust a master physician who not only makes this offer but publishes it and then sends the test and proof of his remedies without a penny of cost to anyone except himself? Send your name, your Post Office address and description of your condition, and I will do my utmost to satisfy ever doubt you have or can have that these remedies will save your life and make it. all that nature meant to make it.

make it all that nature meant to make it.

Let me make you well. Give me your name and tell me how you feel, and the proof treatment is yours, at my cost. No bills of any kind-no papers—nothing but my absolute good will and good faith.

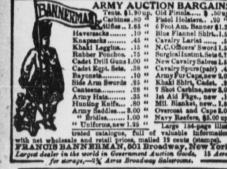

DR. JAMES W. KIDD, Box 122, Fort Wayne, Ind.

NOTE—We know personally Dr. Kidd and know that his methods and his offer are exactly as represented in every-sespect. Our readers should take advantage of Dr. Kidd's generous offer.

$12 to $35 Per Week And a 20-YEAR GOLD FILLED

WARRANTED WATCH GIVEN AWAY. We want one representative in every town and city to advertise, take orders, and appoint subcity to advertise, take orders, and appoint subagents, 50 per cent commission and other inducements, big money made, and pleasant, clean work; goods sold to advertise at halfprice, credit given agents, no money required, for we trust you until after delivery, giving you 10 to 30 days; sample 6-inch shear sent on receipt of advertising price, 25 cents; all goods warranted by us; the sample will convince you that you can make $12.00 to $35.00 per week on our goods: exclusive territory per week on our goods; exclusive territory given with control of sub-agents. Answer at once, while territory is open; salaried position after you become experienced.

THE UNITED SHEAR CO., Westboro, Mass.

"Hall's Ointment CURES GOITRE TO STAY CURED.

It makes no difference how long you have had a thick neck or how many remedies you have tried, "Hall's Ointment" will quickly remove the Goltre without

Jos. Hall, H. S.,

RHEUMATISM CRANDPA'S RHEUMATIO CURE Old fashioned, simple, and surely a wonderful remedy.

FREE write us, and we will send this old to you. We know it will help you, and are willing to trust to your honor to pay us for our trouble and expense, after cure is effected.

Remember—No Cure—No Puy

"GRANDPA'S REMEDY CO."

70 La Salle Street, - - - Chicago PARKER'S Arctle Socks (TRADE MARE) Reg.
Healthful for bed-chamber, bath and sick-room. Worn in rubber boots, absorbs perspiration. Made of knitted fabrie, lined with seft white weal fleece. Bold

PILES EUREKA PILE CURE is the best cure on earth. We can prove it. Trial free, four oz. box, with private instructions at. S. P. ARTZ MEDICAL CO., St. Paul, Minn.

OPUM or MORPHINE HABIT CURED.
Free trial treatment. We specially desire cases where other remedies the felicity. Confidential. HARKIS IN.

Instant refief, final cure in a fedays and never returns; no purge, nealve, no suppository. Reredy malle REEVES, Box 606. New York, N.

Free! Free! IN THE SHADOW OF SHAME

By Fitzgerald Molloy

Copyright by E. Fitzgerald Molloy.

tor replied.

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters

Olive Dumbarton, after the legal separation from her brutal husband, becomes a successful authoress and lives quietly with her daughter, Veronica, in Hexton Road, St. John's Wood, London. Her husband secretly returns to London and by letter makes further demands for money. Her cousin Valerius Galbraith, a man of independent wealth who has been in love with her since early youth, calls to say farewell before starting on a trip to Egypt. A fortnight later Olive Dumbarton is found in her library holding a dagger over the dead body of her husband. She is arrested and held for trial, and detectives are put on the case. George Bostock, the publisher, and valertus Galbraith take an active interest in the investigations, and the former is shadowed by Inspector Mackworth. Angels Mezza, an Italian woman, swears to Mrs. Dumbarton and Inspector Mackworth that the murder was committed by her husband. The Inspector discovers Pietro, a model and former companion of Mezza. Synopsis of Preceding Chapters

"No. Pietro did not know he was in London till I told him last night."

assent; and Mackworth, thinking there was no further information to be obtained from him, hastened away in what your doubts search of the Summers street lodging

CHAPTER XV.

On reaching Maria Roselli's house, the number of which had been given him by Lorenzo, the inspector knocked oudly, and then impatiently waited for an answer. None came, nor did any sound of voice or movements within the dwelling indicate that it was tenanted. He rapped again with like result and then stepped into he street to view the dwelling. As he did so, the high, narrow door from which the paint had long since faded, opened, and a woman's figure stood framed in the portal. Mackworth, eagerly observing her, saw she was tall and thin, her years about sixty, her regular features wearing a hard expression, the dark eyes cold and speculative, the face lined and wrinkled, something masculine in bear-

"Are you Maria Roselli?" he asked, advancing toward her.
"Yes," she replied, returning the gaze.

"Then I want to speak to you." "You can talk here," she said in excellent English. "It is something I don't wish to say in the street." She hesitated a moment, then drew aside to let him pass into the hall, closed the door, and ushered him into a barely furnished, uncarpeted room.

"Is Marco Mezza in the house?"

Mackworth began.
"Marco Mezza?" she repeated, without surprise being noticeable in her voice or face. "No."

"Then where is he?"
"I don't know," she replied, frigidly.
"But he has been here?"

"Oh, yes." "When?" "Some time in September. I don't re-

"I want you to tell me all you know about him."
"Why?" she asked, staring hard at Mackworth. "I am a police officer. He may be concerned in a very serious business;

Mackworth saw she expressed neither astonishment, interest nor anxiety. His vords left her perfectly indifferent to their inference.

"I know very little of this Mezza. He came here some weeks ago, as I have

"He was a friend of yours?" "I had never seen him before. A Neapolitan living in Paris gave him my ad-

'How long did he stay with you?" "Three days. I would keep him no

"Well, he was nearly always drunk, and then he was ill; his coughing kept my other lodgers awake at night. My house was no place for him.

"I told him he should go to the hosnoticeable in her manner. What hospital?"

"The Italian; he spoke little English." "And afterwards-did he return to "No; he knew I would not take him."

"No; why should I?" Maria Roselli

asked, in her hard voice. "I have to nind my business if I would live, and have had trouble enough in my own ife without going in search of it among strangers.

"Had he any friends to see him while he was here?' "Not one. He slept all day, because he was awake coughing all night. When he went out in the evening it was to the public house."

"Which public house?" "That I don't know." "And he returned alone?"

After this the woman moved toward the door, as if to indicate the interview must end. She had neither the curiosity nor sympathy to inquire what t was Mezza had done to put the police n his track.

Mackworth, seeing she could give no more information, became impatient to reach the Italian hospital, which he knew was situated in Queen's Square. There, no doubt, he would be able to learn where Mezza had gone on being discharged, and perhaps to trace directly to him the mad deed which, no doubt, his illness and want of opportunity had prevented him from committing during the first days of his return to Eng-

Passing through the wide hall of the hospital, which had been the dwelling of people of fashion when Queen Anne reigned, Mackworth was shown into a reception room, and soon the door opened, and the superioress entered and

"Bueno giorno, signor," she said,

Cutto Measure, $8.50 WRITE TO-DAY for free samples and designs of Priestley Cravenette, Crucket Test Rain Cloth and Rubber Backed Silk Rain Coats, Suits, and Skirts. "I am English, madam," the inspec-"And so am I," she said smilingly, CRUCIAL TEST RAIN GLOTH CO.

a patient I supposed you to be an "The patient I came to ask about i not a friend, but a man in whom I am but as you came to make inquiries for interested-"What is his name?" she asked, in a business-like manner. "Marco Mezza."

"I remember him well." "Pray tell me, madam, everything you know about him."

"He came here suffering from an advanced stage of pneumonia. "Do you remember the date?"

"They were good friends."

Lorenzo said nothing, but contented himself by nodding his head by way of he had been sinking for some time. At all events, he had greatly neglected himself and was in a very bad condition."
"How long did he remain here?"

"He lived for about twelve days." "Lived!" the inspector repeated.
Then he is dead?" 'Yes, he is dead."

"But, tell me, did he leave the hos pital for a day-for an hour-from the time he came in until he died?" "No; that would have been impossible The doctor knew from the moment he aw him that Mezza was a dving man. Mackworth's astonishment and disappointment were great. If Mezza was n the hospital on September 21, then it vas not he who had murdered David Dumbarton. "What was the date of his death?" "I will bring you the book in which ill particulars of our patients are enthe superioress said, and she quickly left the room.

"Can it be possible Mezza is innocent?" the inspector asked himself, unwilling to root out the idea which had taken possession of his mind.

In a couple of moments the superioress returned, carrying a heavy book, which she placed upon the table.

"Ah, here it is: Marco Mezza, admitted the 8th of September; suffering from pneumonia, accelerated by drink place of birth, Naples; age, 40; profession, violinist; address Rue Petit Maetre, Paris; date of death, 21st of September, hour, 6 p. m."

rible might issue from its walls and bar his way to the presence of the wonan he loved.

As he quickened his pace he almost overtook the servant as she opened the drawing-room door; then he stood quite still and almost breathless, gazing before him. The apartment, which was faintly lighted by a single lamp, showed him the figure of the woman he sought, seated at a table on which she had thrust out her arms, between which her head was buried. There was something so pitiful and despairing in the abandon-ment of her attitude that all the misery he had felt that day became suddenly accentuated, and he recognized that here

ay the cause. With intuitive delicacy he stepped back, until, the servant's entry having disturbed her mistress, the latter rose, and, turning her back to the light, prepared to receive him. Dimly seen as it was, her pallid face, drawn and haggard, with its eyes dull and swollen, its nouth quivering, and, above all, its ex ression of utter misery, startled him. The hand he held in his trembled and elt cold as death. 'What has happened?" he asked hile dreading to hear her reply.

"You have not heard?" she said, in low, broken voice. I have heard nothing new. Tell me

"All hope of saving me is lost." "No, no, not that!" he cried out, fiercely, as if in defiance of the statement.

"All. That man-the Italian-"Has escaped?" "Has been traced to his grave."

"He died in a hospital a few hours before my husband was killed," she said, striving to steady her voice.

In a second he realized what the consequences of this discovery might prove to the woman before him. "When did you hear the news?" he

"Date of death, 21st of September."

Marco Mezza had died but a few hours before the man whose life he had threatened to take had been killed. "Did he not send for his wife or his friends?" Mackworth asked. "He told us on entering he had no wife or no friends in London; that he had come from Paris four days be-

"But toward the end he did not in quire for them?"

"He did not know he was dying, and during his last three days he was de-We sent the certificate of his death to the Italian Consul, who will forward a copy to Mezza's relatives in Naples, if they can be found. He is buried in Kensal Green."

There seemed nothing further to be known regarding this unhappy man; here was the end for him, so far as this world went. Mackworth thanked the superioress for the trouble she had taken, and left the hospital in a different mood from that he felt on entering, all his plans upset, his spirits de pressed. The man who had killed David Dum barton was still to be discovered.

world around, George Bostock took his

CHAPTER XVI. On a cold and cheerless afternoon in October, with a gray and lowering sky above and a drenched and sombr way to see Olive Dumbarton. Walking along the broad, soft-carpeted corridor leading to the drawingroom, he glanced toward the entrance of the study where the terrible tragedy had taken place; the study with its floor still smeared and stained with blood, its windows closed and shuttered, its furniture dust-covered, its door locked. Never had he passed it since that night which ended David Dumbarton's life without feeling a sickness of heart and physical repulsion, but now his aversion and dread were heightened, and he hurried by as if he feared something horne no nother clew?" "Not that I know of, at least," she answered wearily.

"And you have been alone ever since your trouble?" he said, looking at her.

"He may have, though he withholds it from you," he remarked. Why do you think he would keep it back from me?'

"He might not wish to speak until he was able to prove his case. "I see," she answered, a grateful look against me. Though her voice was calm, there was an undertone of pitifulness in it that appealed to her hearer more directly,

"No matter; it's my belief, one two things must happen," he said, his manner growing more serious, if pos-

"Either the man who killed your hus band will be found---'

"Or he will confess."

She shook her head sadly, saying: "I fear the murderer will never discovered; you see, all these weeks go by and no definite clew has been obtained; as for confession, that I dare not hope for."
"Why not?" he asked.

"I cannot imagine a man who would be guilty of murder sacrificing himself to save the innocent.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Chilreplied Bostock, speaking slowly and with emphasis, "under which a confession is not only possible, but probable."

"What are they?" she asked. "A man may commit murder through feeling of hatred or revenge, and yet shrink from inflicting a terrible blow on one who had never wronged him," he

"You think so?" "Is it not a reasonable surmise? He may through moral cowardice, and in the hope that you may be acquitted of this charge without the necessity of his ntervention, wait until the last moment, and then, if there are no other means of freeing you, he may speak." She shook her head, saying:

"I cannot agree with you; a man who commits murder is not one to make such a sacrifice.'

After a pause she continued, "It is so easy to imagine what we might do were we situated as others are, or were and yet so difficult for us really to put ourselves in their places. The man who took one life to gratify his hatred or revenge, would not, I think, hesitate to see another life sacrificed to save himself from the consequences of his ac-

"There may be exceptions," he an swered from out of the darkness. "There are exceptional men in the world; but I dare say they are very few," she replied.

"And I can almost realize," said George Bostock, with a force in his words that startled her, "how welcome expiation would be to a burdened conrience, and how necessary a confession ight become as an escape from the infliction of an intolerable secret."

"Such things can only be known to and judged of by the guilty," she murnured.

"You mustn't give up all hope yet," be said earnestly, longing to relieve her epression.

"But my prospects look black." "You forget the old saying, that the darkest hour is nearest to dawn." "And you really think that my inno-ence may yet be proved?" "I am sure it will," he answered, "Sure?" she repeated, surprised alike by the words and by the tone of the expression. "How-why-?"

"Because-" he began, and then hesitated. "Yes?" she said anxiously, her feelings wrought to intensity. "Because, as I have said, murder will out one way or another.' Her eyes expressed the disappoint ment she felt at hearing him express this vague generality instead of some particular explanation.

"Is that all?" she asked, in a low, dispirited tone. Before he could reply the bell of the arden door rang loudly through the

"I must go now," Bostock said as he She did not ask him to stay, but said You will come and see me again soon,

"It is Valerius," Olive Dumbarton re marked.

"Very soon," he replied gravely, as he took her hand and looked into her

As he passed through the corridor on his way out he met Valerius, who, with displeasure in his prominent blue eyes. coldly regarded the publisher. bowed as they passed without speaking.
"She loves him," George Bostock thought, as he emerged into the rain and darkness, and the depression he had felt all day grew deeper yet.

(To be continued.)

Largest Private Estate

By the recent acquistion of a tract of 70,000 acres Santa Gertrudes Ranch, in southwest Texas, already reputed to be the largest estate in the world owned by a private individual, was increased to the immense proportions of 2,000 square miles, or 1,280,000 acres. This single ranch is, therefore, almost twice as large as the State of Rhode Island and contains 25,000 more acres of land than does the State of Delaware.

All this immense area, says Harper's Weekly, is owned by one elderly woman of simple tastes and retiring habits, who takes no active part in its management and does not even live upon the land for the greater part of the year. Her interest in the ranch is strongest during Christmas week, when, with traditional Southern hospitality, she entertains half a hundred guests in the great manor

However impressive the statistics of Santa Gertrudes may be on paper, the visible reality is not at all imposing. On a slight swell of ground, by no means high enough to be dignified by the name of a hill, stands the ranch house, a neat white building large enough to serve the purpose of a good-sized hotel, with detached dining-room and kitchen and abundant verandas, after the Southern

To the rear is a grass-bordered reservoir fed by an artesian well, an untidy barn and corral, and blacksmith shop and some shade trees. At the right is the ranch commissary, whence are drawn all the necessaries of life and as drawn all the necessaries of life and as point of boiling water; stir constantly unmuch of its luxuries as the scanty Meximum boiling. Add a teaspoonful of can population of the ranch ever know chopped onion, notify tablespoonfuls of Beyond the commissary lies a hamle of neat brick cottages, which house the salt and a saltspoonful of pepper. Mexicans who are employed at he quarters.

From the upper windows of the ra house one may look out in any direction of a lemon. Cook thirty minutes. Try over an expanse of level prairie fringed the meat. If it is tender, take it from over an expanse of level prairie fringed with mesquite, until the hazy rim of the horizon shuts out the view; and that is absolutely all. However thoroughly convinced one may be of the existence of those 2,000 square miles, or of the 80,ooo head of cattle and 2,000 head of horses and 2,000 goats that graze thereon, as a spectacle the largest private estate in the world is a distinct failure. It does not take many men to run a big ranch. The total population of Santa Gertrudes, white and Mexican, men, women and children, is three hundred are scattered so that very few of them are ever seen together.

The ranch is divided into seventy pastures. On each of the largest and on groups of two or three of the smaller pastures a family lives. A small pasure, in this instance, is understood to nean 5,000 acres or so.

dred. If the ranch were as densely pop-

814,000 inhabitants. Even the three hun-

SNLY $13.50 You can get this Modern Double Barrel

If it isn't as good as it looks, you get back your m This excellent double barrel gun Las genuine imported London twist barrels, D Extension (t'e best joining ever put on a double barrel gun) and a rib (a feature found only on high-grade guns). The best gun find anywhere for this price.

that can be secured.

THE HOPKINS & ALLEN ARMS CO., - 131 Franklin Street, Norwich

In the horse department a foreman

s no crowding.

ervants as long as they are decently

The only time when there is keen activity around the ranch is during the great spring roundup, when the calves are branded. There were 24,000 calves

It took the corporal and his thirty queros a solid month of severe toil to to the trick. Cowboys, by the wa ever see anything but hard work. The much longer as circumstances may require, every day in the year.

853 by Captain Richard King, a former Mississippi river pilot, who, with his riend Captain Mifflin Kennedy, had charge of the transport service on the Rio Grande which supplied General Taylor's army during the Mexican war. aptain King's ambition was to possess the largest and best conducted ranch in fexas, but he died twenty years ago, after accumulating 300,000 acres.

member the date."

ou will see why I ask for him."

dress," she answered.

"Why?" asked the inspector, anx-

"And so you got rid of him?"

"And he went?" "He left here for the hospital, but I don't know if he ever went there," she answered, the same calm indifference

"Have you made no inquiries for pleasant voice.

"Always."

"This morning; the inspector came to

"I sent for my cousin, but I suppose he was not in his rooms when my mes-sage reached him," she replied. But tell me about Mackworth; has in her eyes, "you are striving to give me hope, but I cannot blind myself to the fact that circumstances seem dead more keenly, than she could have be-

"And that?" she said, eagerly.

"But I can conceive circumstances,

Price, $13.50—aafe delivery and entire satisfaction if not found at nearest store. A-Doll's Head Extension B - Slot for Dog
C - Gireled Socket to fit
Doll's Head Extension
D - Dog slides tight igno slot
E - Flat Matted Rib
F - English Twist Barrel
G - Shell Extractor

Three piece pattern take down and put together in 20 seconds.

nd forty men have charge of a herd f six hundred Percheron and thoroughed brood mares, but as the breeding arm occupies six hundred acres, there

There are never any murders or slugsings, nor even a strike to add to the est of excitement to the life of the anch. All the employees here, as elsewhere in southwest Texas, are Mexians, who are actually content to be aithful, industrious, honest, trustworthy

At a salary of ten dollars a month and rent and provisions they render faithful and cheerfully willing service ander all circumstances, and train their children to take up their tasks where hey lay them down. The old cook at he ranch house has held his post for ifty years. There is no labor problem southwest Texas.

brand last spring.

ours are from 4 a. m. to 8 p. m., or a Santa Gertrudes ranch was founded in

H. M. King, who turned the entire agement over to her son-in-law, R leberg, a lawrer, who was born and ught up within one hundred and fifty perg's management the acreage has been creased more than 50 per cent. When Mr. Kleberg took charge of the anch it was stocked with the usual inrior long horned native cattle. He attempted to improve the breed, but the slice two medium-si costly blooded bulls he brought to the rows of a dozer ranch invariably died a few days after press out the pulp. heir arrival.

of a tick, with which all cattle were in were immune. He invited the co-operation of the Agricultural Department in seeking a preventive. In due time a twenty minutes. Rub process of inoculation which was found to be almost infallible was perfected at spoonful of butter. Ad Santa Gertrudes. The discovery put an end to the loss of untold millions, for Texas cattle had theretofore left a trail of infection and death among their kind wherever they went in the North. Incidentally, Mr.

cattle until all those on the ranch are now from one-half to fifteen-sixteenths Hereford or Durham. The practical value of the discovery was illustrated last spring, when a lot of 10,000 yearling steers was sold at $15 a ead, and another lot of seven hundred bull calves was sold at $40 a head. Long Autumn Recipes.

Woodsman Stew .- Procure for this two pounds of the pieces of beef or horn yearlings were worth $8.

nutton that are cheap and not desirable for roasting or broiling and cut them into cubes of one inch. Put a quarter of a pound of sliced bacon into a good sized saucepan, cook slowly until all the fat is tried out, and remove the frizzled pieces. Dust the beef with one tablepoonful of flour, throw into hot fat, and stir until nicely browned. Draw the at once to the table. meat to one side, add to the fat one tablespoonful of flour, mix and add one Add a teaspoonful of ver and simmer gently for one hour.

en add the grating of the yellow rind

the fire. Otherwise, cook thirty minutes longer. Serve with????? Hominy Croquettes .- Wash one-half pin hominy very carefully in cold water; add a quart of milk and cook in a double boiler three hours. Add a teaspoonful of salt, a saltspoonful of pepper and the yolks of two eggs. Mix thoroughly and turn out to cool. When cold, form into cylinder shaped croquettes. Dip in egg, roll in bread

Chocolate Bread Pudding.-Soak two cups of stale bread crumbs in four cups of scalded milk for thirty minutes; melt ulated as Rhode Island it would have two squares of chocolate in a saucepan over hot water. Add one half cup of sugar and enough milk taken from the bread and milk to make a consistency to pour. Add to mixture with one quarter from the system, prevent of a cup of sugar, a one quarter teaof a cup of sugar, a one quarter teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of vanilla and two eggs slightly beaten. Turn into buttered pudding dish and bake one son, suite 329, 1233 Gr crumbs, and fry in hot fat.

1 Month's Treatme

THE NATIONAL HERB 237 N. Capitol S WASHINGTON D. C.

hour in a moderate oven

Corn Chowder .- Pap good sized potatoes in slice two medium-si potatoes in the botto Investigation led to the conviction that then a layer of the on corn, a sprinkling of salt the fatal malady was caused by the bite continue so until all th fested, but to which the native cattle used, having the last laye a cupful of boiling water and cook slowly on a n ups of milk, stir until o the chowder. Stir ully without breakit Bring to boiling point, broken into bits, and c five minutes more. B Kleberg was enabled to breed up his one egg with two

> Delicious Supper D good sized tomatoes. hot water, remove t halves, press lightly t cut each half in ha tablespoonfuls of bu and add two onions el the saucepan in a pan o slowly until the onion teaspoonful of curry of water. When this point, put in the to saucepan, cook over a twenty minutes Whil ing boil one cupful of rice, and when dry her ter of the serving dis broken; strain the sau cream or milk and stir

ment.

been removed. Beat of seven eggs and c sugar until very light. nuts and the grated Last of all, fold in eggs which have been Bake in a slow oven Coffee Cakes to Beat four eggs in a them two teaspoor coffee or of coffee rapidly over boiling ture is heated th

Almond Cake With

finely half a pound which the shells, but fill gem tins which with the cake mixt teen minutes in a warm.

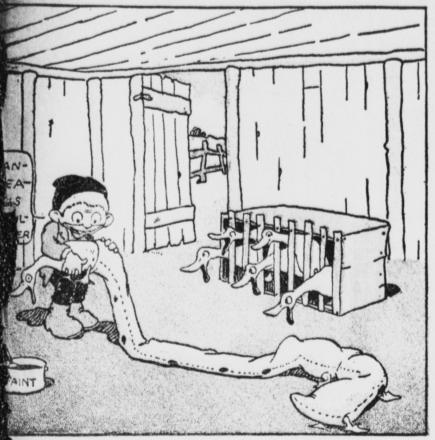

Take from the fire

ously for fifteen n one cup of sifted

Cancer My Mild Combination patient at home. Years of local application de your case—no matter h had—no matter what t

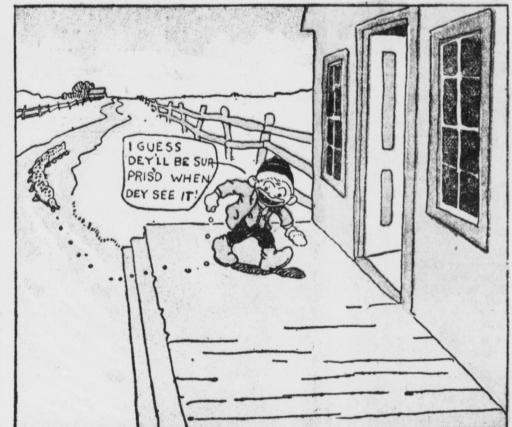

LITTLE ABE CORNCOB ADDS ANOTHER HOLIDAY TO HIS LIST.

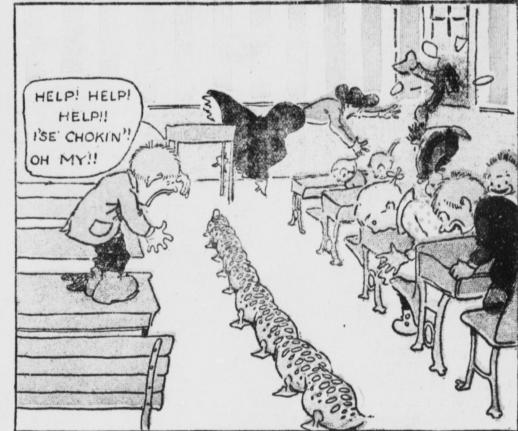

Waterman's

Ideal

are all beauties. Bisque heads, long curly hair, big, blue eyes, ad completely dressed. (Premium sheet fully describes.) DR THE COLLARS AT ONCE. Send no money. We trust any in with our Collars to sell When sold, send us the $2.50 resale and the Dell Outfit you select will be promptly sent you. EXTRA PREMIUM. An elegant Doll's Opera Cloak made of all agents selling the 25 Collars and returning our money in rite at once NECKWEAR CO., 342 Lexington Av., Passaic, N. J.

FREE to Girls and Ladies
THIS HANDSOME FUR BOA for selling only 25 Ladies Sheer Hand Drawn Linen Finished Turnover collars at 10c.
each. Our Handsome Fur Boas are good enough for the finest lady in the land. They are made of fine quality Marten Hare, full length, made with six long tails, elegantly trimmed. It is just the fur for good solid comfort and stylish appearance. You will positively be delighted with it. Write at once. We trust you with our collars to sell.

FREE

TO BOYS

THIS LARGE IMPORTED

MAGIC LANTERN. with 36 colored sliding pictures; body heavy lacquered brass, highly magnifying lenses; non-explosive lamp, patent chimney, for selling only 25 of our quick-selling hand-drawn collars at 10c. each.

Write at once.

Columbia Neckwear Co., 340 Lexington Av

When paw does somethink wrong, an' knows

That maw'll call him down, He don't come home an' brave it out An' throw the things aroun', But he will kind o' heave a sigh. Fer paw is mighty slick, An' look as though he'd like to cry, An' act as if he's sick.

It's then he talks o' business cares Till you kin feel the gloom, As aunty says, come down the stairs An' settle in the room, Till maw begins to feel a throb O' pity fer him, so, Instead of calling of him down She cheers him up, by jo!

CANNOT UNDERSTAND IT.

When I was ten and you were 8, Two years between us stood; We used to meet by Daddy's gate-A stolen kiss was good.

When I was 20-quite a boy, You still were my heart's queen, But grown of kissing somewhat coy, You see-you're quite 16!

When I was 30, bronzed and tall, With sweethearts, too, in plenty, I met you at the Wisson's ball-You told me, you were 20.

I'm 40 now, a little more-O, Time, you ruthless bandit!
But you—you're enly 24—
I cannot understand it!

ARABELLA'S DESIRE. "I'm. ware," said Arabella, "It would be very nice, If lions, wolves and tigers Would eat nothing else but mice. "Then lambs and deer and camels Could live together free, With no one to annoy them-I'm sure that would please me. "Because, to be quite truthful, At night I sometimes dread, That some big wolf or lion Might bite off all my head. "And it would be nicer,

And better for my mind, If lions, wolves and tigers To mice were more inclined."

Istmas Pointei

For Christmas giving You Can Get

Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pens as low as $2.50; prices for regular. styles run from that up to $10, depending on style of gold or silver mounting and size of gold pen contained in the holder.

-for a man's pen-may be put on any holder, but adds slightly to the cost, name-ly: German Silver, 25c.; Sterling Silver, 50c.; Rolled Gold, $1.00; Solid Gold, $2.00.

Vaterman's Ideal Fountain Pen

pen that should be presented as a gift. Insist on the ideal. is the original and, therefore, the only

L. E. Waterman Co., 173 Broadway, New York. 8 School Street, Boston. 209 State Street, Chicago, 742 Market Street, San Francisco, 130 St. James St., Montreal, 12 Golden Lane, London, E. C.

Silver Chates Silver Silver Chates Silver Si No. Net. 12. $3.50 18. 4.50 14. 5.00 15. 6.00 10. 7.00 17. 8.00 No. Net. 12..$5.00 14.. 7.00 15.. 8.50

Bilver Friigree with Name-Plate, Chased. Want Sliver, No. Net. M. Clip. 22. $3.50 No. 12 C.C. $2.75 24. 5.00 12 C.C. $75

If You Town Has No Dealer, Write Direct for Information.